A Policeman Reported.

Last night about 9 o'clock a lad named Thos. Carlisle was sent by his father, who is employed in Longbottom's livery establishment opposite the Grand opera house, across the street on an errand. Near the opera house entrance he was assaulted by a negro hack driver named Geo. Morgon, who struck him several blows with a horse whip. Policeman No. 41 saw the alteration from the other side of the street and washing corress struck young. a pound. He did not beat him with a club, but tied him to a tree "and let him stand."

He went to the lot at sunset and asked him to draw, but he would not straighten a tug. "I made up my mind," said the farmer, "when that horse went to the barn he would take that load of wood. The night was not coid. I went to the barn, got blankets and covered the horse warm, and he stood until morning. Then he refused to draw. At noon I went down and he was probably hungry and lonesome. He drew that load of wood the first time I asked him. I returned, got another load before I fed him. I then rewarded him with a good dinner, which he eagerly devoured. I have drawn several loads since. Once he refused to draw, but soon as he saw me start for the house he started after me with the load. A horse becomes lonesome and discontented when left alone as much as a person, several loads since. Once he refused to draw, but soon as he saw me start for the louse he started after me with the load. A horse becomes lonesome and discontented when left alone as much as a person, and I claim this method, if rightly used, is far less cruel and is better for both horse and man than to beat the animal with a club."

R. Higginbotham of Rapid City, whose father resides in Toronto, had a narrow escape from a horrible death a few days ago. His arm got entangled among the machinery of the mill where he was working, and he was stripped of every article of clothing except his boots. His arm was skinned and the muscles torn away.

Traveling into Manitoba, you come to a and upon the border of a great ocean; a and that in the near future will be worthy of every man's consideration. The city of Winnipeg, with its well-graded streets, and its stores that would not disgrace the streets of New York, was a revelation. It has many beautiful mansions, costing from $100,000 to $300,000, and perhaps more. It was marvellous to me to find in that far off country such a city and one so far advanced. The wheat belt, beginning about the middle of Dakota, is another marvel. Nowhere is there such wheat. It is of such an excellent quality that it ranks in the market as "No. 1 hard." Fifty years from now 10,000,000 people will occupy that country, which until recently was given up to the wild beasts. Manitoba and its dominion neighbors are to us a near nation, a grand and noble neighbor. If, in the course of time, we should intermarry with that nation we should give thanks to God for it. and its stores that would not disgrace the

The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all grocers. Lowden & Co., Wholesale, Agents for Toronto.

She Kicked.

One evening last week a woman was een dragging a drunken man across the market square, scolding the while with market square, scolding the while with forty-wife power. Near the sidewalk the erring husband slipped through her hands to the ground. She halted and reasoned with him thus, "You drunken brute, you spend my hard earnings on whisky; you go down town and get drunk and I have to go after you. It would serve you right if I kicked the d—I out of you." And kick she did, with such vigor that she kicked him out of his drunken stupor, nor did she cease till he had scrambled to his feet and resumed the staggering line of march which soon carried them out of sight of the used spectators.

Margaret replied by saying in effect that dough kneading girls are not stayers, that they are simply seen kneading dough in order to catch husbands. This poor Johnny does not try to answer, he goes off into the praises of the kind of girl he is looking for, and winds up by admitting that he never did in reality see such of these will have the preference of seats. How to Disappoint a Balky Horse.

An Oxford county farmer recently broke his horse of a "balky" freak in a very quiet and, as he claims, not a cruel manner. His horse is in excellent flesh and shows no signs of neglect on the part of his master. He drove him, attached to a rack wagon, to the wood lot for a small load of wood. The animal would not pull a pound. He did not beat him with a club, but tied him to a tree "and let him stand."

The Ocean Cattle Trade.

G. F. Frankland desires to call attention especially to cattle exporters and feeders of cattle, that he has purchased from G. D. Morse and Lawrence Coffee 1200 head of cattle, which, for breed and quality, cannot be surpassed in the Dominion. They are being fed expressly for the British market, and their average weight, at the opening of navigation, will be in the neighborhood of 1500 pounds. These fine grade and shapely cattle are quartered in those mammoth stables on the Don, where they are fed regularly three times a day on crushed grains and oatmeal; and besides all the grain they receive, each animal is served with fourteen pounds of pure timothy and clover hay every day, making a total of 3360 pounds each animal is supposed to eat during their process of feeding in their scientifically-built and thoroughly-ventilated homes. Faithful men are in attendance. The stables are kept sweet and the cattle scrupulously clean. These fine animals leave Canada in perfect health, and, as the stock editor of the London Times (England) said, in 1878, of cattle from the Don: They arrive in Britain, after traveling 3000 miles by land and sea, in as good condition as home-fed cattle.

Parties who are desirous of purchasing really first-class stock, either in hundreds or thousands will receive every attention, as exporters, just now will be of more use to Canada than importers.
