Apply to Treasurer.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Sir—Can you furnish me with the names of all those appointed by the Regatta Committee to collect money for this year's Regatta. Perhaps the Committee intend publishing a list of subscribers, and it would be only reasonable of the public to expect same.
Yours truly,

SUBSCRIBER.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 10th, 1912.
[We would suggest to "Subscriber" to make a personal application to the Treasurer, who would be glad, we are sure, to furnish him with the information he is seeking.—Ed.]

Here and There.

League Football, Brigade Division, Championship, St. George's Field, 6:30 this evening, M. G. B. vs. C. C. C.

TO LET.—The Duckworth Street flat of COLUMBUS HALL, suitable for offices or warerooms. Immediate possession if desired. Apply to FURLONG & CONROY.—July 27, 1912.

TO-NIGHT'S MATCH.—This evening's football match between the Cadets and Guards promises to be of exceptional interest. Should the present conditions of the weather exist the attendance will be the largest for the season.

TOBASCO HERE.—The S. S. Tobasco, Capt. Yeomans, reached port yesterday forenoon from Liverpool, after a passage of eight days. The ship was twelve miles off the Narrows on Saturday when she ran into a bank of fog which detained her. She brought 600 tons of cargo but no passengers.

CAPTAIN RE-INSTATED.—Capt. Emrie who was master of the Allan Liner Laurentian when she met disaster off Mistaken Point a few years ago, and who lost his certificate as a result, has just secured a command-er's ticket again and his many friends in St. John's will be pleased. He succeeds Capt. Hatherley in the Ontario which is now plying on the River Plate.

S. A. Congress.

A lecture in connection with the Annual Congress of the Salvation Army took place in the Methodist College Hall at three o'clock yesterday afternoon. There was a capacity audience and Colonel Mapp, who was introduced by the Chairman, Hon. S. D. Blandford, gave an interesting address on "The World Wide Work of the Salvation Army." He reviewed the work forty-seven years back from the time of General Booth down to the present. He stated that the work was laid on four platforms: (1) Religious; (2) Social; (3) Temperance; (4) Missionary. Since its inception he said the Army had gone into 59 countries, preached in 33 languages, had 17,000 officers, 8,000 corps, 22,000 bandmen, and 60,000 local officers.

At the close a hearty vote of thanks proposed by Rev. Mr. Thackeray and seconded by Mr. A. A. Parsons was accorded by acclamation.

SATURDAY'S MEETING.

The S. A. Citadel, on New Gower Street, was packed on Saturday night to welcome Colonel and Mrs. Mapp, who will conduct the Congress. Brigadier Moreham who had charge of the meeting introduced Col. Mapp and his wife. Adj. Hiscock, on behalf of the Army Officers here extended a welcome to the visitors. Col. Mapp replied suitably, referring to his former visit here and hoped that the Conference he was to carry on here would be successful.

FIVE ARRESTS.—The police had it fairly quiet Saturday night and only five arrests were made.

On Second Thought.

BY JAY E. HOUSE.

Meanwhile, the decision of a Kansas judge to the effect that a farmer is not necessarily an authority as to the mental condition of others, seems to be sound, if somewhat daring.

A man can get ready to go to New York in half an hour. But he needs two days in which to make his preparation for a fishing trip.

Generally speaking, the breakfast table is the duller place. Fred Collier wants to know the inevitable relation between the tipsy male quartette and the lugubrious song. We can trace it for him with pleasure. The man carrying a "souse" never laughs. He either cries or sings, and each manifestation proceeds from the same emotion.

The newspapers pay a good deal of attention to a murder case if there is a young and pretty woman concerned in it.

Governor Hadley believes every family should keep a cow. Sim Heekle is even further advanced along the line of progressive ideas. Sim believes that every family should also keep a bee.

A woman should start on her vacation trip before the peaches ripen, and she should stay away until the canning season is over.

The hammock has been generally superseded by the porch swing, and thus matrimony loses another of its most efficient assistants.

"I have been granted a parole good for three months," said Buck Kilby when he came to work yesterday. "My wife has gone to Indiana to spend the summer."

An Anthem to Order.

Lord Kitchener on one occasion invented a national anthem. It was upon the occasion of a visit to India of the Amir of Afghanistan, and the bands were to greet him with the national anthem of Afghanistan. But no one knew what it was, and Lord Kitchener was appealed to.

"What does it matter two straws?" he said. "Play a bar or two of something slow and pompous and let it go at that."

Farewell Service

OF Rev. J. Thackeray.

Yesterday farewell services were held at the Congregational Church, which bring to an end the 15 years pastorate of the Rev. J. Thackeray. At the morning service the Rev. gentleman dwelt on leadership in his sermon, taking as his text, "And he led them out as far as Bethany."

