Toronto Dents Again

Beat Chicago Stars

Chicago, March 23.—The Toronto team made the score more like their play tonight, when they again beat the Chicago All-Stars, 16 to 1. The Toronto team, which won last night by 5 to 4, the game was almost as one-sided as tonight.

DUFFY DEFEATS RIVERS.

New York, March 23.—James Duffy of this city defeated Joe Rivers of California in a ten-round bout here tonight. Duffy weighed 155 pounds and Rivers 185.

Canadiens Heavier Than Seattle Mets

Speed is a greater factor than weight in hockey; otherwise Seattle would have little chance over the Canadiens, who have a team average of 185 pounds, and a total aggregate weight of 1815 pounds. The total weight of the Mets, on the other hand, is 1677 pounds, and the average weight of the Seattle players is 163 pounds. With the substitution of the line-up of the regular Seattle septet has an average weight of 136 pounds to 183 pounds of the regular Canadiens team.

Big Jim Riley, weighing 180 pounds, is the heaviest man on the Seattle team, with Roy Ricketts tipping the beam at 175 pounds for second place. Neither Riley or Ricketts are regulars, however, and with these two out of the line-up, Harry Holmes, goal-tender, is the heaviest regular, weighing 175 pounds. Weights of the other men in the regular line-up of the Mets are: Carpenter, 170; Rowe, 180; Walker, 152; Morris, 145; Foyston, 163; and Wilson, 153.

In comparison to these weights the Canadiens loom up like giants: Veinua, the Canadiens' center, weighs 185 pounds; Munnery and Corbeau, defence men, weigh 225 and 190 pounds respectively. The forward line of the Canadiens also outweighs the Mets' forwards: Lalonde, weighing 185; Smith, 185; Berube, 180; and Couture, utility players, weigh 165 and 163 respectively.

Bernie Morris, weighing 145, is the lightest man on the Seattle team, yet Morris is the heaviest shooter in the Coast League and one of the real stars of hockey. Tommy Smith, centre, is the lightest of the Canadiens, and he weighs 153.

Pickles Dillhoefer, the "Ray Schalk" of the Chicago Cubs, managed to secure a wrist in one of the exhibition games, and Manager Mitchell was so hard up for backstop material he had to enlist a Los Angeles semi-pro, named Stein. Art Wilson arrived the next day, however, and, with Pickles recovering the use of his wrist, the Cubs are getting by. Towdy Elliott is doing the work for the other team of Cubs exhibiting in California.

Manager Miller Huggins of the St. Louis Cardinals feels pretty sure regarding his catching department. Frank Smith seems set for a big come-back, while Jack Roche, recalled from Portland, seems to have been cured of the lame arm that troubled him for several years. These two will give Huggins a chance to use Mike Gonzales regularly on first base, with the recruit, Williams, in reserve. Huggins plans to carry an entire second-string infield this year.

LOOKS LIKE FOUR SENIOR LEAGUES

Amateur Ball Players Are Hard to Find—Juniors Are Busy.

It is getting harder each day to get any kind of amateur sportmen in numbers enough to carry on. The baseball leagues are finding this out and with things continuing every day it is a hard matter to organize leagues. It now looks as if only four senior amateur leagues will be doing business in Toronto this season. The Toronto senior is already organized, and the Western City is also ready for business.

The two others will likely be the Play-Ground and the M.C.A. Even these leagues are having a hard time lining up teams. This will be about all that can get by. The junior series is expected to get a boost this season. Several new ones are expected to crop up and as the players in this class of ball are below the military age this is the branch of baseball that should be fostered.

INTERMEDIATES WIN HAMILTON HONORS

Battalion Seniors Beaten in Return Game and Round For City Hockey Title.

Hamilton, March 23.—Hamilton Hockey Club intermediates won the city championship tonight by defeating the 227th Battalion senior aggregation by a score of 5 to 1, giving them a lead of seven points on the round. Tonight's game was fast and exciting and was interrupted by a goal scored by the Battalion seniors, who played with good hockey, fast checking and rough work. Lack of condition on the part of the Battalion seniors was the cause of their defeat. The Battalion seniors, who were beaten in their first game, were expected to get a boost this season. Several new ones are expected to crop up and as the players in this class of ball are below the military age this is the branch of baseball that should be fostered.

The fact that Ad Wolgast is suffering a nervous breakdown recalls to mind one of the greatest hard-luck stories in the annals of pugilism. Telegraphic advices from Chicago this week indicate that Ad is now in an eastern sanitarium, and that at the present time even his friends are not allowed to see him.

The Michigan "Wildcat" has endured many hardships since he won the lightweight championship from Bat Nelson in forty rounds in 1910. These include five fractures of his arms.

The accident occurred in battles with Tommy McFarland, Jack Redmond, Freddy Welsh, Dauber Jaeger, and while training for Rivers he broke both thumbs. In one of them, after two operations, the splintered bone was finally wrapped with many feet of fine silver wire. Ritchie broke his nose for the third or fourth time. The bones in each hand have been splintered many times—principally in his battles with Ritchie, Nelson, Tommy Murphy and Oakland Frank's Burns. In addition to these fractures, Ad has suffered pneumonia, and was operated on for appendicitis the day before he was to have fought Welch in Los Angeles.

