Christmas Stocks

At Oak Hall

Very Plentiful

The buyers of the Oak Hall shops for men, women and children, anticipated a tremendous trade for this Christmas, it being the first real peace-time Christmas for a long time, so they bought large quantities of Christmas merchandise, not wishing to be caught short. Their judgment has been proved correct. The Christmas gift buying has been greater this year than ever before, but with it all, and one shopping day left, last minute shoppers will find at Oak Hall complete stocks to choose from. Muffs, gloves, hosiery, neckwear, and so forth are at Oak Hall in great array, and a last minute visit through the various departments will offer to the unfortunates a wealth of practical suggestions. Oak Hall will be opened to-night and tomorrow night to give every opportunity to the last minute shopper.

BIG NEW BILL

FOR JOY SEASON

Opera House Programme

Chosen with Care—Should

Be a Big Drawing Card.

The new programme at the Opera House today should prove a banner one for this festive season. Every act was selected with care in order to provide the best entertainment possible for the holiday. All the acts billed were big and drawing cards along the circuit, and there is no doubt they will be popular with local patrons. The new programme will include Helen Pingree and Company, an
