RISH HAVE BIG DAY AT PORT

were shown, and the judges had the hardest time of their lives trying to figure out which baby was the best. And they did not suit everybody, nor shown, and the judges had did they suit themselves-perhaps because there were such a fine lot, and so little difference between the first and the tenth, that the positions might have been reversed, and little complaint would have been made.

The society made a feature of the baby show, and spared no expense to make it a success. As a result ten very fine special prizes were awarded, and every baby got a prize.

The first prize baby was a fine boy, Harold Sadlier, son of Mr. Arthur Sad-W. Beech, D. Gray and J. Leggatt; lier, 4 months old, weighing 38 pounds. This boy is a typical Irishman, and was born on St. Patrick's Day.

The ten prize-winners were: 1 Har-old Sadlier, 2 Iola Smith, 3 Albert Taylor, 4 Florence West, 5, James Munroe, 6 Leo Connoy (St. Thomas), 7 Freddie Grayson, 8 Lawrence Van Overmeer, 9 Melvin Abel, 10 Blanche Cox.

The judges who had this feature under their advisement were: Dr. Guest, St. Thomas; Mr. George W. Torrance, Toronto; Ald. John H. Saunders, Mr. Peter Birtwistle, Harry Merritt and Mr. Beresford.

There were several prizes for twins. but pairs were scarce this year, not an entry being made in this class.

Mr. Fulton's Forethought.

Something must be said in favor of day, a large number of people were suspicious that the arrangements quoiter, Mr. R. Errington, one of the the most approved fashion of late. But and Mr. F. Smale, Port Bruce, got intheir fears were groundless, for a more to the money also perfect day for a picnic could not be imagined. Earth and sky, lake and shore, woods and meadows, were as beautiful as they have been this year; in fact, the elements conspired to make it a day long to be remembered. Therefore Mr. Fulton thinks well of J. Pluvius, who appeared to think that nothing was too good for the Irish.

The transportation facilities were excellent. The Pere Marquette handled derson 13, W. Shortill 21, E. Chivas 7, the crowds better than ever before.Suprintendent Gilhula personally had charge of the arrangements, and to him is the credit for so perfect arrangements, as well as to Mr. J. W. Kearns, the popular passenger agent, who is a member of the I. B. S. Very Interesting Features.

The sports contained many very interesting features. The novelty boxing bouts caused the most merriment. down early, and played in St. Thomas It was huge. Mr. George O'Nell, of for an hour. Large crowds came out the Tecumseh House, was pitted to listen to the music, and the band against Mr. Glennie Wilson, and they was highly complimented for its good produced the weirdest bout seen since work. A Great Race.

The Montebello Stake for Past Presidents brought the greatest field of McCormick, Roy Nopper, B. Noble, starters to the post that ever faced Joseph Nolan, M. F. O'Mara, John Pothe gun. Mr. John M. Daly was the favorite, as he was in rare condition, and seemed trained to the minute. John Stevely carried too much weight, but Dr. John D. Wilson looked fit. Philip Pocock was eager, but was somewhat shy on condition. They were sent away in a bunch with all sides blown. They traveled at a terrific clip for three feet, when John M. Daly's condition began to tell. He was strong, and running well within himself. He finished first with some clothes to spare.

Dr. Wilson came on with a veritable Duffy sprint, and caught Phil Pocock hall, and entertainment, John P. Forat the wire, and the populace rose en ristal. masse, as they say in the sporting column, and cheered the noble athletes. John Stevely got home in time for the last boat.

The other races were closely contested with record entries. Dancing Popular.

The dancing was a feature. The platform on the hill was the favorite resort of masses of the visitors, and it Successful Summer Carnival at seemed as if the whole hill was one mass of people. A veritable sea of faces was turned towards the stand. and the people enjoyed the splendid programme Chair:nan Brophy had prepared for them. The entries were so numerous in the girls' classes that President Garvey ordered five special prizes for these events.
