Charles Reynolds Brown

Dean Brown of Yale Divinity School is known throughout the colleges of New England for his clear expositions of Christianity and his stirring leadership in service. No one surpasses him in answering questions on religious difficulties.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King

The Hon. Mackenzie King, former cabinet minister of Canada, will be among the speakers at Northfield this year. Northfield extends to him a most cordial welcome. He has long been identified with all the interests that serve to strengthen men, to purify national life, and to win the world for the Kingdom of peace and righteousness.

Bishop Francis J. McConnell

The colleges of the East are well acquainted with Bishop McConnell, who has preached many college sermons and filled many college pulpits. Throughout his whole life, as pastor, president of a great university, and church administrator, he has had the problems and possibilities of the educated man ever before him.

2. BIBLE STUDY

The courses offered in Bible study will be:

"Jesus the Leader," Koehler.

"The Life of the Inner Circle," Wright.

"The Life of Jesus according to Mark," Murray.

Professor Wright, of the Yale Divinity School, has made a special study of Bible courses for boys during the past year and his book will be of unusual value. Fifteen experienced men will have the Bible groups in charge. These teachers have been selected largely from the school faculties in the East, and include masters who have rendered a great Christian service to the boys of their respective schools.
