He Suffered From Hip Joint Disease and Abscesses—His Friends Feared He Would be a Permanent Invalid. (From the Journal, St. Catharines, Ont).

A reporter of the St. Catharines Journal visiting Wellandport not long ago heard of one of those remarkable cures that have made Dr. Williams' Pink Pills famous as life savers the world over. The case is that of Perley Misner, son of Mr. Mathias Misner, who had suffered from hip joint disease and abscesses, and who had been under the care of four doctors without beneficial results. Mr. Misner gave the particulars of the case as follows: "In the spring of 1892, my son, Perley, who was then in his thirteenth year, began to complain of an aching in his hips, and later my attention was directed to a peculiar shamble in his gait. As the trouble gradually grew upon him I took him to a physician in Dunnville, who examined him and said the trouble arose from a weakness of the nerves of the hip. This doctor treated Perley for weeks, during which time a large abscess formed on his leg, and he was obliged to get about on crutches. As he continued to de cline, I resolved to try another doctor, who diagnosed the case as hip joint disease. He treated Perley for The lad slightly six months. porved at first, but later was taken worse again. He would startle in his sleen and was continually in distress as he could neither sit nor recline with ease, and was weak, faint and confused. During this time the abseese had broken and was discharging in three places, but would not heal. A third doctor advised a surgical op-eration, which he objected to, and a fourth medical man then took the case in hand. This doctor confined Perley to the bed, and besides giving medicine, he ordered a mechanical appliance to which was attached a pound weight, to be placed in a ition by a pulley system so as to stantly draw downwards on the b. This treatment was continued himb. This treatment was continued six weeks, causing much pain, but nothing in the way of benefit was noticed. The abscess was dressed twice and thrice a day for months, and frequently, despite the aid of crutches, it was necessary for me to carry him in my arms from the house to the vehicle when taking him out. to the vehicle when taking him out In October, of 1893, I decided, other treatments having failed, to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I told the doctor of this decision, and he said that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills would quitelikely be of much benefit. After using four boxes I could see some improvement. After this Perley continued the use of the pills for several months with constant improvement and new vigor, and after taking about 18 hoxes the abscess was nicely healed, the crutches were dispensed with In October, of 1893, I decided, other the crutches were dispensed with and he was able to work and could miles. I attribute the good walk for miles. I attribute the good bealth which my son enjoys to-day to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This medicine achieved such a mar-vellous success in my son's case as to set the whole community talking about it. Canada feels a sort of proprietorship in Lord Roberts on account of what his uncle accomplished in this country during the war of 1812, and Hamilton is not only a friend, but a relation, of the great and only "Bobs," whose wife is a cousin of the Misses Bews, of James street south. The story of Lord Roberts' life has been told before, but in these Bloemfontein days it will bear repeating, especially as number of scrap-book keepers is in-creasing as the war progresses. And he has been doing that before

And he has been doing that before "Bobs" for lo! these many years.

With never a failure in his record Lord Roberts has many a feat of general ship and individual bravery to his credit. That for which he is most amous is his march from Kabul to the relief of Kardahar in 1880, while England was on tenterhooks of anxiety as to his safety. Of it he tells us himself that he found his advance to Kabul, in the previous year, a far nore difficult task. His successful more difficult task. His succession movement of a body comprising about ten thou-and fighters—British and Indian—eight thousand camp followers and twenty-three hundred horses and gun mules through difficult, hostile erritory in three weeks, with the dozen natives, is considered by com-petent critics the most remarkable achievement of its kind in modern imes. Gen. Sherman's march to the ea probably is the nearest approach to it. A special bronze star was given to each of the men participating in

Much of his success as a general and as a builder was due not only to his remarkable magnetism, but to his close touch with the men in the ranks. Leaving India in 1893, after two terms, or nearly eight years, as commander-inchief, at a farewell banquet in Calcutta he strongly urged unon nil officers the necessity for showing sympathy with soldiers and their families, and of giving effect to orders in a liberal and intelligent spirit. On the same occasion he showed his faith in his system by saying that if the time of trial should ever come india could rest secure, not only on Much of his success as a general and

DEER FORESTS OF SCOTLAND Nearly One-Eighth of the Country i

Kept for Their Benefit. A recent l'arliamentary return gives A recent Parliamentary return gives some startling figures in relation to Scotch deer forests. The returns relate to the six highland crofting counties only—the counties of Argyll, Inverness, Ross and Cromarty, Sutherland, Caitliness, Orkney and Shetland. In the Orkney and Shetland Islands there are no deer forests, so we have practically to deal with four counties. In these four counties there are no less than 2,287,297, or more than two millions and a quarter, acres given millions and a quarter, acres given to the preservation of deer. Foresting has proceeded apace during recent years. Since 1883 nearly 600,000 acres have been added to the forest acreage. The whole area of Scotland in acreage is about 19,500,000; it follows that, reckoning the forests in four counties alone one acre in every four counties alone, one acre in every eight and a half is kept waste for the

In order that on a few days in the year a few persons may enjoy the killing of a certain number of these beautiful animals this vast area is, for the most part, sealed against the intrusion of man. No one but the owner and his friends and keepers may set foot on mountain or glen. The total area under tillage in Scotland is about 3,500,000. If, therefore, allowance is made for the forests in lowance is made for the forests in other highland counties, it seems probable that the total acreage of deer forest is not far short of that under crop. It is some consolation to learn that in the four counties in question the forests are assessed to rates at the forests are assessed to rates at over £100,000.