After the service, the members of the Deacons Board presented the retiring pastor with an address printed on white satin, and a handsome silver-mounted walking stick, nicely engraved. The presentation was made by Mr. James Warricker, and the address read by the Secretary of the Board, Mr. David Walker. Mr. Thackeray made a suitable reply.

ADDRESS OF DIACONATE.

To Rev. Joseph Thackeray, on the occasion of his leaving for Canada, after a pastorate of 15 years.

Reverend and Dear Sir,—The members of the Board of Deacons at present operating in Queen's Road Church, desire to tender their united and heartfelt expressions of regard and esteem on this the occasion of your leaving Newfoundland to labour in another portion of the Master's vineyard.

Most of us have been associated with you in the work of the Diaconate for several years, and all of us have been closely identified with general church work during your entire pastorate, and are, therefore, fully conscious of the many "ups and downs" in church life that have occurred during your ministry.

We are also deeply conscious of our many shortcomings, not only as members of the Diaconate, but as ordinary members of this Communion, but desire to assure you—our brother in the Master's work—of our sincere appreciation of the untiring zeal and devotion displayed by you in all matters pertaining to the spiritual and temporal uplifting of your charge in this Colony.

As members of the Diaconate, we shall miss your genial presence, guiding hand, and kindly counsel and advice at our future meetings, and whilst we deeply regret your departure from our shores, we wish to assure you of our united prayers for the temporal and spiritual welfare of yourself and family, as well as that of the Church to which you have been called, and finally, may "God be with us till we meet again."

Signed on behalf of the United Diaconate.

Yours in the work,

DAVID MARSHALL,

St. John's, Newfoundland,
August 11th, 1912.

EVENING SERVICE.

The evening service was largely attended, many members of other churches being present. In making the announcements of the week, Mr. Thackeray expressed his appreciation of the many kindnesses shown to him during his pastorate and the harmony which had prevailed between himself and all classes of the community. For his farewell sermon, he took for his text:—"And now, Brethren, I commend you to God and to the Word of His Grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them that are sanctified."

After the sermon, Miss MacKenzie sang the sacred solo from Gounod: "Heart that is weary."

After the regular service Mr. W. J. Barnes, Chairman of the Board of Management, presented Mr. Thackeray with an address and a purse of gold, in the name of the church and congregation, as a mark of their appreciation of his services during his pastorate. Mr. Thackeray replied and the congregation joined in singing, "God be with you till we meet again."

The Benediction brought to a close the pastorate of the rev. gentleman.

ADDRESS.

To the Rev. Joseph Thackeray, St. John's.

Reverend and Dear Sir,—As members of the church and congregation, we cannot allow the association of so many years to come to a termination without an expression of appreciation of your work in the Church over which you have so long presided.

Not only in this church, but throughout the city, and the island as well, your influence for good has been felt. In the work of Temperance and Moral Reform, the earnestness displayed by you is not alone matter of honourable record, but has been abundant in its uplifting of our people and to the individual.

Your sympathy, so generous and practical in its demonstration, has wrought happiness in many a home, where, so long as life shall remain, your name will be held in love and admiration.

In the new sphere of toil to which you go, you will carry the prayers and praise of many who during your ministry in this country, have realized that in you they have had a very true friend, and one whose heart has ever responded to the cry of the sad, the suffering and the sorrowing. That the wider life, on which you now enter, may bring to you that abounding happiness which ever increasing usefulness and the joy of achievement offer to those who devote their lives to the amelioration of humanity and human affairs, is the hope and prayer of those with whom you have been so long ministered during the past fifteen years.

As a slight token of appreciation of the valuable service to the Church rendered by you during your stay amongst us, we ask you to accept the accompanying gift, with the sincere wishes of the Church and Congregation for your future welfare.

BAND OF HOPE.

On Saturday afternoon the following address was presented to the Rev. Mr. Thackeray, from the Band of Hope. Accompanying it was a gold leather writing case, gold mounted, and beautifully engraved.

We are requested on behalf of the officers and members of our Band to express to you on the eve of your departure for another sphere of activity, our deep sense of regret at the loss of one who was not only the organizer, but who has all through been our President and adviser.

We would ask you to please accept the accompanying gift from the Band of Hope, and to assure you that we shall endeavour to carry on the work which you commenced, and which we feel has been, and will be lasting benefit to the young people of this city.

Yours very sincerely,

LILIAN COWAN,
Visiting Secretary.
BARBARA LANGMEAD,
Treasurer.
EDITH A. BARNES,
Secretary.

Backs "Bayman."

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—I was glad to read the note of "Bayman" in your morning contemporary to-day, and would like to add a line in support of his request, that the Reid Nfld. Co. issue excursion rates from Tuesday to Thursday of this week. Harbor Grace is a very large contributor to the Company in the way of freight and passenger traffic, and every inducement ought to be given to attract visitors to the town on its one great "Derby" Day.

