

MORNING GLORY STRIKE

A Find of High Grade Ore Said to Have Been Made.

Chairman H. L. Percy of the County Commissioners Has $40,000 For Public Buildings.

Republic, April 25.—[Special.]—While the superintendent of the Morning Glory declines to give out any information regarding the mine or its assays, it is pretty well understood here that a rich chute of a couple of feet has been struck, and that the ore, which assays up in the hundreds, is being sacked in the drift. It is thought that the Mabel, adjoining, also is touching the vein. Of course the extent and the end of the chute is unknown; but it has created a lively interest among the claim owners in that section, and they hold their claims at high figures upon the supposed richness of the Morning Glory strike.

Superintendent Ambrose Stewart has started work on the Strathmore and Alice, two parallel ledges. The claims are owned in Rossland and Spokane, and have very fine surface showings.

On the Jewel Princess, north of the Tom Thumb, they are sinking a shaft on the ledge, which is 15 feet wide on the surface. The croppings assayed $2 per ton, and are improving in depth.

A new industry has been started here. F. D. Keck has started a brickyard about half a mile below town, and has now 50,000 brick ready for the kiln. He will increase the capacity, and in the near future we will have brick buildings in Rossland.

Chairman H. L. Percy returned last evening after a three weeks' trip to all the coast towns, including San Francisco. He floated bonds for $40,000, at par, which puts Perry county on easy street, and insures the payment of all necessary expenses of the county, including the building of a court house and other necessary improvements. Mr. Percy is highly complimented upon the complete success of his mission.

The Quilp drift has about 10 feet to run to get under the shaft, when an upraise of about 60 feet will be made to connect with the shaft. They are running on the foot wall following the ledge.

Lamb and Turner have sold their claims on the south half to Mr. Young, an Englishman. He intends starting work immediately.

The Golden Lily shaft is being driven steadily. The intention is to sink the shaft to 150 feet before crosscutting, which, if carried out, will demonstrate the value of the property, which is now considered unusually promising.

The Nevada tunnel is now in 80 feet. It is in line with the north and south ledge of the Lone Pine. It will be several weeks before the ledge is cut.

The Excelsior ledge, below the Golden Harvest, is down 40 feet.

As yet the days and nights are quite chilly, and the snow goes slowly.

Regarding the strike of the Morning Glory, which has caused a flurry lately, Superintendent Lane arrived last evening and gave some information to your correspondent, but from a reliable resident who sampled it today, the following are the assays: $46.30, $36.50, $22.32, with a four-foot face of ore of steel hard blue quartz. They are in the pay chute, which is about 250 feet to run for the shaft, which left such rich ore in the bottom. The future of the Princess Maud looks very bright. If the chute continues it will be a great mine.

Republic, Wash., April 26.—[Special.]—The three-compartment shaft on the Ben Hur is down over 20 feet. It will be sunk 100 feet and the surface will be about 100 feet from the top of the shaft. The average samples of ore from the tunnel for the past month was $253.95. The shaft is down 22 feet, sinking on the ledge which fills the bottom of the shaft.

The tunnel, which is being driven on Iron Mountain, is in 115 feet, and will be continued until the ledge is struck. It is thought the first ledge will be struck in about 20 feet, and the next ledge is eight feet wide. The blind lead encountered in the tunnel assayed very high in silver.

The surface assay of the copper ledge, which it is intended to tap, assayed on the surface from $10 to $38.

A new ledge has been opened on the Golden Sunset group. It is called the Mamie G. The ledge is five feet wide, and the work is proceeding on the new theory, that is, stripping the ledge until they find the pay chute, even if necessary to strip the entire claim to find it.

Ed Moore is in from Toroda creek. The Toroda Gold Mining company has a tunnel in 50 feet, running on the ledge, following the foot wall. The intention is to crosscut to determine the width of the ledge, which on the surface is about 80 feet wide. Assays as high as $74 have been obtained. It is a large porphyry dike.

There is considerable work going on in Toroda creek, both tunneling and shafts, tunnels being generally more to determine the best points from which to sink shafts on the ore chutes. The snow is nearly gone, except in the timber and the high hills. Curlew is 20 miles from Badie, the Toroda mail town, and the mail arrives twice a week from Curlew. The service will be increased during the summer.

E. S. Cutts is in from Myers creek, about 35 miles northwest from Republic, about four miles south of the Canadian line. Rock creek, the Canadian town, is four miles distant. The railroad going to Pentiction, through the Rock creek, which will be the shipping point for the entire region. The Crystal Butte has 215 feet of tunnel and a shaft 75 feet deep. The ledge is about 40 feet wide, but they are only working a rich ore, and the ore from which is packed 60 miles to Brewster, and thence goes by steamer and rail to Tacoma. A 20-stamp mill is en route, which will arrive in the next 30 days. The Review has a 250-foot tunnel, the last 30 feet of which is in quartz. The foot wall has been met and a crosscut is being made to the hanging wall. They are about 40 feet in depth. They are also shipping their rich ore, and will erect a mill upon the arrival of the railroad. The railroad will go through Midway to Baker creek, which will make that entire region tributary to Rossland, and it will be a great country, too. The Dandy, Bessie Lee and Hope have been working all winter under the charge of Charles Dunn and looks very promising.

