

1. The first part of the report is a general
description of the project and its objectives.
2. The second part is a detailed description of the methodology used in the study.
3. The third part is a description of the results of the study.
4. The fourth part is a discussion of the results
and their implications.
5. The fifth part is a conclusion and a list of references.