

approximately 50 percent Canadian content or if the transaction would not bring substantial economic benefits to Canada.
Example: A Canadian company with distribution rights for French medical products in Mexico (see related case).