LATEST WORD ON AUCTION BRIDGE

The Times has received an advance copy of the latest book on auction bridge.

It is a compact little red book with a complete copy of the game as it is played today and every day at the important card clubs in New York city. It has about the acid test. The little book has been used by the best auction teachers in the large cities for years, and why?

It is published annually. All the changes in the laws, the style of bidding, the newest wrinkles in the doubling conventions are brought up to the minute in every issue. This is the 10th edition and to say that it contains everything new is but a plain statement of fact.

This little book tells you what to bid when to bid. It contains a complete table of authentic auction laws, a dictionary of card terms and words, the new laws adopted in October, 1921, by the Knickerbocker Whist Club, the very latest changes, all the laws for three-handed auction, duplicate auction and progressive auction.

One cannot well play any card game unless one knows the laws, the rules and the conventions. One must know them all to play well. Price 75 cents, Wynne Ferguson, 329 Broadway, New York.

The Dollar!

This season in some ways goes as far as two last year. Our dollar tie is a fair example. The material is so much superior in quality, the designs so much handsomer, we have painstakingly selected such values from the makers, and ask such a small advance that many purchasers remark that the dollar tie is as good as last year's two dollar one. Other qualities are here from 50c. to $2.50.

Equally acceptable gifts are: Mittens, $2 to $7.25; shirts, $1.50 to $7; gloves, $1.25 to $4.50.

Our sales certainly prove that our goods and values are steadily growing in favor.
