

Exceptional Value —IN— Girls' ALPACA COATS

As Spring creeps on and warm days make their influence felt, many mothers are concerned in getting Coats for their girls to meet the seasons requirements. We believe today we can suit you.

ALPACA COATS

for your Girls, in Navy, Grey, White and Brown.

PRICES FROM

$1.20 up to $2.50.

ACCORDING TO SIZE.

We are ready for the Girl who has not already purchased her Summer Coat.

S. MILLEY, Water Street.

ASTONISHING VALUES IN EMBROIDERIES —AND— Embroidery Insertions.

See our Skirt EMBROIDERY, 44 ins. wide, at $1.00 yd.

JOB LINES IN

Embroidery Skirt Flouncing, 26 ins. wide, at 33c. yd.

REGULAR BARGAIN VALUES.

A. & S. RODGER.

McManigal Enlarges on Confession.

Tells of Sixty-Five New Outrages.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 28.—The authorities here, notably District Attorney Fredericks, Captain of Detectives Paul Flammer, and Detective C. J. Smith, assistant to Wm. J. Burns, who brought about the arrest of the two McNamoras and Orrie E. McManigal, exhibited a triumphant attitude today as a result of what they say was a repetition of McManigal's confession made in Chicago last week, relative to the dynamiting of the Times building here last October, and to many other explosions which have occurred throughout the country.

Tells of Sixty-Five Attempts at Explosions.

In his new confession McManigal gave details of an astounding conspiracy of which he says John J. McNamara was the head, and in which he (McManigal) and John Bryce Mc-Namara destroyed, or attempted to destroy, sixty-nine structures, causing the death of 112 men.

In his confession McManigal named three Californians as having countenanced the Los Angeles dynamite plots. Two of the men reside in Southern California and one in San Francisco. The names of the men will be withheld until arrests are made.

McManigal said that John J. McNamara planned the conspiracy and paid the dynamiters. McManigal made no attempt to justify his own action. He did not express sorrow for his crimes. He only said that he would be the Harry Orchard at the coming trials of the McNamoras, and that he would then tell to all the world the plots and plans which seem almost too stupendous for belief or for comprehension.

McManigal was shackled when taken before the District Attorney, and during the three hours he spent there he made no complaint of the prison chains. He sat opposite District Attorney Fredericks and looked that official in the eye.

"McManigal you are charged with the crime of wrecking the Llewellyn Iron Works in this city on Christmas morning of last year," said Attorney Fredericks. "I am District Attorney here and I am not going to promise you immunity or hold out any promise of reward. I desire to talk with you in regard to that charge and others, and I want to inform you that all statements must be free and voluntary, and that they may be used against you."

To this McManigal replied, as he turned toward Charles Smith, of the Burns agency: "I will talk about it, and will tell nothing but the truth."

Why a Second Confession was Needed.

Previous to the alleged second confession of McManigal, O. M. Hilton, one of the attorneys for defence, put over a trick which worried the District Attorney somewhat. In the presence of the other attorneys for the suspects and of a couple of Union men, Hilton said to have secured a positive statement from McManigal that he had never confessed in Chicago. Immediately thereafter McManigal was closeted for three hours with officers of the prosecution, and Livermore, Ky., April 27.—Will Potter, a negro, was the central figure in a bloody drama staged here, when fifty citizens dragged him upon the stage, and after stringing him up riddled his body with bullets. He shot and killed Frank Mitchell, 22 years old (white), in a quarrel. What the pair quarrelled about is not known, but a pistol shot was heard and the negro was seen fleeing from the scene. Word spread rapidly that Mitchell had been killed and the citizens began searching for the black. He was captured by Marshal V. P. Stabler and placed in the city lockup.

Hearing the mob approaching, the marshal swore in half a dozen deputies and the prisoner was rushed to the local opera house, where he was hidden beneath a stage. A hurry message was sent to the sheriff, but before he arrived the mob had dragged the negro from his hiding place and carried him upon the stage. He was tied securely to one of the uprights, while the mob gathered in the orchestra pit below. A signal was given and fifty rifles and revolvers spoke, and the body was riddled with bullets. A few minutes later the mob stole quietly from the playhouse and the drama was over. The death of Mitchell was avenged. An investigation will be made by the coroner's jury, but in all probability there will not be sufficient evidence to prove that a single citizen of Livermore took part in the killing.

It was at the close of this long session that it was announced that he had furnished additional clues to several mysterious and fatal explosions that have occurred on structural iron jobs in past years.

The move of the attorney for the defence in getting a denial of his confession from McManigal is said to have been for the purpose of using it against him at the trial and of proving to the jury that McManigal is of the Harry Orchard type, so that his testimony will be completely discredited.

Got Two Hundred for the Job, He Says.

Robert Brain, under-sheriff of this county, who had charge of McManigal in the transcontinental trip, said the prisoner voluntarily confessed to him while on the train. According to Brain, McManigal brought up the subject the second day, out of Chicago, by asking what punishment would be given him if he were to turn State's evidence.

