RUSSIA DENIES REPORT
(Special to the Sunday Standard.)
London, July 3.—A special dispatch from Petrograd explicitly denies that over 500,000 Russians have fallen into the hands of the Germans since May 2. The military authorities at the Russian capital declare that the retreat of their army has been in good order and that instead of losing many men as prisoners, their "Cossacks" have been constantly harassing the enemy.

CROWN PRINCE IN DISGRACE
(Special to the Sunday Standard.)
London, July 3.—That the crown prince is not dead, but that he is again in the black books of his father because of certain indiscretions is the tenor of a dispatch that comes from Copenhagen. It is understood that he has been a rank failure as an officer and as a disciplinarian, especially in the latter respect, as regards his own habits, and that he is now required to do penance.

A Reign of Terror Throughout the States Feared In Washington

Frank Holt Alleged to be Man who tried to Blow up National Capital with Bomb As First Step In Terrorist Campaign of Destruction

(Special to the Sunday Standard.)
Washington, July 3.—Positive information that Frank Holt, who attempted J. P. Morgan's life, was the man who tried to blow up the national capital a few hours earlier, reached the Washington police tonight by long distance telephone. All further information was refused.

The next object of the secret service agents, the justice department's investigators and Washington policemen was to determine whether Holt acted independently or was the agent only of a group of conspirators who aimed at creating a reign of terror throughout the United States.

Fear of an organized plot hung over the government. That such a conspiracy has been suspected for some time to be simmering was known definitely.

Holt's methods were such that investigators felt sure he, at any rate, considered an attempt to wreck the capital and kill J. P. Morgan was first step in a proposed campaign of terrorism.

As a result guards over all public buildings in Washington were doubled tonight. At White House, uniformed officers held up everyone who tried to carry a package through the grounds.

Since Friday night nobody has been permitted to enter the capitol concerning whom there was the slightest suspicion. For the first time in months, credentials were demanded of callers at the state, war and navy departments.

MRS. MORGAN ATTEMPTED TO SAVE HER HUSBAND FROM ASSASSIN'S BULLET

(Special to the Sunday Standard.)

Glencoe, Ill., July 3.—Holt arrived at Glencoe at 9:35 and carried a suitcase. We walked to garage near the station, called Fred Ford, a chauffeur, and asked to be driven to the Morgan estate, two miles from the town. He drove through the main gate of the estate and got out of the car and went up the front steps.

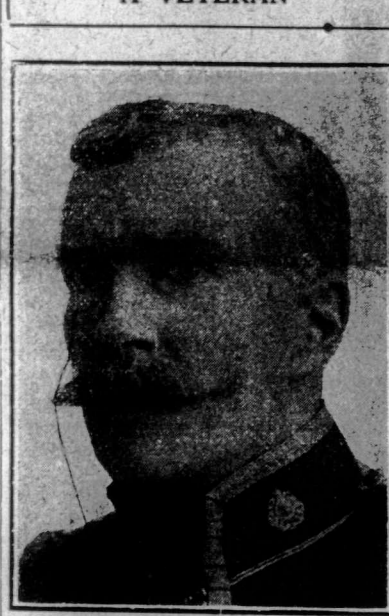

Butler Fleke answered the bell. Holt presented a card and asked to see the financier, who was at breakfast. The butler asked him to wait in the hall. Holt then drew a gun, and said:

"I want to see Mr. Morgan now." The butler walked slowly down the hall and then broke into a run, approaching the dining hall shouting: "Upstairs, Mr. Morgan, upstairs."

Morgan and his wife, thinking something was wrong, ran up the back stairway. Then they hurried down the front stairs almost stumbling into the intruder. Mrs. Morgan attempted to throw herself between Holt and her husband. Morgan hurled his two hundred pounds against his assailant just as the pistol barked.

It is generally believed that Holt fired three shots before he was felled, one entering the abdomen and the other going out through the right thigh. A third shattered a valuable oil painting.

FRANCE PREPARED TO MEET GERMANS' ARGONNE THRUST

Joffre's Dispositions Are Considered Equal to Any Strain That May Be Placed Upon Them by Teutons.

(Special to the Sunday Standard.)

Paris, July 3.—The official Communique states that gains are being made in the Arras and Argonne regions. Heavy trench fighting is proceeding, accompanied by extensive artillery exchanges.

