SOCIALISM

We have given a two column space to our socialistic friend H. H. Stuart in answer to our few words

Apparently our correspondent has a different kind of a socialism from Cotton's Weekly, but he does not define it very distinctly.

We are a little surprised however, to hear that this gentleman, a disciple of Plato, Karl Marx, Ferdinand LaSalle, Ricardo, Babel and Liebknecht, quotes scripture to back up his doctrines.

Bebel "leaves Heaven to the angels and sparrows" and calls the very existence of God in question.

Henry George, great student of Socialism, and a long servant of its principles has said, "Modern Socialism is wit" religion and its tendency is Atheistic.

The home, woman, her position as to chastity, is made a subject of the ludicrous by Bebel, while christianity has sought to raise her to the high sphere she deserves, as mother, home maker, guardian of the youth, and innocence, and assistant of her husband.

Carl D. Thompson tells us that Socialism will secure an "emancipation from narrowness, dogmatism and cant" upon which ONLY any true religion can exist.

In 1871 Schall, one of the teachers of our modern apostle, wrote, "We open war against God, because He is the greatest evil of the world."

In 1875 Liebknecht wrote, "It is our duty as Socialists to root out the faith in God." Engels, another father of the faith, wrote, "We have simply done with God."

Through the courtesy of our local leader of the cult, we have several pamphlets and clippings, among which is the pamphlet published by Mr. Blatchford of London, England, and with the consistency of a true christian socialist, he starts his work with an appeal to read a certain chapter from the beautiful litany of the English church.

On his 18th page he remarks, "that every year 300,000 lives are sacrificed to the IGNORANCE and the injustice of the inhuman chaos which we call British civilization"; and then, after writing the following lovely doctrine: "That since HEREDITY and ENVIRONMENT "make one man amiable and another churlish, one generous and another mean, one faithful and another treacherous, one wise and another foolish, one strong and another weak, one vile and another pure, therefore the BISHOP and the HOOLIGAN, the POET and the BOOR, the IDIOT, the philosopher, the THIEF, the HERO, and the BRUTALIZED DRAB IN THE KENNEL, are all equal in the sight of God and of justice; and that every word of censure uttered by man is a word of error, growing out of IGNORANCE. He concludes with a "text from Scripture, "Judgment is mine, saith the Lord."

To say the least, through his whole work the word IGNORANCE is very prominent, and we note that all the disciples of this organization regard everybody, who do not hold their faith or non faith, as ignorant. It is very apparent they are writing and catering to ignorance.

Is it any wonder that our Great American Peace Poet Whittier wrote,

"Foul shame and scorn be on you all, Who turn the good to evil, Who steal the Bible from the Lord, And give it to the devil.

or that the good Lord told us, "That the blind and unstablest the Bible to their own perdition.

According to the above quotation from Blatchford, every judge or jury that condemns a criminal, or even censures him utters a word of error. By the same authority our British Empire, the heart of which is England, Scotland and Ireland, which has succeeded in resisting all foreign foes, taught the world how to fight, how to live and how to learn, the first of which boasts St. George, a Venerable Bede, Shakespear, Bacon, Dryden, Byron, Cowper, Thompson, Manning, Newman, and a meried galaxy of other bright stars of science, literature and progress; the second of which claims a Burns, Scott, Lady Nairn, and many others too numerous to mention; and the latter of which had colleges of literature and science 3000 years ago, which boasts a Columba, Elban, a Bridget, Moore and a host of other teachers of song, religion, oratory and philosophy; which like three valves of a great heart, while diseased for a time by internal strife, have become sufficiently healthy, to furnish the world with teachers, ministers, warriors statesmen, orators and scientists, and carry civilization to the wilds and christianity to the world, is termed "an inhuman chaos we call British civilization."

Our friend deals with the Drummond mine, and other local evils, which bear the foot prints of graft.

We are opposed to selling out the people's franchise for a bagatelle, whether iron, lumber, gas, oil, coal or land; but this is a matter of political economy, not Socialism; while the people want pay for votes, and journalists want pay for vindicating people's rights, we will have political chicanery.

Our Socialist friend would give full benefit for any labor, but if any industrious and frugal man happens to have a few dollars or a few acres of land when he dies, he would divide it among his children, and those of the never-do-well, since all must have equal opportunity.

How are we going to get capital if we don't allow it to accumulate by honest industry, arduous study, and careful calculation?

