Agitation in China.
Berlin, Aug. 20.—A special despatch from Shanghai, published yesterday, says that the situation in China, especially in the Yangtze Valley, continues unsatisfactory.
It is impossible, the message adds, to say whether a general outbreak is impending, but the revolutionary movement gains strength daily, and the secret organizations are growing visibly. The Chinese officials say that thousands of revolutionists are concealed in the foreign quarters of the cities, thus placing themselves outside the jurisdiction of the Chinese courts.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Do not make the common mistake of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weakness these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me to-day for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

INSURANCE MEN MEET

President Allen Handles Draft Measure Rather Roughly.

Seven Hundred Delegates at Annual Convention—All Canada Represented—Banking System Needs Amendment, Says W. J. Bell of Guelph—Contrasts Position of Banks With That of Insurance Companies.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—About 700 delegates assembled at a convention hall yesterday afternoon at the first annual convention of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada. Many delegates and guests, all prominent insurance men, were present from the United States.

The annual address was delivered by President G. H. Allen of Montreal, who spoke in part as follows: "I am impelled to say something to you as to the investigation by royal commission, which has had the one happy result of bringing us so close together."

"The details of the report of the commission and the draft bill have been so fully canvassed in the insurance press that I will not allude to them. Suffice it to say that, in spite of the thinly-disguised and even open hostility of the daily press, our gentlemen, went undaunted into the fight for your companies and the right, with the result that over 200,000 additional people in this country were, through your efforts, convinced of the inestimable benefits of life insurance."

Mr. Allen proceeded to deal with the insurance bill, clause by clause, severely criticizing some of them. "It would be disloyal to the common sense of the Canadian electorate to imagine for one moment that such a clause could become law," he said, in reference to that prohibiting rebate.

B. Hal Brown, general manager of the London and Lancashire Life, spoke on motives and ideals. They must be high and good or the insurance man could not succeed.

A. S. McGregor of London defended the dignity of life insurance, and A. H. Vipond defended the man in the field. He denounced "switching" policies. Let the agent get new insurance. The agents were thought too persistent, but more than once a widow had complained of an agent who had abandoned her.

W. J. Bell of Guelph created a mild sensation by contrasting the banks and the insurance companies. He felt that the Banking Act stood in need of amendment far more than did the Insurance Act. Twelve banks, or 25 per cent., had failed since 1890, some of them as the result of criminality.

No insurance company had failed in the meantime, and no insurance manager had gone to the penitentiary. The banks could invest where they pleased, and they were not inspected, but the insurance companies were compelled by the Government to invest in certain securities, and the Insurance Department said to it that the assets were always on hand to protect the policyholder.

BUBONIC PLAGUE GERM.
Indian Government Concludes It Is Spread by Rat Fleas.

Simla, Aug. 20.—The Indian Government announces that the plague commission, which has just finished the first stage of its enquiry, decided that the bubonic plague is spread by rats, that the vehicle of the contagion is the rat flea, and that the life of the plague germ in the soil, floors and walls is of short duration.

The Government recommends the destruction of rats, the improvement of the construction of houses and the reduction of the food supplies of rats by the protection of grain stores.

Praises Rockefeller.
New York, Aug. 20.—According to a despatch to The Tribune, from Cleveland, John D. Rockefeller was invited to contribute $1,000,000 to the cause of evangelism on Sunday. Shortly after hearing the invitation made from the pulpit of the Euclid avenue Baptist Church by the Rev. Courtland Myers of New York, Mr. Rockefeller gripped the preacher's hand cordially and invited him to Forest Hill to dinner.

Mr. Myers, in his sermon, attacked newspapers, charging them with responsibility for the impression that present day conditions, economic as well as sociological, are rapidly nearing a crisis which might cause revolution.

Incidentally he praised Mr. Rockefeller's recent utterance, which he placed "for fair play" for big corporations.