"I am not in a position to tell you," Brain says he told his prisoner. "Are you going to do it?"

"Yes," answered McManigal. "I'm going to tell."

"You know what you are charged with?" Brain says he enquired.

"Yes, I am charged with dynamiting the plant of the Llewellyn works."

"Did you do it?"

"Sure I did."

"What did you get for it?"

"Two hundred dollars," responded McManigal. "That is the price for all such jobs."

"Do you know Bryce?" was Brain's next question.

"Yes."

Then McManigal said he would stop talking, but added: "When I get out there I'll tell all about it."

J. J. McNamara Issues a Statement.

John J. McNamara, Secretary and Treasurer of the International Bridge and Structural Workers' Association, gave his first authorized statement as to his arrest to the Associated Press today. The statement follows: "To the Brotherhood of Organized Labor in California and the United States:

In this second attempt to crush and discredit the cause we represent, I fully realise the desperation of the enemies of labor arrayed against us, but I am of good heart, for it will fall.

That I am innocent of any infraction of the law in word or act needs no emphasis from me, for the truth is mighty and will prevail right speedily; and for it I shall contentedly wait.

I send to all brothers and friends of union labor the world over my earnest and affectionate greetings, with the assurance that there is no villainy or conspiracy possible of which we are afraid.

I am also confident that it is not asking too much of the public to suspend judgment in these matters until opportunity for a full and fair defence has been afforded.

(Sgd.) J. J. McNAMARA.

The defence of the alleged dynamite conspirators will be conducted henceforth on the theory that there is a "Harry Orchard problem" to be dealt with. This was the statement made by counsel for John J. McNamara.

John J. McNamara sent a despatch late today to his mother, Mrs. M. T. McNamara, of Cominsville, Ohio. It read:

"We are absolutely innocent. Confident of acquittal. Receiving every attention."

Lynching on Stage.

Negro Dragged to Theatre and Riddled With Bullets.

Livermore, Ky., April 27.—Will Potter, a negro, was the central figure in a bloody drama staged here, when fifty citizens dragged him upon the stage, and after stringing him up riddled his body with bullets. He shot and killed Frank Mitchell, 22 years old (white), in a quarrel. What the pair quarrelled about is not known, but a pistol shot was heard and the negro was seen fleeing from the scene. Word spread rapidly that Mitchell had been killed and the citizens began searching for the black. He was captured by Marshal V. P. Stabler and placed in the city lockup.

Hearing the mob approaching, the marshal swore in half a dozen deputies and the prisoner was rushed to the local opera house, where he was hidden beneath a stage. A hurry message was sent to the sheriff, but before he arrived the mob had dragged the negro from his hiding place and carried him upon the stage. He was tied securely to one of the uprights, while the mob gathered in the orchestra pit below. A signal was given and fifty rifles and revolvers spoke, and the body was riddled with bullets. A few minutes later the mob stole quietly from the playhouse and the drama was over. The death of Mitchell was avenged. An investigation will be made by the coroner's jury, but in all probability there will not be sufficient evidence to prove that a single citizen of Livermore took part in the killing.

New Vegetables,
Fresh Fruit, Fresh Poultry.

ELLIS & CO., LTD.,

203 Water Street.

Fresh New York Turkeys,
Fresh New York Chicken,
Fresh N. Y. Corned Beef.

NEW STRING BEANS.

American Cabbage,
California Celery,
Sweet Potatoes,
Fresh Tomatoes.

FRESH ASPARAGUS.

New Cucumbers,
Fresh Lettuce,
Egg Plant,
New Radishes.

NEW POTATOES.

New Parsnips,
New Carrots,
New Beetroots,
Scotch Potatoes.

NEW CUCUMBERS.

Ripe Bananas,
Navel Oranges,
Palermo Lemons,
Barlett Pears.

NEW RHUBARB.

Dessert Apples,
Grape Fruit,
Tangerines,
Valencia Oranges.

BUSINESS HOURS:

9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

LARACY'S

GROCERY DEPARTMENT

Is ready for Business

To-Day. Everything in

Canned Goods, Meats,

Flour, Butter and Sugar, etc., etc., at

LARACY'S

345 & 347 Water St., opp. Post Office.

THE WORLD RENOWNED

COPENHAGEN SNUFF

In 12-ct. Packages can now be had at

CASH'S TOBACCO STORE.

North Sydney COAL!

5th May, 1911.

Now Landing ex "Boethic"

CHOICE CARGO BEST

N. S. COAL.

M. MOREY & CO.

Office—Queen Street.

ANYONE, anywhere

can start a mail order business at home. No canvassing. Be your own boss. Send for free booklet. Tell J. W. Hazen, 21612 Lockport, N.Y. 21612

JOB PRINTING

Elephant Kills Trainer Before Horrified Crowd.

Dixon, Mo., April 29.—Hundreds of persons yesterday saw an infuriated elephant hurl its trainer into the air and then after crushing him with its weight, repeatedly pierce the body with its tusks.

