A NICE LETTER.

Dear Father Dan. Holland.

New York, August 1rt 1898.

A Ccording to my promise I write to inform you of the result of my visit to your Church, on June 30th, just a month ago. I visited your Church and showed you my hands which were badly cracked and very sore, and you kindly took me to the spring and I washed them thoroughly. You also were kind enough to give me a quart bottle of the water to take home with me, which I have used every day very carefully, and the results have been wonderful and have done my hands lots of good, thank God, and they look better and are better than they have been for five years.

I have a little left of the water, and as you offered to send me some if I would write you if it benefited me, I ask if you will be good enough to send me one half dozen bottles by express, and let me know what the expense is, and I will not only do that, but will be glad to do anything in my power as a gift to you or to the Church, such as my limited means will permit, for I am so surprised and pleased I cannot express myself on paper as I could to you personally. Please let me hear from you as soon as possible.

C. G. BRAXMAR.

THANKSGIVING

A msterdam, N. Y., March 29th: «I promised St Anne that of the would assist me in my examination, I would publish it in the Annals. I now fulfil my promise. Thanks to St. Anne for her intercession, » A Subscriber.

Barachois de Malbaie, Que., Mey 4th: «I wish to thank St. Anne for many favors obtained through her intercession, which I promised to have published in the Annals. » P. Q.

Benson, Minn., April 29th: «A year ago I was afflicted with a terrible sickness. I recommended myself to St. Anne and promised her, if she would cure me of this sickness, that I would have it published in the Annals. I felt at once relieved. Therefore I wish to falfil my promise and thank St. Anne for the great favor she has obtained for me. » 12. L. B.

Brookfield, Mass., February 13th: a I beg permission to express my thanks to St Anne for a favor obtained after promising to have it published in the Annals, p. S. M. M.

Cincinnati, February 25th: "The favor I asked of St. Anne has been granted," St. M. S.

Detroit, Mich., March 21st: «I suffered from a disease for many years, and I promised to announce it in the Annals if I was cured.» Mts G. E. C.