

Canadian War Heroes

In the August number of The Canadian Magazine we published an article on the rise of several non-professional military men from Canada to positions of distinction in both the Canadian and the Imperial service. In the November Number Mr. Frank Yeigh will relate some of the remarkable deeds of valour, heroism and daring committed by Canadians in Europe. It has been demonstrated time and time again that the average Canadian soldier is unrivalled in genuine prowess and fighting capacity, but it will be doubly interesting to review some of the outstanding exploits as related by Mr. Yeigh. This article will be adequately illustrated and will be followed by others, equally timely and valuable, on various aspects of the war.
