The bride was robed in white brocaded satin trimmed with lace. Her veil was of white tulle and she carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley. She was attended by two little flower girls, Misses Harriet and Ruth Mitchell, who were robed in white organdie trimmed with lace, and carried baskets of flowers. SACHEL

—OF THE—

SATELLITE

It is reported that the coat of arms of the Banner will be an eagle eye.

The Council is spurring the railroad to pull up that Colborne street spur.

The Grits should get "Cap." Sullivan and son Frank to practice that Reaume person's vanishing act.

I see nothing ahead but the workhouse for my friend, John W. White, if he persists in being so philanthropic.

Good-bye, dear jail, I don't need you any more. I will leave you because I can't take you with me—Annie Reaume.

Joker John Lee had the toothache when he made his speech in Parliament last week. That isn't exactly the same kind of pain he gave his auditors.

There is no particular proof that a cage was left at the office of our contempt that the man with the eagle "I" might have a home of his own.

I think I would sooner burn my money than put it in some oil companies. In the first case you would see something for your money at any rate.

The fools are not all dead yet. But their number was shortened by one last week, when a man named Nichol rocked a row-boat on Bass Lake, up-set it and was drowned.

No, Dear Alright Yes, these oil companies are certainly not speculative concerns. If you have a thousand dollars to invest in speculation, try the bucket shop. Your money may last a little longer. Both are sure things and you needn't worry. Just kiss your money good-bye.

OPEN-HEARTED PHILANTHROPY.

To the writer of "Things that will not happen":

"That J. W. White is going to build that athletic bungalow on the Park as a monument to his own importance." Just say, although I am not a resident of the city yet, I will endeavor to subscribe a sum at least equal to what you may give towards building the athletic bungalow, after the canvassers for subscriptions call and get yours. Kindly ask them to see me. Yours truly, J. W. White.

DIED IN WINDSOR

George McColl, a former resident of this city, passed away in Windsor on Saturday. Mr. McColl was a prominent contractor and carpenter, and was well known in Chatham. He was born down the river, in Raleigh Twp., and lived for many years in Chatham. Senator John McColl, of Nebraska, was a brother and Mrs. John Adams, Chicago, a sister.

Besides the widow, a family of six are left. They are George, Toronto; E. Blake, Chicago; Mrs. John Raymond, Detroit; A. K. and Cora, who live at home, and Ada, who is married and lives in Windsor.

Mr. McColl was long a resident of this city, and liked by everybody. He grew up and lived here until about 18 years ago, when he moved to Windsor.

Tax Collector William Rennie, at the request of the relatives, made the funeral arrangements to-day. Interment will take place to Maple Leaf Cemetery to-morrow. The remains will arrive on the 2.23 p.m. express from the west, and the funeral cortege will leave the station immediately afterwards.

Mr. McColl was in his 70th year. He was ill only three days, suffering from pneumonia.

NOT ON THE PROGRAMME.

ACTORS ROTTEN-EGGED IN A NEW YORK THEATRE.

Were Presenting "McFadden's Row of Flats," Which Displeased a Large Number of Irishmen.

New York, March 30.—Two hundred Irishmen, whose feelings had been outraged by the performance of the travesty "McFadden's Row of Flats" at the new Star Theatre, rose in their seats in the theatre, at a signal, to-night, and pelted the performance with rotten eggs, decayed vegetables and fruit. The audience of over 2,000 were thrown into an uproar, and the actors were driven from the stage. Five of the disturbers were arrested.

The assault is openly declared to be the work of the allied Irish societies of the city and its vicinity. Major McCrystal, late of the 60th Regiment, declared forcibly last night that the Irishmen of the city are banded to keep up this very kind of work until the burlesquing of Irish characters is stopped. Other Irishmen said the same thing. The protests against the play, which is old, having been brought out by Barry & Fay, of variety stage fame, several years ago, have gone on in New England and in this city, and the Irish have all the time been growing warmer over the continued performances. A few women were among the persons standing up last night as the eggs began to fly. Not a person on the stage escaped being hit by at least two or three eggs, but none of them got more than that. The donkey was a sight. Eggs hit him everywhere, and he stood it just like a donkey. One egg went right into an ear, closing it up, whereat he hunched one eye solemnly, but stood still, as if he were part of the show, and he the hero.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

British Government Was Almost Defeated.

London, March 30.—In the lobbies of Parliament Saturday the opinion regarding the Irish land bill was rather less enthusiastic. It was recognized that its only chance of existence lies in the rather doubtful possibility of all parties consenting to accept in a general spirit, and that an active opposition from any quarter must inevitably wreck it. The Nationalists already are displaying restlessness. Late in the afternoon, instead of supporting the Government in the divisions, but last night, on a private member's bill of little consequence, they voted against the Government, with the result that the Ministers only escaped defeat by the narrow majority of thirteen. Had the Irishmen been present in their full strength, instead of only fifty-five of them being in the House, the Government would have been defeated.

This uncertain attitude of John Redmond's supporters is giving the Government great anxiety, and it is believed that the Irishmen show a leaning towards the last bill many Unionist supporters of the Government will counsel its withdrawal, on the ground of its unpopularity among the British electors, who are already smarting under the burdens of a heavy war taxation.

ROSEBERY'S DAUGHTER.

Married at Epsom to Lieut. C. J. C. Grant.

