DIED IN CHICAGO

The death occurred in Chicago on the 12th of September, of James E. Johnson, aged 29 years and ten months. Deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Johnson, who formerly lived in this city. Besides his parents, he is survived by seven brothers--William J. Johnson, Jr., Thomas G., Clarence E., John A., Eric E., Franklin H., and Chas. McD.

Deceased was well known in this city, and he has many Maple City friends who will be sorry to hear of his untimely end. Their sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

The funeral took place from the home of the deceased, 1,000 North Fairfield.

PLEASANT OUTING

Earle Kimmerley entertained the members of the Chippewa Lacrosse team to a pleasant launch ride down the river yesterday in W. W. Scane's boat. A start was made at nine o'clock in the morning, and the party returned in the evening.

The party went down to the Light-house, where they had dinner, after which they went for a cruise on the lake. All report having a most enjoyable time.

QUITE STRONG.

How is he at bridge; strong! His bridge is strong enough to support the whole family.

THIEF IS CAUGHT

Man Who Robbed G. T. R. Operator at Thamesville is Captured At Glencoe

Glencoe, Sept. 14.--Another example of the resourcefulness of the G. T. R. staff here was exemplified last night. The operator at Thamesville, while attending to his duties as usual, noticed a stranger, who he at once recognized as being the man who held him up and robbed the depot the previous night.

He at once notified the despatcher at St. Thomas, who wired the operator at Glencoe to have the policeman at the depot on the arrival of a freight train which had been standing at Thamesville, and which the operator assumed the stranger was about to board.

On the train's arrival at Glencoe Constable Hills made the arrest. The prisoner admitted his guilt without stating of what offence he was guilty, but the operator persists in saying that he is the right man.

A MODEL TEACHER

Rev. A. H. MacGillivray Delivers a Thoughtful Address To The Young People of the City

There was a very large congregation at First Church, last evening, to hear Rev. Mr. MacGillivray give a special address to the students and scholars of the city. Through the audience were noticed a large number of the young people of the city, many of them strangers, and an attentive and evidently enjoyable hearing was given throughout the service.

Mr. MacGillivray was at his best, as he always is in addressing the young people, and he gave a sermon which could not help but be a source of benefit and inspiration to every young man and woman in the church. His remarks were, perhaps, more particularly addressed to the teachers and those who were contemplating the acceptance of such a mission in life. During his remarks he advocated principles which would undoubtedly lead to uplift and improve this profession, if practically applied by the members in it. It is hoped that Mr. MacGillivray's efforts in interesting the young people in church work, will be continued with characteristic energy and perseverance, as there is nothing which is more beneficial to any church than to see the younger members active and enthusiastic.

During the service last evening the choir sang a splendid anthem; a solo was brilliantly rendered by Wilfred Smith, and a pleasing selection was given by the male quartet. The members are returning to their posts after the summer months, and the singing is again assuming the excellent standard to which this splendid choir attains.

NEW AUTO LAW

Judge Houston, Chairman of the Police Commission, has issued orders to the police to take measurements of certain city streets and keep tabs on the speed of autos on such thoroughfares, in order that evidence may be secured for prosecutions in cases where the new automobile regulations are violated.

"The police can easily test this matter," said His Honor. "They can measure certain blocks, time the autos, and we will thus be enabled to get definite information. The police have plenty of time to attend to this matter, I am told that the autos run at the rate of twenty miles an hour in the city, and faster than that on Talbot Street. The new regulations are out in postal form, and no autoist can have any excuse for not knowing what they are, nor will any such excuse be taken in this court."

The speed at which autos are allowed to run in the city is ten miles an hour and fifteen in the country.

WAS FINED

Jack Abraham was fined $1 and costs--$5.35 in all--in the Police Court this morning, for the privilege of carrying too big a bag on Sept. 11. Abraham first talked of having a warrant served on John McDonald, whom he alleged, ill-treated him on the night in question. When he was informed that McDonald is now sailing on the lakes, however, he changed his mind.

BURNED HIS WAY OUT.

Sensational Escape From Lock-Up at New Liskeard.

New Liskeard, Sept. 16.--A sensational jail breaking took place here this week when a young fellow about 23 years of age, charged with the theft of $175 from William Byers of Thornloe, actually burned his way out of the New Liskeard lock-up. His manacles were placed on the top of a stove in the corridor and he rigged up a fishing device with a diver of wood and a pin by which he brought the lockers to hand. He lit a fire under the ceiling of the cell, burning a hole sufficiently large for him to draw himself through. He has not yet been recognized.

