WILL TRY OIL ON STREETS.

City Engineer Macallum Taking the Subject Up.

Better Terms Wanted for Power For Mountain Pumping.

Health Officers Pleased With the Clean Milk Farm.

City Engineer Macallum and Secretary Brennan, of the Board of Works, were busy this morning figuring out the cost of using oil to lay the dust on macadam roads. They believe that half of the street watering appropriation of $18,000 could be d to better advantage to sprinkle the macadam roads with oil and will these lines to the Board of Works Toronto is well satisfied with the ex periments it has conducted this year. It claims the credit of being the first Canadian city to use oil on the roads course this is not correct. Se retary Brennan experimented with oil last year. It was sprinkled on Herkimer and Hess streets and proved an unqualified success. In fact, there is no dust this year on the blocks where the oil was used. The engineer and Mr. Brennan admit that the initial cost is much greater than water, but they say it is much more effective. One sprinkling of oil will lay the dust for a whole season and it is very beneficial to the road, giving it a hard surface. On very warm days when the wind is brisk a road drys out after a watering cart has been over it and there are frequent complaints about the dust. All this can be avoided with the oil. Large cities across the border, such as Chiand Hess streets and cities across the border, such as Chi-cago, Rochester, Boston and Buffalo have been using oil with success for years on macadam roads.

The street flushers have solved the The street flushers have solved the problem of keeping asphalt pavements free of dust and visitors to the city have frequently complimented the department on the splendid condition in which the main streets are kept. Until the arrival of the flushers, two years ago, the nuisance of dust whirling along King and James streets was a source of constant annoyance to the merchants. The department has one flusher in reserve and will build anmerchants. The department has one flusher in reserve and will build another one this fall for the Barton street pavement, which it is expected will be completed by August 10. The Board of Works has some oil left over from last year and this will be used on Sophia street, which the Parks Board has asked the city to assist in beautifying for the benefit of people who drive from Victoria to Dundurn Park. The city at present waters seventy miles of road.

A visit to the farm of C. E. Webb where the milk commission has established the depot, which supplies the central distributing stations with clean milk for babies, contains much of interest to those who appreciate the importance of the campaign being waged to cut down the appalling death rate among infants in the summer months. The farm is situated in an ideal location, about a mile east of Wentworth street Incline and two miles back from the mountain brow. In two small frame buildings, erected in sections so that they can be easily removed, the milk is prepared and bottled. One of these buildings contains the sterilizing department. visit to the farm of C. E. The manager of a large store at Niagara Falls, N. Y., declared yesterday that the merchants on the Canadian side were to blame for the vigilance being exercised now. He says that the large number of picnics from Hamilton side were to blame for the vigilance being exercised now. He says that the large number of picnics from Hamilton to the Falls during the summer, when people take advantage of the opportunity to go to the United States side in search of bargains, caused the Canadian merchants to make numerous complaints at the customs department. Five plaints at the customs department. Five women have been employed at the bridge by the Canadian Government for severa weeks watching for smuggling.

And Was Prominent In Historical Societies

One of the most respected clergyme of the Diocese of Niagara passed away last night in the person of Canon Geo. Deceased had been ailing from heart trouble for some time and had had a number of weak spells On Sunday he complained of feeling ill, but yesterday when he went for a short walk he was apparently well. He left walk he was apparently well. He left his residence, hay street south, shortly after o o clock, and was walking along herkimer street, when his heart became weak, but he managed to get to the residence of Mrs. Friend, where he was placed on a couch. Dr. Griffin was called and at once saw the serious nature of the trouble. He had the embulance called and Mr. Bull was removed to his home, but passed away just as the ambulance stopped in front of his residence. Deceased spoke only a fe wwords while in the ambulance. He was not very often alone when out walking, as the memen alone when out walking, as the members of the family took great care lest something of the kind would happen. However, they were careful not to let him know of their fears, as it would

The Latest Fruit News

Grimsby, July 22.—Up to date this fruit season the average number of crates, which strawberries, raspberries, berries and currants, that have found their way out of the district comprising the Jordan, Beams ville, Grimsby and Winona localities, has been from 3,000 to 6,000 crates per day. The average num-ber of baskets runs about 4,000 daily. They include tomatoes, beans, peas, apples, currants, cherries and early peaches. This fruit has been distributed in all directions from Toronto to the sea, and as far west as Winnipeg. Prices altogether have been firm and, if anything, a little better for the grower, than last season. There is a fair probability of their remaining so in all lines. Growers are now well in on raspberries, which promise a good yield. The big end of the tomatoes come next, along with the Lawton berries, and the early peaches, a few of these having been shipped; then the harvest apples and harvest realized there is only one bad blot on the coming harvest in the fruit district, and that is the oat crop. It runs from bad to indifferent, and the yield and straw will hardly feature after the cutting. In some places the grain that is now heading out a few inches from the ground, and very sparsely at that, will hardly be worth running the binder through.

the lodges have been beneficiaries to the extent of $175 out of a total of $819 during the year in grants to indigent brethren. There were 290 applications for relief, and all granted.

The Board of General Purposes, through the Committee on Benevolence, reported on a number of grants to applicants. The semi-centennial fund amounted to the sum of $49,587 on the 31st day of May last, and returns since that date have brought the fund to over $53,000.

The Board recommends that lodges which have been formed since the inception of the semi-centennial fund in 1904 shall have the privilege of contributing in the same proportion as those who were members at that date, as they will in any event reap the benefit of that fund. The Bulgarians' Case Stands Until To-morrow.

The technicalities over the Chineses were straightened out this morning. Pong Sing was charged yesterday with the theft of $10 by Sam Sing. Sam said he gave Pong $25 to pay the rent, and Pong paid $15, but kept $10. After the adjournment yesterday Mr. A. M. Lewis, counsel for the defendant, made careful inquiries into the case and found that another Chinese, Chu Chong, was a friend of Pong's, and Chong knew the pros and cons of the whole affair; he also could speak English fluently. It finally transpired that Pong had been working for Sam, and Sam owed Pong working for Sam, and Sam owed Pong $10 for back wages, and when Sam gave Pong the $25 to pay the rent, Pong thought it was about the only chance he would have of getting the compensation for giving Sam his energy in labor. Crown Attorney Washington thought there was no intent to steal, so Pong was discharged. When he left the box Pong's little slant eyes lighted up with the gleam of victory. He affectionately greeted his Oriental friend Chu and poured out his appreciative eulogy in celestial eloquence. Chu told Mr. Lewis that if Pong was unable to pay the fees he, Chu Chong, could be counted on to pay them.