How are we to have industry without capital? Who will accumulate capital if he cannot have it? All the towns of the world, (even socialistic beer drinking Milwaukee, whose Mayor, in no very unmistakable terms says practically, "They are fighting Christianity," is looking for capital), was built by capital, and its socialistic inhabitants largely imported, are fed, clothed and educated by progressive, hard working, studious capitalists.

Where would the Rhodes scholarship be but for capital? We find we are devoting too much space to this absurd doctrine; but every phase of the thing seems to us disloyal, irreligious, hypocritical, and impossible.

San Francisco, with its shoe maker Mayor, Abe Raffe, his right hand man, and Pat Colhoun who ruled at the time of the earth quake had practically, though not nominally, a socialistic government; and they have been for several years fighting off their terms in the pen, with their ill-gotten gains; and it will only take time to develop who are the grafters. As to Australia give them ten years, and see the ideal land where all are equal.

THE BUSY EAST

Some weeks ago we published an article on the necessity of a magazine for the maritime provinces. We were not then aware that other thinkers loyal to their home provinces were preparing for such a move. We have pleasure in welcoming the first issue of "THE BUSY EAST" published by McAlpine Publishing Co., St. John, N. B. and edited by H. T. Guest, The Journal will be monthly and is artistically gotten up and nicely arranged as to type, headings and divisions. The editorials are strong and enthusiastic, and the paper should reach every home in eastern Canada. The articles from the various Boards of Trade, (among which we see a nice little write up from our own town, presumably from our Board of Trade secretary,) are brief, neat and pointed. Advertisers and readers of the maritime provinces will do well to give the Journal their full patronage.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR

For Methodist Women Who Have Been Active in Missionary Work.

The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the N. B. and P. E. I. branch of the Women's Methodist Society opened in St. John June 1st.

Mrs. W. W. Andrews was appointed to represent the W. M. S. at the annual conference to be held at Sackville in the third week of June.

Miss Alcorn, a returned Japanese missionary, and Miss Anna McLeod who will shortly go to China to engage in missionary work, were introduced to the meeting.

The reports of the district organizers all went to show that the society is in a very flourishing condition, both financially and in the number of members enrolled.

In the afternoon Mrs. P. S. Enman in her address stated that the total membership of this branch during the year was 2,509, an increase of 201 over the previous year. The total amount remitted by the society for its circles was $1,248 and for bands $1,961, a total of $3,209. Mrs. Coulthard, branch corresponding secretary, spoke on behalf of the auxiliaries and said that at present there were 97 in existence with a total annual membership of 2,126 and 257 life members. This shows an increase of 45 life members. The total number of members in the auxiliaries, circles and bands is 4,892.

The treasurer, Mrs. F. S. Williams, submitted her report, which showed that the total income of the society for the year was $11,077.66, the nite boxes $1,214.56 and the Easter offering $1,428.78. These amounts show a considerable increase over those last year.

On June 2nd, Miss Anna O. MacLeod read an interesting paper on the Italian Mission in Toronto. The Newcastle delegates in attendance were Misses Anna O. MacLeod and Lucy Lingley and Mesdames Leard and Follansbee.

EXHIBITS FROM EVERYWHERE.

Dominion Exhibition at St. John An Assured Success.

The Executive of the big Dominion Exhibition, to be held in St. John, N. B., September 5th to 15th next, decided upon two important matters when they abandoned the idea of changing floors, rent for exhibitor's spaces in their buildings, and decided also to pay all freight charges on western exhibits as far east as Montreal. These concessions to exhibitors have proved a veritable boon, and the wisdom of Manager Good's suggestion is already exemplified in a hearty response from all over the Dominion. Already applications have been received from manufacturing concerns in Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Hamilton and other points west, as well as from notable American establishments. It will be somewhat familiar and exceedingly interesting to come in close contact with the exhibits, personal representatives and demonstrators of goods which most eastern folks see advertised extensively in magazines and the national press. Aside from this, the national character of the exposition will bring with it a large number of displays usually seen at the official fairs of the Dominion Government, which distinction St. John will enjoy this year. Spurred to special effort because of these conditions, St. John, New Brunswick, and Maritime Provincial manufacturers and others are planning upon making extensive displays, and the St. John Board of Trade is putting forth a great deal of effort towards the same end. During the last few weeks prior to Dominion Exhibitions, a great number of smaller exhibitors entertainment promoters, exhibition "camp followers," etc., arrive on the scene and fill in all the available remaining space, thus rounding out a big show in every sense of the word.