There is no apprehension respecting the announcement from German sources that big forces are being moved from the eastern sphere of action to the western arena. The government is confident that the dispositions that have been made by General Joffre and his assistants are such that the Germans will not be able to break through. It is expected that the Argonne will be one of the main objectives of the German attack when they cease their thrust into Russian territory.

KAISER WILL FORCE WAR WITH U.S. IS BELIEF IN LONDON

Is Said to Consider Uncle Sam More Dangerous as a Neutral Than as Active Combatant.

(Special to the Sunday Standard.)

London, July 3.—The cable reports of the attack on J. P. Morgan caused a lively sensation in London's financial circles. It is felt here that the Germans will stop at nothing in order to prevent the United States from helping the Allies. It is also freely stated that sooner or later the Kaiser will force the United States into war with his country, as he is said to believe that the States are more dangerous as neutrals than as combatants.

Morgan's Condition Rumored More Critical Than the Doctors Admit

Doctors, However, Claim That no Vital Organ Has Been Touched and That Patient is Resting

(Special to the Sunday Standard.)

Glencoe, Ill., July 3.—Despite contrary statements from his physicians, the report that J. P. Morgan, shot by Prof. Frank Holt today, was in a serious condition, gained wide circulation here tonight.

The latest bulletin from Morgan's summer residence, though worded favorably, was not markedly optimistic. It declared the financier's condition continued excellent, but failed to state whether a probe had been made for the two bullets which it is admitted entered Morgan's body.

Judge William Luyster returned from Morgan's home early this evening with the report that one of the bullets had penetrated Morgan's abdomen and that an operation was being performed as he left the house. Efforts to confirm this report this evening were unavailing. A strong guard of servants was thrown across

BRITAIN BEGINNING TO APPRECIATE THE SITUATION'S PERIL

Northcliffe Papers Predict That Publicity of Danger Will Stimulate Recruiting, and the Production of Munitions.

(Special to the Sunday Standard.)
London, July 3.—Sensation after sensation has developed in parliament within the last few weeks, but none was greater than that precipitated by Lord Curzon when he stated this week that the situation is serious and the peril grave. The press generally is insisting on the government giving the facts with regard to munitions and is reiterating its demand that the pall of secrecy be lifted and the nation taken into the government's confidence. It is predicted by the Northcliffe papers that the censorship, as it affects the safety of the empire, will soon be a thing of the past and that with this fuller publicity there will be a greater response to the call for recruits and a greater activity on the part of the munitions plants.

The general impression of the country is that if Britain can catch up to Germany in the matter of munitions and especially high explosives, the war will come to a sudden end, for Germany will do anything rather than suffer an invasion that will take foreign troops into Berlin.

LAST MINUTE EDITORIALS

The Standard would call the attention of Commissioner Garden and Parks Superintendent Reader to the fact that a large part of St. George's Island is being washed away (eroded) by the usual word by the Bow river. The city will quietly put the gum slot machine out of commission by passing a license so high that the apparatus will not prove profitable. This will be one of the rare occasions on which the courts of Alberta are forced to see their decision legitimately evaded.

What is needed in Canada is a government system of regional banks that are designed and operated for the single purpose of developing our natural resources, which, of course, include our agricultural activities. As they are constituted today, the banks of Canada are a gigantic and unbreakable trust.

Opposition is developing in mottled quarters to the partial moratorium that is favored by Ald. Mitchell. There are many of us who will take this opposition as a good sign that the measure has merit and that it will really help the poor fellow who needs some assistance to tide him over this crisis.

It has to be done by the city this time but this thing of issuing new treasury bills to retire maturing ones is an expensive pastime. Let the council formulate a definite, workable policy with respect to the collection of taxes or our financial affairs will shortly be in a nasty tangle. The system that is now being used is profitable for the banks that are handling the sale and for the purchasers of the bills, but it is unnecessarily expensive to the city. What is the matter with our widely touted "business administration" living up to advance notices?

San Francisco, July 3.—At least three citizens of the United States have been recruited and sent from here for military service in the British army by alleged recruiting agents of the British government, according to a statement made by John W. Preston, United States district attorney. It was learned today that Frank C. Cook, who was returned under arrest from New York as a recruit to testify before the grand jury, is a former United States soldier.

