BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS
THE SCENE OF AN UPROAR

Violent Speeches by Irish Members and Great Clamor From the Irish Benches—Mr. Healy in a Satirical Vein.

London, Oct. 16. — Parliament was re-opened to-day without any of the usual formalities. The House proceeded immediately to the business of the day as soon as the Speaker took the chair, shortly after 2 p.m. The session is likely to last until nearly Christmas. Owing to the highly controversial character of the Education Bill and the unbending determination of each side, the session promises to be the most serious party struggle in the House of Commons since the last Liberal Government retired from office. Seven hundred and fifty amendments to the Education Bill await consideration, of which number 588 have been proposed by the Liberals.

UPROAR IN THE HOUSE.

The sitting opened with a turbulent debate.

Premier Balfour moved that the remainder of the session be entirely devoted to Government business, which, he explained, would consist mainly of the discussion of the Education and London Water Bills, while the Indian budget, the Uganda Railway, sugar bounties and the supply vote would enable the procedure to be carried out. The Transvaal, he added, would also require attention.

James Bryce, leading the Liberals in the absence of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, mildly protested, and then Patrick O'Brien, one of the Irish members, asked that at least a day between now and Christmas be devoted to discussion of the serious state of affairs in Ireland.

Mr. Balfour replied that if the request for such an opportunity came from the Liberal leaders the Government would grant it, but they could not notice it from the Irish party.

William O'Brien thereupon made an impassioned speech, warning the House that Ireland was on the verge of revolt. The constitution, he said, was practically suspended, and now the members were gagged in the only Parliament they had.

Throughout Mr. O'Brien's remarks the Irish members kept up a perfect storm of applause. When Mr. Wyndham, the chief secretary for Ireland, entered the House, they hissed him loudly, and the Speaker, who was frequently on his feet asking for "Order," sternly repressed the demonstration.

Mr. Lloyd-George, backed up by Irish members, and T. P. O'Connor increased the excitement by bitterly upbraiding Mr. Balfour for declaring that Irish matters must only be discussed by favor of the English Liberals.

Only after a heated colloquy with the Speaker was Mr. O'Connor prevented from voicing abuse of Mr. Wyndham and a description of the alarming state of Ireland, which the other Nationalist members had not touched on.

During the afternoon the Speaker's ruling raised renewed clamor from the Irish benches. Members of the House of Lords, as spectators, crowded into the House of Commons, in expectation of a scene, for the threats from the Irish benches became more and more demonstrative. The climax came unexpectedly.

Mr. Healy, amidst intense excitement, said, in icy tones:—"I rise to speak as a native of Uganda." The House was convulsed with laughter. In a speech which on all sides was characterized as one of the finest satires ever heard in the House of Commons, Mr. Healy, always as a "Ugandan," thanked the Premier for his consideration which enabled the Imperial Parliament to devote time to the discussion of native affairs. He complimented Mr. Balfour on being able to sufficiently detach himself so as to be oblivious of the vital disturbances prevailing in that distant and distressful country, Ireland. In this vein, which irresistibly held the attention of Mr. Balfour himself frequent amusement, Mr. Healy completed what a Unionist member defined as one of the "finest satirical indictments the Government had ever undergone."

Other Nationalist members continued that debate fiercely, declaring that Irish affairs were at present more important to England than any of the matters mentioned in Mr. Balfour's program.

William Redmond regretted that the Irish people could not, with arms in their hands, strike a blow against the violent tyranny to which they were subject. The present action of the Government, he declared, afforded a reason why the Irish members would take the first opportunity of harrying the ministers from office.

Ultimately Mr. Balfour moved the closure, and the uproar broke out again with renewed vigor.

John O'Donnell stood up and refused to give way to the Speaker. His fellow Nationalists shouted encouragement and cheered vigorously. The Speaker repeatedly warned Mr. O'Donnell that he was out of order, and an exciting scene followed.

