Les Angeles Dec. 13—Tom O'Rourke New York boxing promoter wants to stage a return bout between Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard, according to a statement made here last night by Gene Doyle, one of Willard's representatives. Doyle said that Ray Arce, Willard's manager, yesterday received a telegram from O'Rourke announcing he was mailing Willard a registered letter offering to stage a bout between him and Dempsey at the Polo Grounds in New York in May.
BASEBALL.
The Johnson-Landis Squabble. (New York Times)
Ban Johnson has lost considerable prestige and Judge Landis none at all as the outcome of the squabble which the two have indulged in at long range for the last two weeks. His stand condemned by the public and even by the most loyal of his own club owners, Johnson finally was compelled to switch the place of the annual American League meeting to New York, where it had been originally scheduled. A ringside romance with a two-fisted punch. It is a clean, gay, swift-moving comedy of a high-lowbrow pugilist who tries to square the social circle with the prize ring. Don't miss seeing this picture. A good two-reel comedy also. ADMISSION 50c and 1c.

WAR-STRIKEN MOTHER SENDS KAISER MESSAGE
Paris, Dec. 13—On the wedding day of William Hohenzollern, it is learned, an elderly woman appeared at the Central Telegraph office here and asked: "Can I send a message to Holland?" "Certainly, madam," she handed to the clerk this message:
"William Hohenzollern, Doorn Castle Amersfoort."
"A mother whose two sons you have caused to be killed wishes you on the occasion of your marriage all the happiness you deserve."
Gravely the employe counted the number of words and announced the sum. And the old lady paid and went away.