Republic, April 28.—[Special.]—Patrick Clark arrived last evening and has been visiting and inspecting his various mining interests here; also investigating the water works question. He will remain a few days.

WORKINGS NEVER LOOKED BETTER THAN IT DOES TODAY.

The Yakind, on Myers creek, has a 22-foot ledge, with both walls. The tunnel has been run a distance of 180 feet, running on the ledge, which has been crosscut several times to test its width. There are a great many claims in course of development in that promising camp of the future.

A shaft is being sunk on the Blacktail from a point where the ore chute is rich, and looks very encouraging.

Work has been stopped on the Flag Hill shaft, where they left a two-foot ledge. A tunnel has been started at the foot of the hill, which cut the vein at a depth of 200 feet. The intention is also to drift northeast to cut the El Caliph ledge. The tunnel will be continued until the main ledge which runs through the claim, will be encountered. The tunnel is run upon the supposition that the different ledges will consolidate at the depth that the crosscut tunnel will reach.

Work was resumed today on the San Juan shaft, which is now down 45 feet. The intention is to sink 100 feet before crosscutting. There is three feet of quartz in the bottom of the shaft which assays very high for this camp.

The shaft on the El Caliph is 65 feet deep, following the ledge, which is wide. The tunnel, which is 330 feet with about 20 feet yet to run to cut the ledge. There will be a gain in depth of over 170 feet, and the tunnel will be a good test for all the claims in the region.

The stage for the past few days is bringing in a different class of passengers than it has heretofore. Instead of men looking for employment, the average passenger is looking for mines and investments, or to inspect his own property.

THE NET IS CLOSING

Members of the General Staff in the Meshes.

MUCH FALSE SWEARING

Each Day the Innocence of Dreyfus Becomes More Apparent.—A Sentence in the Bouquard which He Could Not Have Written.

Paris, May 3.—Slowly but steadily the net is closing around the French general staff in the Dreyfus revision inquiry. General Mercier, who was minister of war at the time Dreyfus was condemned, on being called upon by M. de Freycenet, the present minister of war, to produce the report regarding the secret dossier, which Lieutenant-Colonel Du Paty de Clam testified he had sent to Mercier, replied that he had destroyed it, and he called General Gonse as a witness to the truth of this statement. Unfortunately for Mercier, General Gonse had already testified before the court of cassation that although Mercier destroyed the original, he kept a copy.

Another anti-Dreyfus argument has received its death blow, general Zunden, Military governor of Paris, and others, while testifying before the court of cassation, attached great importance to the closing sentence of the Bouquard which he read: "I am starting for the manoeuvres," as proving the guilt of Dreyfus and the innocence of Esterhazy, inasmuch as the staff probationers were only notified on August 29th that they were to be required to attend the manoeuvres, it has not been proved that this notification was actually dated May 17th; therefore Dreyfus could have written the Bouquard before the manoeuvres in the following August. It is rumored that it was Lieutenant-Colonel Du Paty de Clam himself who communicated to Freycenet the depositions made before the court of cassation.

The Journal today prints the evidence of M. de Clon, who was one of Colonel Henry's agents before the court of cassation. The witness made the sensational statement that he had forged several documents against Dreyfus at the order of Colonel Henry, and had broken into Mme. Dreyfus' home to secure samples of her husband's handwriting.

SWEDES AND ITALIANS.

The Majority of the Miners Who Destroyed Wardner's Mill Were Aliens.

Wardner, Idaho, May 3.—Sixty rioters concerned in the disturbance of last Sunday have been arrested since the arrest of this afternoon of company M, Twenty-fourth infantry. As soon as the serving of warrants began, the rioters scrambled over the hills in frantic efforts to escape. About 60 were caught and others will be pursued. Only one tried to resist. He was promptly overpowered. The prisoners were marched to camp. Nearly all are Swedes and Italians. Fifty-nine men of the Fourth cavalry arrived here from Walla Walla today. Coroner France has impelled a jury and the inquest on the victim of the mob began this afternoon. No more rioting occurred until arrests began on Canyon creek.

DARFOUR'S SULTAN DEPOSED.

Ibrahim Ali Found This Out at the Cost of Many Lives.

Cairo, May 3.—Ibrahim Ali, whom General Lord Kitchener sent upon a mission to Ibrahim's uncle, the sultan Darfour, has been deposed. Ibrahim Ali found upon reaching Darfour that his uncle had been deposed by Ali Dinar. The latter, on the appearance of Ibrahim Ali, turned out with his troops and routed the forces of General Lord Kitchener's envoy, numbering 150, of whom 120 were killed.

