Blood and Thunder

Weedless Wednesday

An Open Letter:

The Mayor of the City of Fredericton has challenged the citizens of a number of other municipalities to go without smoking on 21 January.

The Student Union supports the community, the City and our Mayor and challenges the student body as well as members of the University administration to go Cold Turkey on that day.

Yours sincerely,
Lawrence Hansen.

Conspiracy!

Dear Editor:

Last week, as I was reading the article in "Blood and Thunder", a sense of better understanding of the rather tragic situation existing in Canada seized my mind. It truly work me up, and it is out of a gigantic feeling of guilt that I would like to give your readers some further information on this conspiracy Quebecers have against "les maudits anglais".

To begin with, the situation in Quebec is worse than what Mr. Lewin said. People in Quebec are, without any doubt, the meanest ones you can think of. There is no word that is strong enough to describe how dangerous they are, and how much damage they could cause as far as education and Canadian security are concerned.

The Emersion programmes Mr. Lewin mentioned never really existed. The French taught to "les anglais" in those Immersion courses is not the real one. It is meant to be an irrational jargon, so that when they talk about the elimination of "les anglais", the latter cannot understand.

As well, this is true that Quebecers are thought listening "les anglais". The idea behind it, is to make them not only lose their concentration, but, moreover, to make "les anglais" gradually become insane. Quebecers think that, once this stage will be reached, it is going to be much easier to execute the final phase of their plan.

The aim of this project is to eliminate "les anglais". Why? Because there is a nutrition problem in the world. Soon, there will be too many people on earth, and not enough food to feed them. Quebecers believe that if they destroy "les anglais", the problem will be postponed. This will give them time to think of an accurate solution. This is for the good of humanity. There must be a victim. "Why not 'les anglais'?", said Quebecers. "After all, they are so easy to thought listen."

As Mr. Lewin so cleverly advised last week, "les anglais" must be extremely careful about Quebecers. They are at every street corner, spying the race-to-be-abolished. Bravo, Mr. Lewin, you were really perceptive, and made me sell my nation's plans, for they are supremely nasty in the short run. This is not the way. Quebecers should go about this issue.

Sincerely repentant
