Forty-Six Years in the Service of the Public—The Evening Telegram

Harbor Grace Notes

The death of Mr. Ernest Godden, son of the late Joseph Godden, occurred at his home, Water Street, on Monday morning. Although deceased had been ill for some months past, it was not expected that the end would come so soon. He had been suffering from an internal malady and went to St. John's in the spring to the hospital where he received treatment. Since returning he gradually weakened, being confined to his home for several weeks past. He carried on business here with his brother, Charles, known as the firm of C. & E. Godden, and had reached the age of 59 years. The late Mr. Godden was of a quiet and unassuming demeanour, and a worthy citizen, whose passing is regretted. Besides his brother Charles, there is left to mourn his demise, one sister, Mrs. W. O. Wood, of St. John's, to whom we extend our sympathy in their hour of sorrow. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon at Christ Church and was largely attended. Interment was made in the Church of England Cemetery, Rev. G. Templeton officiating.

The friends here of Mr. Thomas Walsh, Riverhead, were surprised to learn of his almost sudden passing on Tuesday night. He had been about town on Monday, but was stricken with paralysis the following morning, and passed away a few hours later. Mr. Walsh was an enterprising business man, having conducted a grocery and provision shop at Riverhead and dealt also in the coal trade. The passing of Mr. Walsh means a loss to the town, and to the community in which he lived. He was widely known and highly respected, and his familiar form will be greatly missed. To the so suddenly bereaved wife and son, Patrick J., and all relatives and friends we extend deepest sympathy in their sad loss. The funeral will be held on Thursday, and interment made in the R. C. Cemetery—R.I.P.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, who passed away at the residence of her son, George, with whom she had lived, took place on Sunday, and she was laid to rest in the Church of England Cemetery. Mrs. Davis had reached an advanced age in life. Left to mourn are two daughters residing in the city, Mrs. Eugene Taylor and Mrs. Geo. Rowe, also a sister, Mrs. Wm. Lampen, two daughters living in the U.S.A., and one son, Mr. George Davis, cabman, of this town (and above mentioned), to all of whom we offer condolence.

Mrs. J. J. Norris and family arrived here last week from the city on a visit to her father, Mr. John Stapleton.

Miss Rita Parsons left here by Monday morning's train for Bay Roberts to resume teaching at the Methodist school there, after spending the holidays with her mother, Mrs. R. S. Parsons.

The various day schools will re-open again after the summer vacation on Monday next, Sept. 7th. We trust that the teachers and pupils have been greatly benefitted by the let-up from study, and will return to their tasks with renewed vigor.

The Sunday school of the United Church held their picnic at 'Connell's Farm, on Wednesday last. Races were gone through by the children and the usual outdoor games indulged in until the evening. At 5 o'clock tea was served in the open. The weather was ideal, and all present thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

The Salvation Army held their picnic in Mr. C. Kennedy's field, Bear's Cove, this afternoon—Wednesday. Tea was served in the field and games were played. They were favored with perfect weather, and the affair proved most enjoyable for the goodly number attending.

Miss Lizzie Griffin, of Mr. J. Max Cron's employ, who is on her holidays, left on Thursday last for Conception Harbor, to spend the remainder of her vacation with her parents there.

Capt. Campbell, S.A., who had been visiting his home, Little Bay Islands, for the past month, is now back to town again, having had a very pleasant visit.

Mrs. (Dr.) Prounier and infant son, who had been spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Pugh, returned again by Thursday morning's train to Lamin, after a pleasant stay at home.

Mr. Jack Tobin, Mtd. Govt. Railway Agent, Corner Brook, after spending his vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Tobin, returned again by Thursday morning's train.

The many friends of Mr. H. F. Shortis were pleased to see him this way recently and to renew acquaintance, and to find him looking so well. We trust to see him back this way again in the not far distant fu-

Harkins Company

Frederick Neilson is a member of the W. S. Harkins Company, which opens a short season at the Casino Theatre, Monday, Sept. 14, in "The Acquittal." Mr. Neilson was born in Australia, in 1888 and began his professional career at the age of 18. His rise to the top was rapid as he early evinced unusual histrionic ability. One of his hobbies is travel, and in his touring of the world he has acted in eleven different countries. He arrived in the United States three years ago and his ability was soon recognized there, with the result that he was given the part of the Dean of Stars in the Gales worthy play "The Mob," which had a run of thirty-two weeks on Broadway. Last season he was with "The Goose Hangs High" and earned high praise from the New York press. The sale of seats for the Harkins Company opens at F. V. Chesman's, Water Street, Thursday.

Grandpa's Bones as Radio Weather Prophets

One of the mysterious things about the human body, says Dr. E. E. Free, Science Editor of The Forum, in the current issue of that magazine, is the remarkable "weather sense" exhibited by some people. Many an old gentleman who carries around a rheumatic joint or an old and long-healed wound can really predict some features of the weather, hours or even days in advance. Grandpa's rheumatism really seems to do quite as well as the official weather prophets with all their laboratories and observatories. There are too many instances of this sort for the matter to be entirely imaginary, even when one takes into account the proneness of the human mind to exaggerate a few successful coincidences into a general law.

There are some scientific possibilities, Dr. Free declares, which may lie at the bottom of this mysterious advance knowledge of coming storms. One is the existence of electromagnetic waves quite like radio waves. If a storm is electric in nature, if it is accompanied, for example, by thunder and lightning, it really sends out signals in advance in the form of these radio-like waves. One of the larger electric power companies in New York City has devised an instrument which will detect these storm waves in advance and ring a bell in the power house, so that the engineer knows that a storm is coming up. This information is valuable because storms darken the city, more artificial light is needed and the power house must prepare for the increased load.

It may be that some similar detection of radio waves by the tissues of the body lies at the root of the effect of coming weather on rheumatic individuals. On the other hand, the "weather sense" may be due to unconscious perception of some other obscure difference in the air or in the electric or magnetic condition of the earth's surface or the clouds. It is known that such differences exist; for example, the differences from day to day in the electric charges on the air particles, what the scientists call the "ionization" of the air.

Some basic scientific work is being done and is in prospect on these problems, says Dr. Free. It will soon be possible, he hopes, to determine whether the supposed detective powers of grandpa's rheumatism are real and are due to some of these suggested electromagnetic conditions, or whether they are merely imaginary.

'Neath the Summer Moon

IN THE FLOWER-SCENTED DARKNESS HE TOLD HER THE AGE-OLD STORY OF LOVE.

They sat alone together on the broad terrace, and the cool evening air was fragrant with the scent of many flowers. A wonderful moon was above them, and his pale rays bathed the girl's upturned face in a mellow, golden light that showed the beauty of her features to advantage.

The young man at her side gazed long and passionately at her, then began to pour out words of rapturous love and longing. The girl listened silently for a minute, then closed her eyes as if to enjoy more fully the wonder and romance of it all.

"I adore you, my dearest!" said the enamoured young man. "I worship your beauty and charm! Never have I seen anyone so truly fascinating, so angelic!"

Her eyes remained closed. After a few more words the young man bent forward and very softly touched the girl's lips with his own.

His Wrecked Romance.

The girl said not a word, but her breath came in short tense gasps. For a few moments the enraptured youth gazed at her calm, lovely features, then once more he spoke:

"My beloved, I cannot live without you! I want to make you happy forever, my flower! I want you to share your life with me, my fairy queen!"

And again he bent forward and kissed her gently.

"You are the delight of my existence!" he went on after a pause. "Speak, my sweetest! Why don't you let me hear your divine voice?"

But the girl could not answer. She was not overcome with emotion. She was asleep, and had been sleeping for nearly five minutes.
