General Laurie Elected.

General Laurie has again beaten the Grits of Shelburne. His majority over Mr. Congdon in the contest Monday, was 43. This is not a very large margin but it is big enough in a county that has been persistently Grit.

Shelburne, like our Queens, represented in Parliament continuously from 1867 to 1887 by a Grit, a Tory having no show whatever in the

Here is the record :- In 1867-1872 __1873__1874, Thos. Coffin, Grit, was elected by acclamation. In 1878, the Grit majority was 265; in 1882, 127; in 1887, 34.

But it will be observed that from 1878 to 1887, the Tory leaven was claim that all the rest will be their working, and in December of that majority. The election occurs Nov year, after Robertson, who had been ember 6th. elected the previous February over General Laurie, was unseated, the General secured his election by 8

The election trial that followed. resulted in Laurie being unseated for bribery by agents, and a new election was ordered

And now came the most determined attempt in election annals to defeat a candidate. The Grits bate General Laurie, and none are more cordially in their hate of him than Premier Fielding. This gentlemen, with his lientenants MacCoy and Johnson, M. E. C., opened a most lively campaign on the General, whose only assistant on the stump was Mr. Cahan of the Halifax Mail. But the General with his young body guard, was apparently more than a match for Field ing, MacCoy, Johnson and Congdon, and all the influence of the local Gov ernment, for Laurie has not only been returned to Parliament, but he has increased his majority to a yery respectable figure.

The election is a fitting rebuke to the Grits of Halifax, who attempt to work the whole machine from the Chronicle office. Whenever a county is declared vacant, the Grit clique in Halifax meet and select a candidate. They tried it for Colchester but were very properly snubbed—they repeated it for Shelburne and Monday's vote is

FREDERICTON AND ITS BEAUTI-FUL AVENUES.

Shaded with Majestic Elm and Maple Trees-One of the Most Beautiful Towns in the Wide Dominion.

(W. Dennis in the Halifax Mail) There are many beautiful towns in the Maritime Provinces, but Fredericton is by far the most beautiful of them all. Located or a bend of the St. John river-the Canadian Rhine-its natural charms have been greatly added to by the taste and culture of it æsthetic and enterprising citizens. The town site is as level as a piece of prairie land. It streets run at right angles. There are five main streets, four of which are each one miln length, and the fifth, Queen street, is one nile and a half long; with nine cross streets He did not know what the young men It is computed that this year's corn crop if I have said "streets," but they are beautiful wanted, and when told of the suicide denied loaded for railway shipment, would fill 2078 avenues, shaded by majestic elm and maple trees, the like of which are not to be found in any other town in Canada. These trees are

Said he: "That name was originally applied to St, John by the late George K who was then running the St. John Courier ranging to emigrate 120 ramines, about 600 took it up, fastened it upon Fredericton, and in the conneries. But from a term of reproach it has become a source of pride. The seat of the government and capital of the Province, the location of the University of New Brunswick and of the content with the rowing championship, in- English cathedral of the diocese, Fredericton was "an old fashioned town " and it was run hy semi and would be an aristocratic people That Manitoba wheat should be at the top upon a combination of old country and old of the market in England is another feather fashioned ideas. That's what it was. But into a commercial town you know!" Mr. York County, and the wide awake speculate and business man, rejoices in the fact that he has had a hand in transforming Fredericnot young in years, he is young in spirit and had finished. In ten minutes more the inte buttons and innumerable other things combines the experience of age with the enthusiasm and ardor of youth in his efforts to build up Fredericton and develop the resources of New Brunswick. The town was ncorporated as a city the same year that Halifax enjoyed a similar honor. To-day its affairs are presided over by J. D. Hazen, aged 27, the youngest mayor in Canada and young man of ability and a promising future. It has a population of 7.500, with 3 500 living in the adjoining towns. Its civic debt is $200,000, of which $110,000

400 miles are navigable. The river is settled on both sides its entire length. It is said that there are not ten miles of wood along the whole of its 900 miles of banks. I cannot in this letter enter into a description of the lumber operations on the St. John and its tributaries. But practically all the enor mous quantities of lumber cut upon the St John comes to Frederictun, and some idea o what this means may be obtained when it stated that one boom company handles 190, 000,000 feet this year.