PRISONER VICTIM OF DESPONDENCY

Dallas Tex., July 3.—That Frank Holt, who is held in connection with the Morgan shooting, was the victim of despondency was the statement tonight of Rev. O. F. Sensabaugh, his father-in-law, presiding elder of the Southern Methodist church in the Dallas district.

In proof of this he declared that Mrs. Holt only today received a letter from New York, in which the prisoner said that he had been ill and despondent for nearly a week. Overwork and 14 to 18 hours in close study, Sensabaugh said, had undoubtedly unbalanced Holt's mind.

There will be no further bulletins tonight as to the condition of the patient, none being regarded as necessary. It was stated, however, that the offices of the banking firm would be open at least until midnight.

ITALIANS EXPECTED TO HELP CAPTURE THE DARDANELLES

Allies' Progress is Necessarily Slow, But Their Submarines are Doing Great Damage in the Sea of Marmora.

London, July 3.—It is announced that there has been further severe fighting in the Dardanelles, with slight gains by the Allies. The Turkish troops are well entrenched, and it will take both time and ammunition, men and sustained attacks, to drive them from the peninsula of Gallipoli. The progress that has been made is considered to be encouraging, but it is stated that with the Italians' assistance the taking of the straits will be facilitated.

Several British submarines are operating in the Sea of Marmora and are terrorizing Turkish shipping. They have been exceedingly daring in their attacks and have done an immense amount of damage.

Federal Attorney Alleges That Three Were Sent from San Francisco

San Francisco, July 3.—At least three citizens of the United States have been recruited and sent from here for military service in the British army by alleged recruiting agents of the British government, according to a statement made by John W. MUNITIONS CARGO DETAINED BY U.S. PENDING INQUIRY

Vessel Cleared for Mexico from Seattle Without Trying to Reach Point of Destination.

Seattle, July 3.—The schooner Annie Larson, with a cargo of war munitions valued at $300,000 aboard, is detained at Hoquiam, Wash., while a thorough investigation of her wandering voyage begun March 8 at San Diego, is being made today. The investigation will proceed along two lines.

The customs department will inquire whether fraud was committed when the Annie Larson, after clearing for Topolobampo, Mexico, never tried to reach port, but sought to transfer her cargo to the steamship Maverick, whose charter is reported to have been engaged in coaling German warships. Captain Paul H. Schuler says he does not know the destination of his ship's cargo or the plans for its disposition. He thinks the arms were intended for one of the warring Mexican factions.

HUERTA IN JAIL
El Paso, Texas, July 3.—Unable to raise $15,000 bond required upon a second charge of conspiracy to violate the neutrality of the United States, Victoriano Huerta, former president of Mexico, was spending tonight in the county jail here.

An Alarming Situation Develops on Eastern Frontier of Russia

Fear Entertained that Kaiser May Realize His Ambition, Crush Russians and Compel Them to Negotiate With Him For Separate Peace.

(Special to the Sunday Standard.)

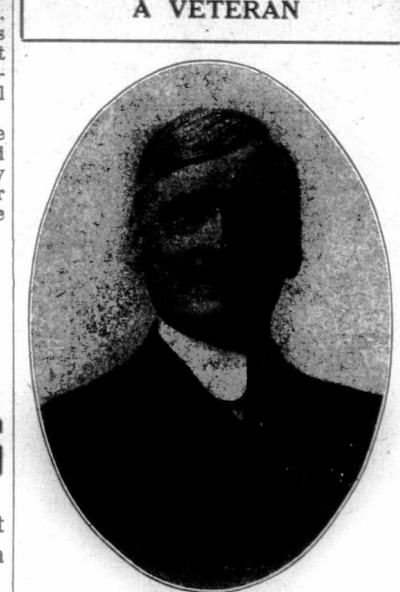

London, July 3.—It is officially announced that the speeding up of the war munitions plants is being successfully accomplished. The statement that, at the present rate of progress, Britain will surpass the German output before the end of the year is accepted without question in well-informed circles, but the troublesome question that will not down is: What will Germany be doing in the meantime?

The eastern situation is admitted to be alarming, with no hope in sight of much relief. The Germans may stop their drive when they get so far into Russia that their lines of communication will be weakened by their attenuation, but there is no certainty that they will stop short of Warsaw, and there is beginning to develop a fear that the Kaiser is trying to smash the czar's forces so thoroughly that the Russians will have to sue for peace. This would leave the Germans free to devote all their resources to the eastern scene of operations, which would be a grave matter for the Allies.