KILLED THE UMPIRE.

A Baseball Player Against Whom He Declared the Murderer.

Birmingham, Ala., May 3.—During a game of baseball yesterday at Lonsborough, Samuel Powell, who officiated as umpire, was struck on the head by Frank McCoy, one of the players, and died almost immediately. The witness who testified that he considered a home run, and when the umpire declared the hit a foul, a quarrel arose with the above result. McCoy escaped.

KRUGER'S OPPORTUNITY.

Transvaal May Become Independent If She Makes Concessions.

London, May 3.—A movement is under way to secure England's guarantee for the independence of the Transvaal, if President Kruger will make concessions to the Uitlanders in that country. This is the opinion of the Transvaal problem is put forth as a check to the threatened crisis in the Anglo-Boer relations by those who believe that armed coercion on England's part to secure her rights to English residents in the Transvaal would react to her detriment politically.

Would-be Rescuers Slain.

Santiago de Cuba, May 3.—Yesterday at Mayari an attempt was made by outlaws to rescue the bandit chiefs, Miguel, Gonzales and five other patriots, who were in the custody of the rural guards. The sentinel, who detected the attempt, fired, wounding one of the outlaws. The guards rushed to the assistance of the sentry and a fighting ensued, in which all the would-be rescuers were killed. Two of the guards were wounded. The prisoners have since been removed to Paraco.

Caravan Attacked—Fifty Killed.

Capetown, May 3.—Word has been received here that a caravan under the command of two Europeans was recently attacked near the headwaters of the Revuana river, east of Lake Nyassa, the tribesmen killing 50 people and capturing all the goods. The Europeans reached Chickla fort after wandering three days in the bush.

San Francisco, May 3.—The local post office officials today seized some of the pamphlets sent out by Edward Atkinson, vice-president of the Anti-Imperialistic League of Boston. A Vessel Missing.

Devoured by a Shark.

THAT CRIMINAL LIBEL SUIT.

Harry Ross or One Ling or Something Else Sent Up for Trial.

Trail, May 3.—Justices of the Peace Topping and McMillan had before them today the case of Regina vs. Harry Ross, who was charged with criminal libel. Harry used to have some other name. One Lang or something else, or some heathen name, till he learned to speak English, and like most of his countrymen who acquire a smattering of English, the first words he learned were bad ones, and the epithets he acquired were unpleasant to those to whom he applied them. One of them was very naughty, indeed, and the other heathen had him arrested and he was sent down for two months for posting obscene notices. This judgment was overruled by Mr. Justice Walkem, and on being tried again by the same justice on the same charge the case was dismissed.

Today he was brought before the same bench of magistrates and charged with criminal libel, J. A. Macdonald appearing for the crown and W. S. Deason for the defense. The hearing was a long one and the testimony was carefully sifted by the attorneys and listened to with becoming gravity by the Court, but in the end Harry Ross, alias something else, was committed for trial before the next court of competent jurisdiction, and will occupy apartments at Nelson for the present.

These can be run on tracks so that the goods on the higher shelves of the store can be easily reached by them. They are the first of the kind ever used in Rossland and are an immense convenience. They attract the admiring attention of all who see them. They are the kind used in the larger and more fashionable shoe stores of Eastern Canada.

"OLIVETTE" LAST NIGHT.

The Metropolitan Opera Company Gives Its Farewell Performance.

Edmond Audran's comic opera "Olivette" was given last evening before an audience that reached the house. It was the farewell performance of the Metropolitan Opera company. The members of the company, with one exception, were in good voice, the audience was a pronounced success.

The Captain de Merriland of Maurice Hageman was an excellent characterization. He ended the evening of the audience in a realistic manner and added to his popularity.

It is to be deplored that Will S. Rising, who was cast for Valentine, who ordinarily is a capable artist, was in a condition unfit for the role which he assumed. His voice was evidently not under control, and it was remarked by many in the audience that he was palpably intoxicated. The worthy Mr. Rising, however, allowed an otherwise meritorious performance to be marred by an artist who was not apparently in a fit condition to appear.

Eddie Smith as Coquelotte was irresistibly funny, and his topical song, "The Time For Disappearing," elicited hearty encores.

Agnes Millard in the title role was in home and her vocalization was more than pleasing. She was arch, vivacious and has the true conception of comic opera, inasmuch that she knows how to accentuate the comical features. This is an essential in opera of this character.

Jeannette Lincoln was pleasing in the character of Bathilde and her vocalization was a revelation to the audience. The painting of an artist has certainly a career before her.

The company will leave for Nelson today, where it appears this evening. The intention then is to play at the leading towns along the coast of the Crown's Nest Pass railway. Then the company will visit the towns along the main line of the Canadian Pacific and in the section around Sault Ste. Marie, from there it will return to the copper section of Michigan. Paul and return via the Northern Pacific. It is anticipated that it will make its November before the Metropolitan opera company will again appear in this city.