London, March 30.—The Earl of Rosebery's eldest daughter, Lady Sybil was married at Epsom on Saturday to Lieut. C. J. C. Grant, of the Coldstream Guards, son of Lieut.-Gen. Sir Robert Grant. The wedding was quiet, only a few intimates and friends of the families being present. Lord Rosebery gave away his daughter, who was attended by eight bridesmaids, including Miss Muriel White, wearing the Earl's racing colors, primrose and pink. A wedding luncheon afterwards was served at the Durdans, Lord Rosebery's seat at Epsom. The display of presents rarely has been equalled. King Edward, Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales and other members of the royal family sent diamond bracelets or brooches. Lord Rosebery's gift amounted to a large fortune in diamonds and pearls, tiaras, necklaces, sprays, bracelets, etc. The Rothschilds and Sassoons sent the bride numerous costly jewels.

HE DIED FIGHTING.

San Miguel, the Filipino Leader, was Brave.

Manila, March 30.—The report that San Miguel, Filipino leader, was killed in Friday night's fighting near Mariguina is confirmed. His body has been identified and delivered to his relatives for burial.

San Miguel, with his bodyguard, consisting of thirty men, abandoned the fort at Mariguina and attempted to escape, but the Macabebe scouts surrounded the party, mortally wounded San Miguel and killed six of the bodyguard. After he fell San Miguel emptied his revolver among the Macabebes, and died fighting.

General San Miguel was the last unrecaptured Filipino insurgent. He failed to attain prominence in the insurrection.

The bodies of the insurgents killed in the fighting at Mariguina, to the number of about fifty, were taken to Calocan to-day and surrendered to relatives.

Lieut. Reese and the other wounded scouts will recover.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

Maxwell, March 28.—Thomas Hudson, nephew of Dr. Kerr, Toronto, was killed to-day, near here, by a tree falling upon him.

MAY ADJOURN TO-DAY.

If House Concludes, Judges Will Meet Soon.

Toronto, March 30.—The proceedings in the Legislature to-day will to a large extent determine the immediate course with reference to the Royal Commission on the Gamey charges. The Opposition still assume a critical attitude toward the evidence act, but Mr. Foy rather withdrew his open hostility when Colonel Gibson challenged him on the occasion of the last references to the measure. If the bill passes to-day Chief Justice Moss will make a special trip to the Parliament buildings to give royal assent, and the commission will organize some day toward the end of the week, though they may not commence taking evidence before next Monday.

The Opposition promise a fight over the question of adjourning the House until April 21, though Mr. Whitney said he hoped to conclude the business to-day if the members are present for voting. The other contentious matter is the voting of $20,000 supplies asked for April, without which the service, and all persons having business with the Government will be greatly inconvenienced. Then there will be the address in reply to the speech from the throne, the proposal to pass which Mr. Whitney objected to on Friday night. The disposal of this, however, is not absolutely necessary before adjournment, although his Honor may not think the House very respectful if they defer their formal offering of thanks until after the approaching long adjournment.

There seems little doubt but that Mr. Gamay will go before the commission. At least the concern of the Opposition over the terms of the evidence bill gives color to that view. In any case Mr. Gamay, if summoned, as he doubtless will be, will be under the same regulations for compulsory attendance and answering of questions as any person else.

SCOTCHMEN PROTEST.

Desire to Give Macdonald National Funeral.

London, March 30.—The despatch of the remains of Major-General Macdonald, who committed suicide in Paris, to Scotland by train, was the occasion for a remarkable demonstration owing to the fact that his widow had decided that the burial shall take place at 6 o'clock in the morning, immediately after the arrival of the body at Edinburgh. Hundreds of Scotchmen, representing the Highland societies and several Scotch members of Parliament, gathered on the platform at the King's Cross Railway station here. Most of the Scotchmen wore their national costumes, wreaths were placed on the coffin in the name of the different clans, and the pipes played national dirges as the body was entrained. All attempts to persuade the widow to delay the interment and permit the Highlanders to arrange for a national funeral in the Highlands, having failed, a large number of influential Scotchmen adjourned to the hotel in the railway station and held a meeting of protest. The Scotch members of Parliament, Allan and James Galloway and others, made speeches, and a resolution was adopted urging the Lord Provost of Edinburgh to renew the efforts to get the funeral postponed.

GIVEN A CHANCE

"It is far worse to steal from your employer than from anyone else, because your employer trusts you," remarked Judge Houston this morning in passing sentence on James Bradshaw, convicted of stealing wrenches and shells from A. H. Patterson, the hardware merchant. I have gone carefully over the evidence. I came down early this morning to do it and I find that there is no reasonable doubt of your guilt. If absolute proof were required, there would be very few convictions. In consideration of your previous good character for your family, and the fact that you are a good workman, I will suspend sentence for six months. If at the end of that time you come back with a good character, I will give you a light sentence. Too many regard suspended sentences lightly and only wipe them off when they come up to answer to a second charge." After warning Mr. Bradshaw to return at the end of six months, the Judge ordered his release from custody.

Crown Attorney Herbert D. Smith prosecuted, and O. L. Lewis defended in this case.

ABOLISH ENCORES

"Encores should be abolished at church entertainments," remarked Judge Houston this morning. "I know they are nice and that the performers like them, but they make the program too long. One of the best church concerts I ever attended was at the Jarvis street Baptist church, Toronto. The late Mr. Pegley and myself were in the Queen City on legal business. We heard of the concert but decided not to go as we didn't care to be up half the night. A friend told us that we needn't be afraid of that as the concert would begin at 8.30 and be through by 10 o'clock. Mr. Pegley was very fond of music so we went. We learned on our arrival that all encores were forbidden. It was a splendid idea. One of our party desired to hear a solo on the organ repeated. He asked the organist if he wouldn't play it over once. The musician assented, but said that he would have to wait till after the concert and he wouldn't touch the instrument till every person was out of the church. The abolishment of the encore improved the concert wonderfully."

"There is another thing I would like to see advocated, and that is that no person be allowed to enter while a number on the program is being given. Besides annoying the audience and distracting attention, the entrance of anyone always bothers the performer."