Mr. Balfour moved the suspension of Mr. O'Donnell, and the latter crossed the floor, stood in front of the Premier, shouting defiance and shook his fist in Mr. Balfour's face.

The House suspended Mr. O'Donnell by a vote of 341 to 51.

Mr. Balfour smiled quietly as the Irish member shouted and gesticulated, and other members of the Cabinet, fearing that O'Donnell would actually assault the Premier, moved towards him, but O'Donnell having concluded what he had to say returned to his seat and then left the House.

Previous to the action of the House the Speaker made the usual formal request that the offending member withdraw, which drew forth derisive cries of "Call the police," "Muster the horse guards," etc.

The debate was then closed by a vote of 263 to 148.

The House then went into committee on the Education Bill.

WORLD OF SPORT

FOOTBALL

CHATHAM 1, WALLACEBURG 0.

A special L. E. & D. R. R. train, in charge of Conductor Pierce, carried the local football team and about forty rooters to Wallaceburg yesterday afternoon.

The game was close and always exciting, Chatham winning by one goal to none. Each side scored a goal, which was not allowed, the player who did the shooting in each case being held to be off side.

Wallaceburg has a fast team of well developed football players, who gave Chatham their hardest tussle of the season.

An unfortunate accident occurred in the beginning of the game, when Stevens, Wallaceburg's star full back, had his knee-cap knocked out, which will probably put him out of the game for a few weeks, possibly the season.

Right after the kick off the ball was carried toward the Burg goal and a shot by Anderson on a pass from Angus, scored the only goal before three minutes had elapsed.

A little later on Patterly scored again, but the home team made a claim that he was off side and the goal was not allowed.

In the last half Taylor for Wallaceburg put the ball between the Chatham stakes, but the off side claim of the Chatham club was allowed and the goal did not count.

Messer, Chatham's new centre forward, proved a good man in yesterday's game. He was badly hurt in the first part of the game but stuck to it all the way through. Lindsay Parrott on the half back line worked right in and showed up strongly. Courtney and Wilson, as usual, put up a stone wall defence, while the forward line kept the Wallaceburg defence busy most all the time.

Doyle, who substituted for Stevens, was right there all the time and his predecessor could not have done much better.

Bennie, formerly of the local Business College team, was one of Wallaceburg's fast forwards and played a strong game.

The order on the field was far from what it might have been. Any dispute or disagreement between the teams would bring the crowd out on the field en masse.

The line ups were as follows:

WALLACEBURG.
Goal—Polstead.
Full Backs—Boulton, Stevens, (Doyle) Backs—Wooliver, McCosh and McConnell.
Right Wing—Boughman and Bennie.
Centre—Knight.

GOAL KICKS.

Tom Stevens, of Galt.

Plewes made a fair referee.

A junior team may be formed.

How about old man Fetterley?

Wallaceburgers are hard losers.

"Linney" Parrott is a coming star.

Sam Courtney's cigars were well received.

Falsely in goal for the 'Burg is a good one.

William McKenzie Messer is a whirlwind.

Wallaceburg is scheduled to play at Darrell to-morrow.

Two hours and five minutes was the actual time of playing.

Captain Fetterley deserves a large share of the credit for the victory.

Samuel Mercer played in hard luck. He made several long and clever but unsuccessful runs.

Gordon McCosh, Bennie and Boulton, of the Wallaceburg team, have all played with Chatham.

Stinson at centre half played a magnificent steady game. His checking and kicking were most effective.

On returning to Chatham the members of the team and their supporters were tendered a splendid supper at the Hotel Merrill.

Wallaceburg has a splendid team and show up handsomely in their red and white suits. Any team that plays with the 'Burg boys will find matters interesting.

The schedule for the eastern section of the Peninsular League is as follows:

Oct. 16, Chatham at Wallaceburg.
Oct. 18, Wallaceburg at Darrell.
Oct. 25, Darrell at Chatham.
Nov. 1, Wallaceburg at Chatham.
Nov. 8, Darrell at Wallaceburg.
Nov. 15, Chatham at Darrell.