Trusting that the R. N. Co. may be able to see its way clear to grant this privilege to the public without serious loss to themselves.

I remain your truly,

ANOTHER BAYMAN.
St. John's, Aug. 12, 1912.

Wedding Results in Assault Case.

Victim in Hospital.

A wedding took place at Bay Bulls on Friday night last and while the festivities were being kept up an assault case occurred. The victim is Patrick Scott who was beaten so badly that he had one of his legs broken while his arms and back were badly bruised and showed signs of ill-treatment. Scott came here by motor boat Saturday afternoon and was brought to the General Hospital in the ambulance where he is being attended to. His alleged aggressors—two men—have been summoned and will be tried today at Bay Bulls by the local justice of the peace. Mr. W. J. Higgins left town by car late last night to defend the accused.

Booth Co. in Newfoundland.

Canadian even more than Newfoundland fishing interests are watching closely the fishing experiments being carried on by the Booth Fisheries Co. in Newfoundland waters just now. It is understood the big concern has set aside $25,000 for these experiments. The company is using three fishing vessels, the Elva L. Spurling, a gasoline power craft; the Edward Black and the Ida Campbell. The Spurling has cruised the Banks from Ramea to Port au Port, seeking cod and halibut; the Edward Black direct from Portland recently, was sent to Bonne Bay and further north on a similar quest, and the Campbell is at Bay of Islands gill net fishing.

A. W. Piccott, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, recently returned from a visit to the Booth fishing fleet. He is eager, it is said, to see the operations of the Booth concern extended to Nova Scotia waters. The Spurling landed her catch of halibut in cold storage cars to Boston, Mass. It is probable another month of experimenting will be required, according to Minister Piccott, before the company reaches a decision about continuing fishing in these waters on a large scale. Capt. O'Neill, master of the Spurling, is said to have fished halibut in 15 fathoms of water at Port au Port with a headline from the ship's deck, and brought up specimens weighing 250 pounds. One of the sailors from a dory by the ship's side also caught halibut equally as large.—N. Y. Fishing Gazette, Aug. 3.

A Boundary Question.

Now that Ungava has fallen to Quebec, the long unsettled question of the boundary between Canada and Newfoundland has to be faced. Boundary questions are generally historical—have to be determined by the interpretation of past conventions. In so far as that is the case, the obvious means of settlement is an impartial court of adjudication. We do not know that in this case there is much historical material to work upon. If that is lacking, the settlement will have to be one of mutual agreement, and we should advise generosity on the part of Canada and Quebec. We should not, indeed, have objected if there had been no such boundary to settle. If Ungava had been given to Newfoundland as a marriage jointure to get that Province into the Dominion, the Province of Quebec would not have been a whit the poorer. Indeed we would have been, for a good while at least, better off. All the coast and inland conditions of the Labrador Peninsula are far more of a piece with Newfoundland than with Quebec and under the arrangement suggested it would have been Newfoundland, not Quebec, that would have had to penetrate it with railways. Doubtless, politicians will think it very silly to call that an advance. What can be better for a government than the building of a railway? Whether it is built by the government itself or by a company, the possibilities of patronage and of consequent political support are very great. What government would not want a railway to build? True, but we are not thinking of governments but of the taxpayers. Except as a place to spend money in, Ungava will be of small use to anybody for a good while. The love of possession is, however, great. Newfoundland which has a population about half of that of Montreal, and an area small, compared with that of most of the provinces, might look upon union with Canada as accepting a very subordinate place. The accession of this big territory would have been something of temptation. However, that opportunity is past.—Montreal Witness.

Tit For Tat.

Lord Charles Beresford whose letters to the newspapers on the subject of our Naval supremacy have again caused a good deal of discussion, has been described as being the typical British sailor, both in manner and appearance. He once delivered an important political speech at York, and at the close of the meeting a well-known politician, notorious for having changed political sides repeatedly, came to congratulate him. "That was an admirable speech, Beresford," he said effusively. "Capital! I didn't think you could do it." "You flatter me," said Lord Charles coldly. "Not a bit," was the reply. "And the extraordinary thing is that you don't look a bit like a politician, you know."

"No, nor do you look like a weather cock," retorted Lord Charles bluntly.

Another Case of Infanticide.

Another case of infanticide has been brought to light in which an infant child was found buried in a graveyard without anyone's knowledge of its being there. Yesterday the police arrested a young woman as a suspect. The prisoner has not been asked to plead to the charge and is remanded pending evidence.

REGATTA COMMITTEE MEETS.—A meeting of the Regatta Committee will be held in Wood's West End Restaurant to-night when some important business will be disposed of.

FOR ERNA.—Some young ladies and gentlemen will proceed to Harbor Grace and Carboner next week to give a concert and theatricals for the benefit of the Marine Disaster Fund.
