Score: mers opened for the Tigers and was not only hit hard, but found himself up against one of those peculiar offdays a pitcher has when the opposition piles up many scratch hits. George Mullin again acted as emergency pitcher, and did his work well, pulling the game from the fire.

With darkness settling over the geld and play almost impossible, they finished the game when Rossman smashed out what eventually proved to be a two-base hit to left field. But it was only decided after a row at the plate with the crowd swarming over the diamond. The Browns claimed that the ball had gone into the crowd; the Tigers insisted it did not. That Famous Contest Between Chicago and the Giants Not Counted.

New York, Oct. 2.-President Harry C. Pulliam, of the National League, tonight announced his decision on the disputed New York-Chicago game of Sept. 23, declaring it a tie. Chicago, he said, had no claim in equity for a forfeited game.

There probably has been no game in baseball history that has caused as much discussion as this famous contest, which ended in a riot on the field. New York claimed the game in the ninth inning, when Bridwell at bat, McCormick on third base and Merkle on first base, Bridwell made a hit which brought McCormick home. Merkle, the Chicago players claim, did not touch second base, and so was Denver Horse Carries Off Ten forced out by Bridwell, they said, thus nullifying the run scored by McCormick. There was such a demonstration on the field at this stage that the police could not control the crowd. WON GRAND CUP

The London Collegiate relay team won the Grant cup yesterday at Stratford from the Stratford Collegiate, last year's winners, in a great race. The race is for a mile, with four relays of a quarter of a mile each, for a cup offered for compettion between the Stratford, St. Marys and London collegiates by Dr. Dick Grant, one of the greatest distance men the game has ever seen. It was won for the first time last year by the Stratford Collegiate. This year the local Collegiate decided to go after it, although they did not have much time for careful prepara-

The race was a great one, and furnished all sorts of excitement. Tom Walker, of London, started against Easson, of Stratford, in the first lap, and although Walker had a bad foot, kept within hailing distance of his opponent. Lawrence Gillies took up the running for the London team, and by a fine sprint, came in on equal terms with Fred Turner, of Stratford. Will Mann, of the Londons, ran a good third lap with L. Lowe, and there was little to choose at the finish. Charles Wortman ran a great race the last quarter, winning from D. Fraser, of Stratford, by a magnificent sprint in the last 100 race will be run in London at the Col-
