Human nature is inherently good, not bad; this is the basic thought of Democracy. If human nature is irreparably ruined, then farewell to Democracy. With all its failures and discouraging features, Democracy has its face to the light, its urge is for the better. It depends upon the essential truth that there is inherent divinity in the human heart. This divine factor in evolving growth shows itself in the self-respect and hopefulness that accompany a consciousness of responsibility in freedom; that is what Democracy really means.

And so it is, that the man who trusts the people in their efforts at self-government can look beyond the evidences of carelessness or fraud among officials, insane partisanship in many of our voters, and reckless waste in much of our administration, and still hope for good things and honest things for the days that lie before us. Recently the people have been expressing themselves at the polls in an unusual manner; this speaks for better administration of public affairs and a better type of citizenship.

The hopes of Democracy are placed in the essential goodness of the human heart, and the tendency or drift of human history is towards freedom, brotherhood and righteousness.

Is Democracy a failure? No.

Gossip.

A. J. Hickman of England writes as follows regarding trade in pure-bred stock. "It is a pity your ports are not open for English sheep as we have several orders on hand and there would be a good trade if there were no embargo.

"However, we must not complain as trade is wonderfully good to other countries and we have already this year exported over 100 bulls including the Devon bull, champion at the Royal Show of last year, and which we have bought from the King.

"The breeds included in this 100 head are Devons, Herefords, Shorthorns, Aberdeen-Angus and Sussex, and it includes many prizewinners. We have also exported a number of horses, sheep and pigs, so trade is not too bad."

Raymondale Holsteins.

Elsewhere in these columns it will be noted, the Raymondale Holstein farms, at Vaudreuil, Que., announces the sale of a choicely bred bull calf, which is to be the future sire in service in the herd of A. N. Chambers of Salford, Ont. Mr. Goodhue, the Manager of Raymondale farm, describes him as one of the best individual youngsters that has been raised on the farm this year. It will be noted from the advertisement that this calf is a son of a 24.07-lb. 7-day butter record cow, and her dam again was Korndyke Queen De Kol 6th, with 37.26 lbs. of butter and 781.5 lbs. of milk in seven days. The latter cow also holds a 30-day record of 3,101 lbs. of milk and 150.9 lbs. of butter, and is the highest record cow in the Raymondale herd. In conclusion Mr. Goodhue states that he is without exception one of the very best bull calves that they have ever sold.

Stick to Facts.

When you start to advertise,
Stick to facts!
Good business isn't built on lies—
Stick to facts!
No matter what you have to sell,
The truth is good enough to tell;
Boost your goods and boost them well,
But stick to facts!

When tempted to exaggerate,
Stick to facts!
Tell the truth, don't overstate—
Stick to facts!
If the truth is not enough,
Something's wrong about your stuff.
Anyway, don't try to bluff—
Stick to facts!

Makers, merchants, middlemen.
Stick to facts!
Pick your points with pungent pen,
Stick to facts!
Tho' others make their figures lie,
Boasting of their values high,
Causing trade to pass you by—
You stick to facts.
