—Complete arrangements have been made for the Masonic celebration of the festival of St. John the Baptist on Sunday next, June 28. The service will be held in St. Paul's Cathedral, Dean Innes, assisted by the local clergy, officiating, while the sermon will be preached by the M. W., the Rev. Canon O'Meara, P.C. M. of the Grand Lodge of Manitoba. The committee having in charge the arrangements is composed of oulton Ladies' College.

Moulton Ladies' College.

Moulton Ladies' College has just closed another and its most successful year. The graduating exercises took place on Tuesday evening at the college, Bloor street east, Toronto. There was a very promising class of graduates, and a delightful programme of music was provided. The exhibit of art showed a wide range of work. There were exhibits of modeling in clay, decorative art, in the line of China painting, pen and ink figures and sketches, and nuch work taken from life and nature. McMaster University is to be congratulated heartily on this most successful department of its work. Moulton College stands to the forefront among the ladies' colleges.

Funeral of the Late J. C. Chadwick.

The funeral of the late J. C. Chadwick took place Monday afternoon at Guelph to St. George's Church. The cortege was very large. The council was present in a body in carriages, including quite a number of intimate friends of the deceased throughout the counties of Wellington and Waterloo, and from London, Toronto and other cities. The majority of the leading citizens were also present. The coffin was heaped with beautiful floral offerings. The remains were reserved at the church door by Ven. Archdeacon Dixon, rector; Rural Dean Belt, pastor of St. James' parish; his pastor and Curste Seaborn, of St. George's, who conducted the usual burial services of the English Church. There were ten pall-bearners. Many Childian and Col Mandouls.

Concert by the Children.

Dundas Street Center Methodist Church is noted for its musical proficiency. In addition to a model choir the talent of the Sunday school children has been developed. Monday night, theoccasion of the anniversary concert, about 400 of the little ones rendered choruses, assisted by the choir, in a manner that evidenced training and aptness. They were stationed on an elevated platform, the white dresses of the girls having a pretty effect. W. Lewis was the director, Miss Slaght took charge of the kindergarten exercises and Misses Dempsey and Laird managed the elocutionary portion of the programme. W. J. Birks was the organist. A large audience was delighted with the entertainment and was not slow to show appreciation. The anthem, "God Is Love," was the opening number, given with expression and correctness. Following was the remainder of the programme: Chorus, "There Are Little Crowns in Heaven;" recitations, Mable Legg and John S. Nelles; kindergarten song, "The Millwheel," by the boys; solo, "Farewell to the Farm," George Halls; violin solo, Flossic Case; trio, "Love, Faith and Hope," Edith Greenway, Jessie Cole and Minnie Hooper; anthem, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is;" recitations, Annie Cox and 'Lillie Smith; solo, "The Sun's Travels," May Graham; trio, "Wake the Song," Lily Hunt, Pearl and May Noble; kindergarten song, girls, "Lovely June"; solo, "The Children's Redtime," Willie Bradford; trio, "The World is Full of Beauty," Eddie Robertson, Norman Chapman and Norman Beal; recitations, John S. Nelles, Ethel Allaster and Norman Chapman in Morman Beal; recitation, Lucy McMechan, Willie Clark. Rev. A. C. Courtice presided. concert by the Children.