FROST CHARGES WILL BE HEARD ON MONDAY NEXT

Justice Simmons Will Preside, and Enquiry Will Take Several Days—Ald. Frost Will Conduct His Own Case.

The judicial enquiry into the charges made by Ald. Frost, against Superintendent McCauley, of the street railway department will open before Justice Simmons on Monday next and a large number of witnesses will be called on both sides. The hearing is liable to be continued for some days. Alderman Frost will conduct his own case.

It is understood that a counter charge will be laid against Ald. Frost by Supt. McCauley alleging interference with the street railway men. What the superintendent will do in the way of securing legal talent, if any, is not known. Neither has it been announced whether or not the street railway men's association still will be represented by counsel. If they do the expense will have to be met by the members personally, as the city council prohibited the spending of any part of the association's funds, toward which the city contributes, for this purpose. As no charges have been made against the association or the men the aldermen thought it improper to use the money thus.

CALGARY'S BIG FAIR SATISFIED A HUGE CROWD OF PATRONS

The attendance at the Calgary exhibition on Saturday afternoon and evening was almost double that of Friday, about 20,000 admissions being the estimated number. The 12th Mounted Rifles had a dress parade in the afternoon, and carried out the remainder of their program in the evening. The different exhibits were well patronized and the attractions at the midway did a rushing business. Monday next will be the Thirteenth Mounted Rifle day and the following program will be carried out. Drill by High School Cadets in front of grand stand. All platform attractions afternoon and evening. Evening Military program by 13th Mounted Infantry, 8 to 9 o'clock. Live stock parade. The Army Service Corps will present their program in the evening. LIBERALS HAD NO CONNECTION WITH DEAL, SAYS ROBLIN

Ex-Premier Praises Liberal Leader Who He Says Played the Game Honestly—Denied Fullerton's Charges.

Winnipeg, July 3.—Ex-Premier Roblin, who was on the witness stand all yesterday in connection with the graft charges against the Manitoba government, praised Premier Norris, the leader of the new Liberal government, and said that there was nothing irregular between the present government and its predecessors. The ex-premier had thought that by a change of government the best interests of the province would be served, as the new government would be better able to handle the affairs. He denied any connection with the alleged in the Fullerton charges, and said everything had been fair and above board, and was subject to the approval of the royal commission. Speaking of Premier Norris, he said he had sat with him in the legislature for many years, and had never known him to do or even suggest a dishonorable thing.

With regard to the appointment of the royal commission, Sir Rodmond said that the old government had tried to hold off its appointment in the hope of being able to make a basis of settlement with Kelly in the way of proper repayment of money which had been paid to him and not earned. This hope had vanished when the contract had turned up.

LATEST INDIGNITY UPON AMERICAN PEOPLE HAS GRIEVED PRES. WILSON

(Special to the Sunday Standard.)

Washington, July 3.—Although President Wilson has not yet made any announcement bearing on the sinking of the Armenian by the Germans and the loss of ten American lives, it is openly declared in semi-official circles that he feels this latest indignity that has been put upon the American people very deeply, and that he is inclined to place a definite ultimatum before the German government that will admit of no misconstruction. In this event a war between the two countries will be anything but a remote possibility, for it is currently understood here that the feeling in Germany is decidedly unfriendly and that many Americans who have been residents of Germany have been forced by the stress of public opinion to move to Switzerland and Holland.

It is not anticipated that a formal announcement will be made from the White House until the middle of next week.

"I CAN STOP THE WAR WHEN I WANT TO," KAISER DECLARES

But He Will Probably Find That Some One Else Has Something to Say About This.

Paris—Extracts from a letter said to have been sent by the Kaiser to a personage connected with the Bavarian court and published in Spain, are reproduced by the Matin. The emperor is quoted as saying:

"Our only object is a peace profitable for the German states. This peace may be concluded sooner than thought. If it gave for the time being only an incomplete result it would at least serve as a preparation for the future. It could be signed tomorrow if I wished."

"When my august grandfather placed the empire on its present basis he did not pretend to have realized a completed work. The empire always is susceptible to growth. What cannot be achieved today will be achieved later."
