MEDALS FOR SERVANTS

French System Offers a Reward After Thirty Years' Service

By national decree of Aug. 9, 1913, the French decree of awarding medals of honor to employes for thirty years' continuous service in the same establishment, was extended to include house servants.

The period of thirty years is to be reduced to twenty years for those who furnish proof that they have belonged for at least ten years to a mutual benefit society regulated by the law of April 1, 1898; that they have made supplementary deposits for the increase of their retirement pensions in the Caisse Nationale des Retraites (Pensioners' National Bank) or any other insurance organization governed by the law of April 5, 1910, or that they have reared four children to at least the age of sixteen years.

The medal is to be granted without condition of length of service to any one who performs in connection with his occupation a particularly meritorious act of devotion to the family by whom he is employed. The Journal Officiel of Feb. 8, 1914, contains a list of more than 1200 domestic servants to whom the medal of honor has been awarded by the minister of labor—Reheboth Sunday Herald.

TWENTY-SEVEN BIRTHS The birth of twenty-seven infants, twenty-two girls and five boys, was reported during the week. Ten marriages were recorded during the same period.

"To Dr. Boles Dr." "It certainly makes a big difference," "What does?" asked the Grouch. "Whether you put 'Dr' before or after a name," replied the Old Fogey.

Was Rich—Now Poor

Canadian Press Dispatch. New York.—Harry B. Hollins, member of the now defunct, but once powerful stock exchange house of H. B. Hollins and Co., testified to-day that he had only $150. Hollins and Co. failed recently for about $5,000,000.

The above item which appeared in the newspapers recently illustrates in a striking manner the fickleness of fortune.

And it proves that some of your money should be invested where it cannot be lost in spite of business reverses.

An Imperial Endowment is such an investment. It continues to increase in value no matter what business conditions or the state of the money market may be.

And it will automatically continue in force even though you should at any time be temporarily unable to pay the premiums in advance.

Let us tell you more about this panic-proof investment—while you are in good health. To morrow you may be uninsurable. Address:

WILL NOT STAND FOR EULOGY OF KAISER IN THE SCHOOL BOOKS

Chicago, May 22—Mass meetings and public appeals to the board of education to eliminate the eulogy of the German Kaiser from the public school speller are being planned. With the exception of the German newspapers the various other foreign language newspapers of the city are uniting in a demand that the board of education either cause the page in the speller containing the eulogistic text on the Kaiser be cut out or to have the entire edition of the speller destroyed.

There will be meetings, resolutions and communications upon the subject and the board of education will be asked to undo the wrong that has been done.

Vladimir Genet, editor of the Daily Sargonist. "It is not a foreign language question. It is purely an American proposition. Mrs. Ella Piagg Young, in the interview, points out that the board of education is the place to appeal to, and that is where we will go. We will also ask Mrs. Young to explain why no other ruler is eulogized. Further, in the next few days we will issue the facts regarding the gymnasium and school and school life of the Kaiser, which will show up something new."

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE Ideal Glasses For Summer Wear

Sharpe's new tinted lenses are the most satisfactory glasses ever devised for use in the bright sunshine of summer time. They will add greatly to your comfort and delight in being out of doors because they shut off the harmful ultra-violet rays and much of the heat rays.

They are cool, restful lenses which make it unnecessary to squint; they keep the eyes from getting tired in strong, white light; and at the same time preserve practically all of the visible light.

These new tinted lenses can be ground to correct any defect in refraction and they are reasonably priced. Step into Sharpe's and have them demonstrated.

DOG SAVES WOMAN FROM FIRE

Canton, May 22—When the large residence of Dwight M. Foster was destroyed by fire, a dog saved a woman from the flames.

Mr. Foster was away on a business trip and Mrs. Foster was alone in the house with two dogs. At 11 o'clock one of the dogs came to her bedside, and seeing the clothing in his mouth, started to drag her from the bed.

When Mrs. Foster awoke she hurried downstairs and found the entire lower part of the house in flames.

CHRONIC SKIN DISORDERS Now Overcome Quickly

There is no hope of getting rid of disgusting skin blemishes until the blood is purged of every trace of unclean matter.

Wonderful results follow the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which provide the blood with the elements it needs to become rich and red.

Quickly a similar report was received from Geneva last night.

MORNING FIRE Fire broke out early this morning in the basement of the older Jewish synagogue in Carleton street and worked upwards into the auditorium, doing considerable damage before it was extinguished by the fire department.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

There's a Heap of Satisfaction Just to Watch the Bob.

It usually happens about this time of year, when the winter's disappointments and the spring is drawn near that a longing creeps in on me and it makes me wish an' wish, just to like it fer th' woodlands an' t' find a stream an' fish. When I work in the winter I don't think of it at all; nor when summer has begun ter turn itself into the fall. But somehow when dandelions start to bloom beside the stream, an' the frogs pipe in the meadow, then I start upon a dream of a noisy babbling brooklet where the red spots rise in play, and I have t' hunt my tackle an' my pipe and get away.

Sometimes I've lost good jobs that way and never got 'em back; but it didn't worry me a bit if I could hit the track. When the leaves upon the maple cast their fringes in the brook, that's the time for me to be there with my rod and baited hook. Right below that little rifin' is a big one layin' wait for an unsuspecting minnow, or maybe some other bait, an' in just about a minute when I find a juicy worm, I'll soon have old Mr. Redspot on the bank to kick an' squirm.

An' as the sun gets higher an' the robins stop their lay, an' the trout an' bitin' quite so well I'll tuck myself away beneath a clump of hemlocks or beside a shelterin' rock an' let a bite an' have a smoke, an' smoke till four o'clock. You can talk about your hunting trips—I've got no use for that—I couldn't kill a chicken, an' I wouldn't drown a cat.

But when there comes a warm May day the feelin' comes once more, an' I pack my kit and take the trail that leads down to the shore. An' when I've fished a line an' hook (though pap's I've lost my job) there's a heap of satisfaction lost to it and watch th' bob.—Portland Express and Advertiser.

MAY BE CONTEST OVER THE VANDERBILT WILL

New York, May 22—Whether there will be a contest of Alfred G. Vanderbilt's will, it is said by persons close to the family, depends to a considerable extent on what provision is made for William Henry Vanderbilt, a child of the first marriage.

It is known that the boy will receive a large legacy, but the amount is not known, nor is it known whether Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt, his mother, will be satisfied with what her son receives. She has waived all rights in her former husband's estate in an alimony settlement but might contest the Vanderbilt will, it is pointed out, as guardian for her son.

One possible issue she might raise, it is said, is the validity of the Reno decree of divorce which Mrs. Margaret Emerson Vanderbilt obtained from Dr. McKim before she married Alfred G. Vanderbilt. Lawyers point to the fact that Nevada divorces have been attacked in New York courts.
