JULIAN, the Italian who walked through an upper window at the Vancouver hotel early yesterday morning, was removed to the Jubilee hospital later in the day. His injuries are serious though not necessarily fatal. To a companion and fellow countryman he explained that he has been subject to somnambulistic fits, and when he walked through the window was the victim of a through the window was the victim of a dream in which he saw a tall man wearing a long coat chasing him with a deadly knife. MR. FARQUHAE MAGRAE, S.M., sat in the Provincial court yesterday afternoon to hear the evidence in the case of Regina v. Mr. Emmett Murray and Mrs. Matthews, who were charged under the School Act of 1891 with having made false declarations as to their right to vote at a Strawberry Vale school electors meeting, called to consider the question of the adoption of a school site. Mr. Thornton Fell appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. C. D. Mason for the defence. The evidence went to show that both of the defendants had been present and had voted, but there was nothing to prove any perjury or anything of the kind. The charge against Mr. Murray was dismissed, and that against Mrs. Matthews withdrawn.

Seven young ladies were confirmed at the St. Barnabas church last evening. The services were conducted by Rt. Rev. Bishop Perrin, assisted by Rev. G. W. Taylor and a full surpliced choir.

The attention of the city police has been directed to a gang of young hoodlums who make their headquarters in the vicinity of the First Presbyterian church, and whose conduct has been at times very annoying to pedestrians and residents in the neighborhood, to say the least of it. These young toughs have formed a sort of charivari band and make it a practice of levying toll on people in the vicinity, who are requested to put up cake and other estables or submit to the annoyance of the roisterers.

Street by-law. They were amusing themselves by firing in turn with a rusty shotgun at the Clover point rifle butts, and could produce no permit to thus entertain themselves.

A PLEASANT way to spend next Saturday will be to board the steamer Joan at 7 o'clock and go to Seattle, where a few hours will be allowed for viewing the city. An hour or two can also be profitably spent in visiting Lake Washington. No doubt the Joan will be comfortably filled owing to the very low fare.

A. M. Leitch was committed for trial on the charge of forgery, yesterday, by Police Magistrate Macrae. The only fresh evidence was that of Mr. H. Gordon Austin, teller of the Bank of B.N.A., who, as an expert in writing, pronounced Leitch's signature on Police court documents and the endorrement on the forged check written by the resignations of Aldermen to fill the two vacancies at the Council board caused by the resignations of Aldermen James Monroe Miller and Antone Henderson were held yesterday. As a result ex-Ald. Henderson, who was nominated by Mr. C. E. Redfern, seconded by Mr. J. Holland, was re-elected by acclasmation, while in the North Ward there will be a contest between Mr. W. A. Robertson and School Trustee Caleb Bishop. The former was nominated by Mr. William Allen, seconded by Mr. Moses McGregor; the latter by Hon. J. H. Turner, seconded by Mr. L. Goodacre. Mr. Bishop, who is a resident of Victoria West, will receive almost a solid vote from that quarter, but as Mr. Robertson have quarter to the Sank of B.N.A., who, as an expert in writing, pronounced Leitch's signature on Police court documents and the Monday last, Mrs. Adeline Fitzsimmons, who lives at Otter Point, 28 miles from here, had an accident happen to her horse which has detained her in the city ever since. The animal started to run away on the road and fell, disabling one of its fore legs. Mrs. Fitzsimmons, being a poor widow, is now without a horse to drive in and out of town, and she thinks if the community would raise a subscription to buy another horse she would be able to hold her place and earn a livelihood, but as it is she claims to be in a bad fix.

-Ruling Retail Prices. The grain market has been replenished this week by the reseipt of small quantities of this season's crop of oats, and consequently prices rule a little lower. New hay is also coming in, and it is expected that within a few weeks other field products will be on the market. Farmers of late seem to be more hopeful over their crops than they were a few weeks ago, the recent hot weather having done an immense amount of good.

The fruit market is well supplied with California importations as well as home products—the latter mainly plums and apples. In the meat market butchers say that they have a larger supply of beef than the demand requires. Some kinds of fish are plentiful, but others again scarce. On the whole the fish market is fairly well stocked. The ruling retail operations are as follows:

ANOTHER SEALER RETURNS.

The schooner W. P. Sayward, Capt. Geo. R. Ferry, reached home from the sealing grounds last evening, having but 600 skins to show for her season's expedition. Since leaving Sand Point, on June 23, she has been hunting to the south of Copper Island for three weeks or more, finding but few seals. She reports no other schooners, the Penelope, the last she spoke, being home long before her. The Sayward carried an Indian crew, whom she landed at Dodges Cove on the way home. Being alone during the latter part of her voyage accounts for her not having any late news.
