EXPLANATIONS.

EXPLANATIONS. My stroke—Better, the hand; that is, God's hind pressed the groans of bitterness from Job's suffering soul. His scat.—The judguentsest of God. Job thinks that if he could only fluid God, meet him face to face, he could clear his own character and show the injustice of his tribulations. I would know the words which he would answer—"if God would only speak I could understand him, and depend upon the truth he utered; but man mijudges me." But he knoweth the way I take.—Job has been lamenting that whether he turns northward, southward, eastward, or westward he cannot see God, and so cannot present his cause to him as to an earthly soverein; but at last he remembers that God is muniscient, and his confidence is renewed. As gold— That is, all the better for the first trut