Do you wonder that the average fan never appreciated what a great fighter he was? Rarely was Ad able to show his real ability. Those who have seen him at his best unite in pronouncing him one of the greatest fighters that ever wore a glove. He was well worthy of his sobriquet, "The Wildcat." And, despite his many accidents, Wolgast "faked" his title more than any other champion. He gave his rivals thirty-four chances at his forty rounds in 1910.

But Wolgast had some good fortune. He earned, according to Tom Jones, something like $300,000 in five years.

REVIVED INTEREST IN SAILING GAME

Lively Competition For the Open Regattas—L.S.S.A. to Meet Soon.

The amateur sailors are preparing for a big season. The Lake Sailing Society Association will hold their first meeting of the season on April 20 at the home of the president, Wm. Johnston, 1556 West King street, when the date for the annual regatta will be decided. At this meeting the L.S.S.A. will also sanction the regatta and there is a lively scramble to secure them.

All clubs report live interest in the coming season and new members are joining daily. There is talk of starting a juvenile dinghy class, and this should bring the old-timers will be found with new craft, and the fight for the established trophies will be hotter than ever.

Has Suffered Many Injuries During His Long Career.

Red Sox, Tigers, White Sox and Yankees Look Best in American.

New York, March 23.—This season's journey down the American League schedule should be as productive of sensations as was last year's grueling finish. No less than four clubs are due to be in the fight and the balance is such that the issue probably will not be decided until the season is in its closing month.

Detroit looks to be one team which will bear watching. The Chicago White Sox are strong, the Yankees, refitted with good arms and legs, must be counted on. It would be folly to suppose that even a change in management could keep the wonderful Red Sox from making an awful bid for the Ban Johnson bunting.

The Tigers have been due to win a pennant for several seasons. Just one thing has hampered them. Correct the faults of the Detroit pitching staff and there will be a baseball club that will tear its way thru anything. Imagine a team making six and seven runs a day, only to see the opposition come thru with just a few more. The offensive power of such a grand machine is lost in the inability of pitchers to hold the opposition down. Detroit should win a pennant, for its stickmen are able to produce the runs.

The same thing might be said to hold good for the White Sox, but there are good pitchers there. The fault, last year, was in the hitting. The hitters are there to make the runs, and, for a great part of the time, the pitchers are there to do the holding. Complete's twirlers lost themselves last summer in the heat of the race, but there is no reason why they should not return. The White Sox need a baseman as they need a pitcher. If Gandil can come thru the White Sox will develop a dangerously well-balanced team.

The Yankees are dangerous, but hardly enough so to be voted a spring pennant. They need more experience as a team, and a trifle more steadiness in the pitching staff.

They will supply the enigma for the season. The champions comprise one of the best balanced and best defensive teams thrown together for many years. If the crack doesn't come this year it will be hard to keep them out.

EXTRA WORK ORDER FOR THE PITCHERS

Will Report on Wednesday—Pat Moran Passes Up Hold-outs—Gossip

The Toronto Club, remembering that it was at the start of last season, have ordered the battery candidates to report at Peterborough before the rest of the team. The pitchers and catchers will get down to work next Wednesday in the Virginia town, and Manager Dwyer hopes that the few extra days of work will be a big help when the Leafs open at Baltimore.

Manager LaLoie left for his home in Chicago last night, and will report to Peterborough to meet the battery men on Wednesday. Trainer Frank Carroll and Business Manager Martin Irwin will go to the training camp on Monday to get everything into shape for the players.

Small Crowds at Allan Cup Games

Winnipeg Tribune: Alfie MacIntosh, who will not contest such a large extent this year than Allan Cup cup games, they will receive a tidy amount, which will be about $1000.

In former times deserving institutions were helped by the Allan Cup. It was feared for a time that the charitable institutions would not be helped to any great extent. In the first game between Port Arthur and Winnipeg, the crowd was a good-sized crowd, but the Vice's 1 to 1 victory tended towards keeping down the attendance at the second game. The two matches between Toronto and Saskatoon were followed by crowds of about 1100 each. There were many vacant seats at the first Toronto-Vic game, but the local defeat stirred up Winnipeggers and caused the largest crowd that ever witnessed a hockey game at the Amphitheatre rink to be present for the deciding game on Monday. It was this bumper crowd at the deciding game that made money for charity. Officials had figured that Allan Cup receipts for the first five games would be about $1000, but the crowd at the end of the final game would be about $4000 each winter.

The journey of a Toronto team here this time has not been a success. The expenses has not been ascertained. It is expected that they will stack up on this way: Port Arthur, 141st Battalion, $200; Saskatoon Pilgrims, $800; Toronto, $1500; Green Oakville, $100; Vic Wellington, $800; entertainment $400. This makes a total expense of $3300.

TWO MORE NOMINATIONS FOR O.A.A. OFFICES

Two additional nominations have been made for offices in the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association. They are W. McArthur of the Toronto Toros for re-election as treasurer, and F. S. Coombs of the Marlboroughs for the council.

DUG ADDISON LIKES THE FLYING GAME

Tommy Turrel is in receipt of a letter from Dug Addison, the crack hockey player and amateur sailor. Dug is with the Royal Flying Corps in England, and has already taken some of his examinations. Dug thinks the flying game has any other sport beating it. He says that it is a little more thrilling than the sailing game, and that is in praise of Dug's estimation. He expects to see the H.C. get his great flyers. They are willing to take a chance and are horses for work. Dug expects to see the H.C. get his before long, and then he will be back to battle the boys on Toronto Bay for any and all cups.