DENNIE LAMB LOSES HORSE

Circumstances Point To Horse Stealing, Mr. Lamb Thinks

Animal Disappeared From Pasture Field Saturday Night

Another apparent horse-theft has been reported. Dennie Lamb, of Harwich, is the complainant this time. Mr. Lamb came into the city yesterday, and reported to High County Constable Major Coogan that a valuable black horse had recently disappeared from his pasture field, an the circumstances point to horse stealing.

Mr. Lamb had six horses in the pasture field, and Sunday morning he noticed that one was missing. He says that it has either strayed away or been stolen. He says that he cannot understand how it could have strayed away, as its mate was still in the field Sunday morning, and the mate usually went where it went. Besides, he has been unable to find any trace of it in the neighborhood.

According to Mr. Lamb's description, the horse is black, stands fifteen and one-half hands high, has a white star on its forehead, and a white hind leg.

Mr. Lamb has gone to Thamesville to see if he can find any trace of the missing horse there. The horse is a fine looking animal, but is almost blind. This will probably prove a disappointment to the thieves, who possibly did not notice the horse's blindness in the dark.

A NOBLE ACTION

Reginald Jamieson Gives up His Life In an Effort to Save Two Women

Blenheim, September 15.--Lamentable news reached town last night when word was received from French River, in New Ontario, of the death by drowning of C. Reginald Jamieson, a young unordained Presbyterian minister, who was well known here.

Deceased went out boating a week ago Saturday with his wife and a lady friend. A heavy storm came up and the party were driven on an island, which was uninhabited. They lost their boat and had nothing to eat. Mr. Jamieson became frenzied at beholding the sufferings of his wife and the other lady and decided to try to swim from island to island and reach the mainland and obtain relief.

After a touching farewell with his wife and the other lady he started and the women saw him gain one island in safety. In crossing it he became lost to view and that was the last that has been seen or heard of him.

The late C. R. Jamieson was the son of Rev. W. H. Jamieson, D. D., of Birmingham, Mich., and for many years was a Presbyterian pastor in charge of a rural church here. He was a graduate of Bidgetown Collegiate Institute and an honor graduate of Toronto University.

For a short time, about 18 months ago, deceased was assistant editor of the Toronto Saturday Night. He was responsible for a series of letters in that journal, signed "Junius, Jr.", which brought about an investigation into conditions at Toronto University and was the principal witness at the investigation which followed.

The deceased young man was the son of Rev. Dr. Jamieson, who for many years was pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Up-the-Creek, and was well known to both Presbyterian congregations in this city. During his sermon last evening, Rev. A. H. MacGillivray made mention of the sad event and extended to the parents of the deceased young man the sympathy of their many Chatham friends.

GOT CHEAP PLUMS

Saturday night an unknown man from the country snatched a basket of plums from the front of Harry Andrews' Grocery and ran in the direction of the Sixth Street foot-bridge. Officer Dodson followed swiftly on his trail, but the thief gave the policeman the double cross at the bridge, turned and ran back up King to Fifth Street, and over to the Idlewild Hotel. Here the officer saw him in conversation with the proprietor of the hotel.

When the thief saw the policeman coming he quickly jumped in his rig and drove off. Officer Dodson asked both the proprietor and the hostler at the hotel as to the man's name, but both denied that they knew him. Possibly some farmer and his family enjoyed very cheap fruit Sunday at Mr. Andrews' expense.

CLARK "WELCHED"

He Refused To Pay a Bet to a Waiter Who Stood to Win $1,308 on a $5 Investment

The following is from the Detroit Journal of Sept. 10--

What doth it avail a man to win a big bet if he can't cash his ticket? That is the question that is keeping Herman Galland, a waiter in the Majestic Cafe, awake at night, and has also puzzled a number of other gentlemen at various times.

Horman likes the ponies. Industrious he pores over the dope book and makes his selections with great care. Last week he thought he saw a chance to make a killing. He has been breaking about even for some weeks, but there was a chance. He took the Sheephead Bay entries, and, after much calculation, he "parleyed" a bet on the afternoon. He placed $5 on the parley, and stood to win $1,308 on his ticket.

There comes a time in the lives of all when the fates are kind and genial, and Herman read the sporting extras and discovered that his horses had all run according to form, and that he was due to cash in on the "parley."

He had placed the bet, so he alleged, in a suit filed in the Circuit Court, with Arthur Clark, who runs a "handbook, and formerly had office room in a brokerage office in the Hodges Building.

But Arthur "welched" on the bet. He had not expected Herman to win his "parley," and he refused to pay. Now Herman is very sad, and has invoked the courts to help him collect the bet.

The man Clark mentioned in the above is the gentleman who runs the Commercial Stock and Telegraph Co. He is the man who has sworn out an information against W. J. Strong, of this city, charging him with theft, which Mr. Strong denies.