The tragedy came while James Hildebrand, the trainer, was endeavoring to put the animal, which belonged to a Wild West Show, into a car. Hildebrand was adjusting the chains which bound the elephant to its mate. Without warning the elephant became enraged, and, wrapping its trunk around the trainer's body, lifted him in the air, then dashed him to the ground.

It is believed that he was killed instantly.

With its rage still unsatisfied, the elephant began kneading the trainer's body with its fore feet. Then it dragged the body thirty feet along the railroads in the yards, and repeatedly thrust its tusks into it.

Attaches of the show ran to the rescue with pitchforks, and drove the elephant from its victim.

Later it was shot. Hildebrand had been the trainer for years and frequently slept beside the elephant.

Electric Restorer for Men
Phosphonal restores every nerve in the body to its proper tension; restores vitality. Premature decay and all sexual weakness averted at once. Phosphonal will make you a new man. Price $3 a box, or two for $5. Mailed to any address. The Sobell Drug Co., St. Catharines, Ont.

Dog Saves a Child From Game Cock.

Omaha, Neb., April 27.—Forced against a fence and viciously attacked by a large gamecock, Bessie Savage, a 2 year old child, was saved from probable blinding and the rooster torn to death by the child's dog. The rescue and the killing occurred before the startled gaze of Bessie's mother and several neighbors.

A cry of pain and alarm from the child attracted the attention of Mrs. Savage and the other women while they were conversing on the rear porch. "Dona," a fine Scotch collie, darted from the group and raced to the aid of his little mistress just as the gamecock was pecking furiously at her eyes.

Seizing the rooster by the throat the dog shook, dragged and tore it around the yard until it was dead. In the midst of the attack the canine laid his victim down for an instant, and when it kicked feebly he fell upon it again and made sure of the death.

Burn Historic Mansion for Moving Picture Show.

Promoters Get Realistic Views of Fire, Rescue and Bucket Brigade Attempting to Quench the Flames.

New Rochelle, N. Y., April 27.—The historic Sicard mansion, built 250 years ago by a Huguenot family, and the scene of many festive meetings of aristocratic society in colonial days, is a mass of blackened ruins to-day. It was sacrificed to furnish a spectacle for the motion-picture film. The site of the house was recently purchased for a new Episcopal Church, and the old mansion, offered at auction, was bid in by a moving picture company. With the permission of the city authorities the company set fire to the house in order to obtain a series of realistic pictures of the rescue of a child, a village bucket brigade in action, and a mourning family viewing the ruins.

Lazy Husband Law Invoked.

Sacramento, Cal., April 27.—For refusing to work and furnish maintenance for his children, who have been placed in a local orphanage, Frank Young of this city, is the first "lazy husband" to be imprisoned under the new Stetson law. He has been placed in the County Jail and will be sentenced to a term of years by Juvenile Judge Hughes during which time he will be put to work on the county chain gang at a daily wage of $1.50, which money will be used for the support of the children.

As the Stetson law has been in effect but a week or so, this is the first instance where a lazy husband will be made to work. Under the law the supervisors must provide for the payment of $1.50 a day for such work and the Sheriff must see that he does the work.

For Lumbago and Rheumatism, SPRAINS, Etc.

Use Dodd's Liniment, for sale at W. COURTNEY'S, the Prescription Pharmacy, corner Duckworth and Prescott Sts., 25c. per bot. "It touches the spot!"—apr21,11

Evening Telegram Fashion Plates.

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Pattern Cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

8922—A Dainty Morning Jacket.

In this dainty model for a dressing sacque, the front, back and sleeve are cut in one piece. An unusually trim, neat appearance is given at the waist line by the fullness being gathered into a smoothly fitted peplum, finished by a belt of ribbon-run beading. The style is adaptable to such materials as lawn, batiste, dotted swiss, and cotton crepe. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: small, medium and large. The medium size requires 2 1/2 yards of 24 inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Suitable materials for any of these patterns can be procured from AYRE & SONS, Ltd. Samples on request. Mention pattern number. Mail orders promptly attended to.

8939—A NEW IDEA IN A PRACTICAL GARMENT.

Ladies' Shirt Waist Dressing Sack in High or Low Neck and with Long or Short Sleeve.

Dotted lawn was used for this model, which is appropriate for silk, flannel, and wash materials, such as lawn, dimity, and nainsook. The body portions show deep plaits over the shoulders, while over the centre tiny plaits or tucks are laid. The sleeves may be finished in full length, with a band or a shaped cuff, or in shorter length. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. It requires 4 1/2 yards of 27 inch material for the 36 inch size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

PATTERN COUPON.

Please send the above-mentioned pattern as per directions given below.

No.

Size.

Name.

Address in full:—

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

BROKE HIS LEG.—Last night as Mr. Jas. Power was descending the stairs at his residence, Hunt's Lane, Hoytestown, he slipped and fell over the steps, and his left leg turning under him was broken at the ankle. He suffered intense pain and a doctor being called ordered the man to Hospital, where he was taken at 8.30 last evening.