Sir CHARLES TUPPER. It is impossible at this stage to arrive at that conclusion, but I desire to press the Bill forward as rapidly as possible.

The PRIME MINISTER. In the meantime I will be able to meet the hon. gentleman and see if we cannot arrive at an agreement. I will not press the hon. gentleman to give me his pledge to pass the Bill through committee to-morrow, but I will take his pledge that he will facilitate the passage of it.

Sir CHARLES TUPPER. Very well.

Committee rose and reported progress.

The PRIME MINISTER moved the adjournment of the House.

Motion agreed to, and the House adjourned at 12.10 a.m. (Friday).
