The Canadian market has lately been flooded with inferior stuff of this kind, much to the detriment of the business carried on in canned and preserved fruits by Canadian packers. The Dominion of Canada, and especially the Province of Ontario, is able to grow all the ordinary kinds of fruit that are required for domestic consumption, and some effective means should be taken to keep the Canadian market in the hands of Canadian fruit canners. As long as our neighbors to the south of us keep up a prohibitory tariff, and enforce the Chinese alien labor act against Canadians all along the frontier, we must, for our own protection, act in a somewhat similar spirit. But while this is a sound theoretical principle, it is one that cannot be practically enforced at the present time. Some other method will have to be adopted for raising the necessary funds than by appealing to the City Council. The experiment of raising money by relying upon the generosity and the conscience of individual wheelmen is not proving successful. The attendance at the interclub concert on Thursday night proves this conclusively. We do not believe that wheelmen object to contributing towards bettering the roads, but we think they are opposed to any schowlers. ward Sanderson, John Maxwell, H. A. Burrows, M. J. day night proves this conclusively. We do not believe that wheelmen object to contributing towards bettering the roads, but we think they are opposed to any scheme by which the whole expense falls upon those only who are honorable enough to contribute of their own accord. If any scheme can be devised whereby each individual who rides a wheel will be made to pay a small annual fee, say $1, we believe it would meet with approval. If it were felt that everyone was being treated alike, less difficulty would be expensed in collecting funds. We are still of opinion that the easiest, the best and the cheapest way to secure good paths for wheelmen in the city is to impose a tax of $1 a year on every wheel within the city. The dollar expended in this way will save five times as much during the course of the year in the wheelman's repair bill. At the interclub concert the other night Mayor Fleming promised that $2000 would be included in the estimates of this year for the numbers, Toronto-street, are the managers for Ontario.

While the necessity for such roads is generally admitted, there is by no means unanimity as to the means that should be adopted for providing funds for this purpose.
