MANY MINERS WERE KILLED

Terrible Mine Disaster at Lost Creek, Iowa.

Twenty-One Bodies Taken Out of the Pit Where a Dust Explosion Took Place—Fatalities at Belleville and Elsewhere.

Oskaloosa, Iowa, Jan. 24.—As the result of a terrible mine disaster at Lost Creek this afternoon, twenty-one dead are in an improvised morgue and eight injured are in a temporary hospital.
At noon hour what is known as a "dust explosion" took place. The miners had just fired their usual noon shots, one of which proved to be a fixzle. The burning powder ignited the gas and the explosion followed. Smoke and debris were blown out of the shaft 200 feet high. Part of the top works was blown away, and the fans and cages were partially wrecked.

The dead and injured were found terribly burned and mutilated.
Fire broke out, but the flames were finally controlled and after some of the rescuers had succumbed all the dead were carried to the top of the shaft. At the time of the explosion more than a hundred men were in the mines, but all of them, except those in the east entry, escaped with only slight injury. Nearly all the miners were married and leave families in poor circumstances.

CHOPPER KILLED.
Wabikon, Ont., Jan. 25.—C. H.
Brown, about 20 years old, was killed by a falling tree at the farm of Irvin's The Carvers, near Dymen, Thursday, a tree which he was chopping striking him on the head.
Up to Friday last Brown was employed at the Cosmopolitan Hotel, Winnipeg.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.
Belleville, Ont., Jan. 25.—James Bateman, an old resident, was struck by a train while walking on the Grand Trunk track, and instantly killed. Bateman was over 60 years of age, and was very deaf.

KILLED IN A WELL.
Grafton, Ont., Jan. 25.—While digging a well near here, a boy, Alexander, met with an accident which resulted fatally. He was down about 70 feet, and had fastened a chain to the ordinary cable reel, and while he was at the man at the windlass was winding up a bucket of earth the chain broke, and the bucket and contents fell fifteen feet, striking Mr. Alexander on the head.
He died in an hour after being taken out.

SHOVELLED SNOW AND DIED.
Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Major Samuel H. Leavitt, aged 59, after shoveling snow from his walk in front of his house on Howard street, yesterday, walked into the house, sat down, and expired within three minutes. Mr. Leavitt was prominent in G.
A. R. circles.

COLD WEATHER HELP TO TRADE.

Though the Snow Blockade Caused a Slight Check.

Great Activity in Montreal, Hamilton and Winnipeg—Good Reports From Across the Border.

Toronto, Jan. 25.—Bradstreet's trade review of the week says: Wholesale trade at Montreal this week has been quiet, but the steady cold weather and good sleighing. Travelers are sending in some nice orders for the spring, and expectations are high. They are reporting a very encouraging outlook for the coming season. Payments have been fair, but from the Northwest they have not been as good as might be expected owing to the large wheat crop in that part of the country. The scarcity of cars to move the crop has prevented an expansion of money in the Northwest, which was expected long before this.

There has been some interruption in wholesale business at Toronto this week, owing to the heavy snow storms.
There has, however, been a good deal of business booked for the spring and the prospects for immediate business in such lines are cheerful.

Trade at Hamilton this week has been active, notwithstanding the drab-biness naturally to be expected as a result of the snow blockade. Travelers have been sending in good-sized orders for the spring goods.
Winnipeg trade has been showing a steady development the past week. The grain blockade is still a drawback to the expansion of business, but retailers are delighted with the general prospects for business and are looking for a larger demand for general goods the coming spring than ever before.

IN THE UNITED STATES.

New York, Jan. 24.—Dun's review says: Little of a novel nature has developed in the business or financial situation during the past week. Retail trade is of large volume, and jobbers have a great number of spring orders to fill. Western cities send the most active returns, but nearly all sections are enjoying wholesome activity. Wages were voluntarily advanced at a number of manufacturing plants, hours reduced at others, and aside from the teamsters' strike at Boston, there were few labor controversies, while skilled workmen are in greater demand than the supply. With gratifying persistence railway earnings continue to grow, for January, thus far showing an advance of 10 per cent over last year and 20.5 per cent over 1900. Conditions in the iron and steel industry are shown by record-breaking production of 1,472,394 tons in December, 1921, and 1,424,815 in January, 1922, a total of 2,897,209 tons for the first two months of 1922.

Monks, Hermisides Theberge, of St.
Marcel, in Richelieu county, Quebec, had for many months been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia. He was so bad that he could not eat anything, not even the lightest food, without great pain and distress. He tried to confine himself to the simplest diet, but it was in vain for him to think of escape from the enemy. He always suffered, but very little, and that with much misgiving, till his fasting had reduced his strength very much.

He used many medicines, but got no better until he commenced a treatment of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and these very soon gave him relief. Slowly but surely the symptoms of Dyspepsia began to leave him, and in a short time he was able to eat freely without experiencing pain or distress afterwards.

He continued the treatment, and was in the end, rewarded by securing a complete and permanent cure. He says:

"I can now eat what I want without any suffering, and most heartily recommend Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to all who suffer as I did with Dyspepsia, for I am sure they will do for them as they have done for me, completely cure them."

Monks, Theberge's case was a serious one, and it is especially to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. It is, therefore, not too much to expect a cure in any case by the same means.
