THE GLOBE AND FOREIGN OFFICE

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Describing Britain's "diplomatic failure" in the Balkans as "ghastly," the Globe declares that the foreign relations of the country cannot safely be left in the hands of the foreign office, as it is at present constituted. "It's record," says the Globe, "has been one of dismal, tragic weakness. It is a misfortune that Sir Edward Grey speaks no language but his own. It is a greater misfortune that he has been incapacitated through ill health. It is the greatest of all, that his permanent under-secretary, upon whom he must chiefly depend, is sprung from a German mother and married to a German woman. If failure is not to culminate in disaster, the ill-omened partnership must be ended."

RECEIVE PASSPORTS.

SOFIA, Oct. 8.

The ministers representing the Entente Powers, asked for their passports last night. The Italian minister joined with the French, British and Russian representatives in this action, although he handed no note to the Bulgarian Government. The Belgian and Serbian ministers applied for and received their passports this morning. The Dutch minister has taken charge of the interests of the allied powers.

RUMORS WITHOUT FOUNDATION.

ATHENS, Oct. 8.

The Official News Agency announced to-day that there was no foundation for the rumors circulated in some quarters, that the new Greek cabinet intended to protest against the landing of allied troops on Greek soil.

THE AERIAL ARMY.

PARIS, Oct. 8.

The aerial army is no longer a dream of romance. Such an army, formed of divisions and squadrons, with battle aeroplanes, cruiser aeroplanes, scout cruisers, and torpedo planes, all armoured heavily, and carrying three inch cannon and rapid fire guns, is a reality. It has been made possible through remarkable development in military aviation in France. The French Government to-day permitted the first inspection of its new fleet of aeroplanes. The opportunity was given to inspect large and small types of new battle planes.

GREECE'S POLICY UNDECIDED.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Premier Zaimis, of Greece, informed British, French, Russian and Italian ministers to-day, that he could not define the Government's policy until after a meeting of the cabinet. A Reuter despatch from Athens says: "It is understood the Government proposes following purely the hellenic policy, without leaning either way, and that it will not abandon armed neutrality unless high national interests compel it to take such a step."

DONATES HOSPITAL MOTOR CARS

LONDON, Oct. 8.

General Booth has decided to transfer to the Russian Government five hospital motor cars, donated by Canada. These have been accepted by a special letter from the Czar, who is sending a messenger to receive them.

OPINION OF A GREEK.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

A well-informed Greek, representing moderate Greek thought, expressed the opinion to-day that the coalition cabinet of Greece means to do nothing. The cabinet, a combination of half a dozen parties, usually avoids any aggressive movement that could offend any section. He believes Venizelos is strong enough to destroy the government, but that he is unlikely to take this course. This man repudiated the idea of the King being pro-German, declaring he was only inspired by what he believed to be the national interests.

FRENCH PROGRESS.

PARIS, Oct. 8.

Gaining a foothold on German positions, and the capture of several trenches and two blockhouses in Champagne, is recorded in the French official communication made public to-night.

LONDON BUDGET.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

The efforts of Austria and Germany to force their way through Serbia, to reach near eastern seas and join hands with the Turkish allies, has produced a most interesting situation in the war. The Austro-German troops already have gained a footing in Serbian territory, and the advance guard who crossed the Danube at Belgrade has been partly destroyed and partly captured. The Anglo-French force which was landed at Salonika, is making its way northward to assist the Serbs and protect Macedonia from the threatened Bulgarian invasion. The press and public of London and Paris, with the experience in the sudden change of Bulgaria's attitude fresh in their memory, are demanding that steps be taken to see to it that a similar change does not take place at Athens. It has been suggested that the appearance of the allied fleet in Greek waters, would have the effect of holding Greece in line. Allied fleets are already reported off Bulgarian ports in the Aegean and Black Seas, and in view of the possibility of Russians landing on the Black Sea coast of Bulgaria, it is stated a Turkish army is being sent there, so that the Bulgars will not be called upon to fight their old friends and protectors. What assistance Italy will lend the allies in the new venture forced upon them in the Balkans, is not disclosed, nor has any change in the policy of Roumania been announced.

The German press suggests that the Allies, despite the landing of troops at Salonika, are preparing for more energetic operations against Turkey in the hope of smashing her before Germanic assistance arrives, and that Italy may take part in these operations. There are still three months of good weather ahead for any new move against the Dardanelles, or for operations in other parts of the Aegean district, and while the Russians under Grand Duke Nicholas are expected to force matters in the Caucasus the British will push along to Bagdad. The renewed offensive by the allies on the western front has not yet materialized, the recent French attacks in Champagne and Artois apparently having been simply local attempts to capture points of vantage, which brought about furious German counter-attacks. This is notably true of the attack against Hill Tahure, which has been almost continuously under German fire since its capture by the French.

The German mercantile marine in the Baltic is beginning to feel the effect of submarine warfare there. Virtually all German shipping in that quarter is being held up by British and Russian underwater craft, and ferry services between Germany and Scandinavia are being carried on by neutral vessels.

GERMANS HEAVY LOSSES.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

The advance guard of the Austro-Germans who crossed the Danube near Belgrade, have been partly destroyed and partly captured, and those who entered Serbian territory across the Save have met with enormous losses, according to an official despatch received to-night by the Serbian Legation from Nish. The despatch says:

"On the northern frontier the enemy crossed the Save at Varak, Isle of Progarska, at Zabrez opposite Ostrusnitza, and Isle of Ciganlia, and on the Danube at Belgrade fortress, and at the quay and at Ram.

