

ADVERTISEMENTS.

From the qualifications and assiduity of the Masters selected for the Institution, T. F. C. feels warranted in affirming that this Academy shall be at the least inferior to none hitherto established in the Province. He is aware that the above assertion may seem bold and hazardous; but his persuasion of its truth induces him to risk it, under a well-founded conviction that time will speedily establish the justice of such expectations.

Since the above Establishment must rest entirely on its own peculiar and intrinsic merit, having no extraneous assistance or Government gratuity, T. F. C. begs leave to intimate, that he expects invariably to be paid for all Pupils, whose parents reside in York, on the first day of every month; and for those Pupils, whose parents reside in the country, once in three months in advance.

No exertions will be spared towards giving satisfaction to the Public; but, as this can only be accomplished by promptitude in payment, T. F. C. hopes that, should any parent neglect to pay on the first of the month, and in consequence be reminded of his remissness, he will not be offended, nor, should the same neglect be repeated, esteem it unjust if his child should be dismissed the Academy.

genteel accommodations are provided for boarding Young Ladies from the country, who may wish to obtain an education in this Institution.
