The latest calendar contains the announcement that Mr. J. R. Keene's horses are scratched in the Epsom Derby, 1896.

The entries for the Liverpool Grand National, to be run in about two months' time, include Wild Man of Borneo and Cathal, the winner and second last year; also two past grand masters, Why Not and Father O'Flynn. Waterford is the most fancied outsider. O'Flynn. Waterford is the most fancled outsider.

Golden Drop, the winner of the Manchester November handicap in 1893, having become very infirm, failed to elicit a bid when put up for sale at Tattersail's, but was subsequently disposed of for 39 guineas to go to Germany.

Daimlo, who is to make an attempt to capture the Liverpool Grand National Steeplechase on behalf of Australia, goes to England at the end of March. This will land him in the old Country at the commencement of the summer, and he will have ten or eleven months in which to get acclimatized before being asked the important question over-Aintree. He is a hardy sort of horse, and if any animal bred in sunny Australia can live through an English winter Daimio is, is is said, the one to do it.

A Canadian Won at Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—The slowest game in the billiard tournament was played this afternoon by Messrs, Capron and Sutton. Capron scored the requisite 400 caroms, while the Toronto man was able to count only 289. The contest consisted of 42 innings, while other games have been played in 19. The first part of the game was only brightened by Capron's high run of 54. Sutton started out when his case seemed hopeless to play better billiards, and showed he could play if he could not win. The score: Capron 400, high run 54, average 9 22-42; Sutton 289, average 7 2-41.

Tom Gallagher covered himself with glory to-night in his game with Willi Hatley, and stands an even chance with Maggioli or McLaughlin to win first money, in 16 innings he ran out his string of 400 points, while the Duluth player could only get 204 points. It was the shortest and best game of the tournament, and Gallagher's average of 25 fax will prebably remain unbeaten even by himself. Luck was largely against Hatley, who put un a praiseworthy game. Score: Gallagher 400, high run 102, average 125; Hatley 204, high run 66, average 12 12-16.
