TEN YEARS OF Canada in Peace War (1805-15).

Ridout Letters, with Annotations by MATILDA EDGAR.

396 pp. Price, postpaid, $2.00.

A book that will be read with the same interest by all Canadians. From the pen of the Ridout Family, Mrs. Edgar has gathered material for one of the most interesting of Canadian history. It treats of the eventful years only, but indirectly of the whole of the century. Its references and explanations that of time which laps two generations. Necessarily there is much original material, but it is all essential to a understanding of the time and is remarkable. Mrs. Edgar has so arranged the methods of telling it, that the reader can lay the book down. In the chapters of the outbreak of the war are the scenes of the times, painted with all the fidelity which familiar correspondence are little less interesting than the more exciting national occurrences. Of Mr. T. G. Ridout are literary ac- counts in themselves, and Mrs. Edgar's contributions, have resulted in a most valuable addition to the library of Canada. The reader a first time for its romance, and a second time for its accurate and dramatic. —Montreal Herald.
