Times to Oppose Budget.

There are optimists who assume that the Tories will vote for the budget and avert a financial catastrophe when the factions are neglecting recklessly conditions of national safety. It is move probable, however, that they will follow the mandate of their constituen-cies and vote against the budget, leaving to the warring factions the responsibility for breaking up the coalition majority. Mr. Balfour has not revealed his tactics, but it is an open secret that he will wait for ; the prime minister to take the initiative, and without intriguing with the Labor section of either Irish faction allow them to overturn the government whenever they wish to do so. English politics is neither patriotism nor statesmanship, but partisan war-fare. Meanwhile, how can the King's government be carried on if the budget be held up by the Irish members and the assurances of the immediate passage of a resolution against the lords and of the introduction of the Speakership, in the opinion even veto bill after Easter are rejected by Mr. Redmond as inadequate guaran-

An Appeal to Balfour ?

The Tories, too bewildered for ex-ultation, assert that Mr. Asquith's only resource will be a personal appeal to Mr. Balfour for support in order to complete the financial arrangements before the end of March. Pledged as they are against the budget, the Unionists could only see it thru if it were made over and the land and exwere made over and the land and ex-cise sections were dropped. The prime minister's resignation would be more dignified than so ignominious a sur-render. It seems more likely that he will extricate himself by private nego-tiations with Mr. Redmond and carry the budget thru, yet the impass cre-ated by the Irish factions is so serious that it would not be surprising if Win-ston Churchill has asked for the ap-pointment of Viceroy of India. This is one of the wildest of the week-end rumors.

This policy demands that, the passage of the budget be postponed till the lords' veto bill at least is introduced. This attitude was imposed on Redmond by the intense unpopularity of the budget in Ireland, but still mcre by the abiding suspicion in Ireland that the ministers may try to palter with the question of the lords, and Asquith's old association with Rosebery and the former's lukewarmness on home rule are calculated to increase this feeling of uneasiness. This speech of Redmond came as a thunderclap on Asquith, and was discussed at two cabinet councils. It meant, of course, that if the ministers Poll of Republican Editors Shows persisted in the tactics of bringing the budget first and the veto question afterwards they would be beaten by the transfer of the Irish vote to the CHICAGO, Feb. 13 .- The Tribune's linionist opposi

Five Arrests Made Saturday After noon-Interest at Rate of 230 Per Cent, Has Been Charged.

Two salary loan companies were raided Saturday noon by the city detectives and five arrests were made and the books and records of the companies were seized. The prisoners, three men and two women, are charged with loaning money at extortionate rates of interest, the penalty for which is a year's imprisonment and a fine of $1000. The police say that in some cases the interest ran as high as 230 per cent. per annum if reckoned at nple interest, but payable as it was with the principal in instalments it ran to a much higher rate.