Mr. Myers added his own appeal for a square deal, and predicted that "the present attitude of misrepresentation, misunderstanding and criticism cannot long be endured."

DO NOT BE HUMBLED.
More than ever, dishonorable and disreputable pharmaceutical concerns are flooding the market with cheap and worthless preparations designed to be imitations of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

POLICE AND BEGGARS.

Mendicants Take Life Easy and Have Their Regular Hours.

"It is probable that the average beggar earns more than the average workman." This statement, made at the annual meeting of the London Mendicancy Society, is amply borne out by the records of London police courts.

Every year between 2,000 and 3,000 of the most incorrigible beggars in London pass through the Marlborough street police court. Most of them are found in possession of money. When arrested one recently brought out $20 from a belt and a sovereign, a shilling and some coppers from his pocket.

Bangor street, Notting Dale, is now the chief home of the professional "cadgers" of London. Here they get a "dose" for fourpence, and from this haven they go out each morning to their day's work.

Here is a diary of a typical London beggar, compiled from facts supplied by the mendicity officers: 8.30 a.m.—Breakfast. Kipper, penny loaf, screw of tea, and a farthing's worth of milk.

12 a.m.—Smoke and read paper. Bind up foot to look as if lame. Cut boot to fake bandaged foot.

9.30 a.m.—Leave Bangor street, pass mendicity office on way; tell him "going to work."

10 a.m.—Begin work in Kensington. Two-pence to go away.

12 noon.—Worked two squares, four streets. Say I have been injured by motor omnibus; wife and children at home. Gained so far one shilling in silver, tenpence in coppers, half loaf of bread, cold breakfast sausages.

12.30 p.m.—Working cabs and carriages outside shops in Brompton road. Warned off by commissionaire, Lady says: "Poor man, he's lame," and gives penny.

2 p.m.—Dinner. 4.30 p.m.—Raining. Outside shops, get wet with shoe laces in my hand. Brought in by coppers. Business bad. 5 p.m.—Tea.

7 p.m.—"Found" crust of bread in gutter as lady and gentleman were getting into carriage. Got in the way. Half a crown.

8 p.m.—Home in Bangor street. Total of day, $1.50.

EXPENSIVE VOLUMES.
Nelson's Memorandum, Consisting of Eight Pages, Brought $18,000.

Fabulous are the prices paid at times for ancient books and manuscripts.

For instance, £490 was paid recently for a rare little Caxton volume containing 214 leaves, which was discovered by Messrs. Hodgson among some books sent for sale by a resident at Whitby, Yorkshire.

The volume, which was bound in contemporary stamped leather, was a fragment of Caxton's "Royal Book," a perfect copy of which brought in $2,250 in 1902.

Despite the great age of this little work, however, it realized nothing like the price paid for a Nelson memorandum—consisting of eight pages quarto—of instructions addressed to the fleet on the eve of the Battle of Trafalgar.

"How much for this?" asked the auctioneer of a crowded room.

"Two hundred and fifty pounds," came an immediate reply. This offer was quickly followed by one of £300, and the sum increased by rapid and uninterrupted stages to £2,000. Then short pause ensued, and the bidding afterwards continued by rises of £100, until at length, amid silence, the hammer dropped upon a final offer of £2,600.

Great satisfaction was caused by the knowledge that the many American agents present had not been allowed to capture the prize.

Wants Cheerful Funerals.
There is at least one man in London who is in accord with Mark Twain's ideas of a jolly funeral.

The Rev. Frederick Spurr, one of the best known Baptist pastors in London, recently startled the mourners at the funeral of one of the deacons of his church by officiating in a gray suit of clothes.

The reverend gentleman, who is the minister of the Maze Field Baptist Church in the Old Kent road, also gave his reasons.

"In the first place," said Mr. Spurr, "I do not believe in death, and I think that if people busied themselves preparing how to live instead of preparing how to die the world would be a better place."