"The advance guard which crossed the Belgrade fortress has been partly destroyed and partly captured.

"At Varak, Zabres and Isle of Progarska, after several fierce attacks, the enemy has been pinned to the very brink of the river, with enormous losses. At other crossing points the struggle continues.

"At Belgrade two officers and over one hundred soldiers were captured, of whom eighteen were from the 204th infantry regiment of the 43rd German division. Among the captured were also soldiers of the Prussian Brigade belonging to the 15th Army Corps, who came here from the Italian front."

An Appeal That Rings Out Clearly.

Editor Evening Telegram:

Dear Sir,—I have been requested by the Women's Patriotic Association, of which I have the honour of being Treasurer, to place before the public, the present financial condition of the Association, and the pressing need for further funds, if its work is to continue.

We began this autumn with a balance of $2,370, and contributions to the amount of $3,150 have come in since then. These sums will be expended within the next few days, and almost entirely in supplying flannel and wool for comforts for Our Own Regiment now fighting at the Dardanelles, for the Contingent at Ayr, and for those who are lying wounded in Hospital.

We are sure no Newfoundlanders would like to feel that any of Our Own boys, who with courage and loyalty have gone forth to do their duty, should be lacking in comforts, and it is to us alone, here at home, that they can look for these.

This appeal is directed mainly to those of moderate and small means, who can contribute from a dollar upwards, and as they constitute the larger number of our population, it is to the patriotic co-operation and help of these that we now appeal to swell our fund so that it may meet all the requirements for the coming year.

The Association is confident that it is only necesary to draw the attention of the public to the need of contributing to this fund, to obtain that generous response with which it has met every call made upon it since the War began.

Yours truly,
KATHERINE EMERSON,
Hon. Treasurer W. P. A.

Old Perlican Notes.

The Prospero arrived here from St. John's on Friday, but there were very few passengers arrived by her.

Last week the people of this place were well pleased when they saw the "Iron Horse" coming around the hills, but they seem to have lost that spirit again now, on account of her long absence of late. We are hoping she will hurry up and come down, as it makes one feel pleasant to see her.

Thursday being the first fine day for a long time, the water side was very busy, both the men and women could be seen on the flakes preparing their fish for shipment. Five of our schooners succeeded in getting a full freight for the city, and it relieved the fishermen a great deal by taking away their dry fish.

The S. S. Ethie arrived here early this morning, and had a pleasant time landing her passengers and freight. Quite a number of our young ladies took passage by her this morning en route to Boston. Some of these ladies had been to Boston before and had been down this summer to see their friends, while others are going away for the first time, and are starting upon a new career.

Death has been paying us visits of late. A short time ago it took from our midst a man named James Beckett. He had been sick for quite a while, and I think he had reached the allotted age of man.

On Sunday evening it again appeared and took away a young unmarried man named Avalon Strong. He had been suffering for a long time from that dreaded disease consumption. His funeral took place to-day, and on account of the minister's absence he was buried by one of our leading churchmen, Simeon J. March.

Off For the "Virgins."

Capt. Tom Hollett's banker, which arrived yesterday from the Labrador, has a supply of salted clams on board and will use up that baiting near the Virgin Rocks, for which place she will leave this evening. By the time his baiting is exhausted Capt. Hollett is confident that his season's voyage will exceed 5,000 qtls. of cod.

Rally Day at Cochrane St. School.

The scholars of Cochrane St. Sunday school are reminded of the Rally Day service to be held in the College Hall to-morrow afternoon. It is important that every scholar be present—come and bring a friend with you. The programme promises to be one of an interesting character. At the evening service, the Pastor, the Rev. C. A. Whitemarsh, M.A., takes as his theme, "Our youth an asset or a liability, which?" All are welcome, a special invitation is extended to the parents. Mr. Whitemarsh takes a special interest in the young people and we are sure the above services will be largely attended.

THE EXPATRIATES.

Your own country you've renounced, Henry James; it with language you have trounced, Henry James; you have handed out a slam to your good old Uncle Sam, and we do not care a picayune, Henry James. You and old Jack Johnsing, both, Henry James, swore a great and mighty oath, Henry James, to abjure your native land; it was ostracised and banned, by the pair of you, self-canned, Henry James. It is sad, and yet a joke, Henry James, that the Author and the Smoke, Henry James, should line up on foreign shores, there to shut and bolt the doors—what a brace of two-by-fours, Henry James! We have lost our Hank and Jack, Henry James, and we hope you won't come back, Henry James; you have snubbed us prety hard, soaked us one beneath the guard, and we turn you down, old pard, Henry James. You and Johnsing may abide, Henry Jim, far across the raging tide, Henry Jim, roaming Europe hand in hand, while this desolated land goes ahead to beat the band, Henry Jim!

"Enquirer" Asks for Explanation.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—In reading over the casualty list published in your paper on Thursday last, I noticed 796 Private Harold Butler, Burin, wounded, and in reading over the same list in yesterday morning's 'News' I find it reads 976. Now as I know and correspond with another Private who is is at present quartered at Newton Park School, Newton-on-Ayr, Scotland, bearing the same number 976, I would like to ask which is right, as I don't think it is possible for two Privates to carry the same number from the Nfld. Regiment, and besides it will cause confusion between the parties who will be concerned in their relatives.

Trusting you will set me right in this matter,

I remain,
Yours sincerely,
ENQUIRER.

St. John's, Oct. 9, 1915.

[On enquiry from the Colonial Secretary, we are informed that Private Harold Butler's number is 796.—Ed.]