"I am heartily sick of the pagan-ism that is connected with a good many Christian funerals. If we honestly believe that a good Christian has gone into a higher and truer life, why should we wear clothes even suggesting that he is dead and done with?"

FEARFUL ITCHING BURNING SORES

Boy in Misery 12 Years—Eczema Spread Over Body in Rough Scales, Cracked, Inflamed, and Swollen—Case Pronounced Incurable, but Completely Cured by Two Sets of Cuticura Remedies.

HIS SKIN NOW FINE AND SMOOTH AS SILK

"I wish to inform you that your wonderful Cuticura has put a stop to twelve years of misery I passed with my son. As an infant I noticed on his body a red spot and treated same with different remedies for about five years, but when the spot began to get larger I put him under the care of doctors. Under their treatment the disease spread to four different parts of his body. The longer the doctors treated him the worse it grew. During the day it would get rough and form like scales. At night it would be cracked, inflamed, and badly swollen, with terrible itching and burning. When I think of his suffering, it nearly killed my heart. His screams could be heard down-street as he lay in my son made me full of misery. I had no ambition to work, to eat, or to sleep."

One doctor told me that my son's eczema was incurable, and gave it up for a bad job. One evening I saw an article in the paper about Cuticura and decided to give it a trial. I tell you that Cuticura Ointment is worth its weight in gold, and when I used the first box of Ointment there was a great improvement, and by the time I had used the second set of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent my child was cured. He is now twelve years old, and his skin is as fine and smooth as silk. Michael Steinman, 7 Summer Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., April 16, 1905."

FOR WOMAN'S EYE

Too much stress cannot be placed on the great value of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills in antiseptic cleansing, thus affording pure, sweet, and refreshing local and constitutional treatment for inflammations, itching, irritations, relaxations, displacements, and pains, as well as such sympathetic affections as anemia, chlorosis, hysteria, nervousness, and debility.

For the Sickroom.
One of the most convenient articles to be used in a sickroom is a sand bag. Get some clean, fine sand, dry it thoroughly in a kettle on the stove. Make a bag about eight inches square of flannel, fill it with dry sand, sew the opening carefully together and cover the bag with cotton or linen. This will prevent the sand from sifting out and will enable you to heat the bag quickly by placing it in the oven or even on the top of the stove, says Woman's Life.

After once using this you will never attempt to warm the feet or hands of a sick person with a bottle of hot water or a brick.

To put the brake on the wagon going down the hill is a help to the horse, when the wagon is heavily loaded. But what driver would think of applying the brake to a loaded wagon going up hill? If he did, his sensible horses would probably balk. Many a man is in the condition of pulling a load up hill with the brakes set against his arm. When his stomach is out of order, and the allied organs of digestion and nutrition impaired in their functions, a friction is set up which has to be overcome in addition to the performance of daily duties. A foul stomach makes a foggy brain, and the man with a disordered stomach has often to grope his way through the day's business like a man in a fog. He forgets appointments and problems seem presented to his mind "wrong end to." This condition is entirely remedied by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It purges the stomach and digestive nutritive system into a condition of perfect health, and gives a clear brain, a steady hand and a light step for the day's duties. Dr. Pierce's medicines do not contain alcohol or other injurious ingredients; they are not "patent medicines" because their ingredients are printed on the label of each bottle.

An Emergency Bag.
A very convenient addition to the medicine closet is an emergency bag. It should be made of two strips of heavy linen or denim, about six or seven inches deep, the back piece to be made about eighteen inches long and the front twenty-seven inches. The two strips should be bound together at the ends and across the bottom, then stitched, to form several pockets. A flap should be buttoned over the top and each pocket labeled with indelible ink.

One pocket should contain rolls of bandages, another bits of old soft linen, another lint from worn-out napkins. Other pockets should be made to hold bottles of arnica, witch hazel, carbolic, Jamaica ginger, absorbent cotton, a box of healing salve, a piece of castile soap and half a dozen fingers cut from old large kid gloves.

Files get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for Files, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents.
