Mr. Engine Buyer:
THE NEW IMPROVED KEROSENE
FERRO

Will deliver more power on less Kerosene than any other make of Engine on the Market.
WHY? Because the New Kerosene FERRO has only been marketed after the FERRO Factory had spent thousands of dollars experimenting on all types of Kerosene Engines. The result of these tests is embodied in the New FERRO.
There is no doubt about a FERRO. Careful Engine Buyers consider the FERRO first, because it always makes good.

The Ferro Rowboat Motor
The above illustration shows the FERRO ROWBOAT MOTOR, a Detachable Marine Motor possessing all the features that have made Ferro Engines the Standard Two-Cycle Engine of the World. Specially made for small rowboats. Can be attached to the stern of your boat and taken off again in a minute.

Constantinople
The question of the occupation of Constantinople by Russia has been the cause of war between Russia and Britain in years past. Turkey was permitted to hold Constantinople in order that the answer to that question need not have to be made permanently. But now the final answer must be given, and it is an answer that necessarily affects the whole world.
There is no doubt about Russia's desire for the permanent possession of that city. That desire is deeply rooted, the reasons for which are involved in the religious, national and commercial aspirations of Russia. There is no other city in the world of more strategic importance.
Russia can hardly consent that the city become British or French. Will Britain grant Russia's request? Can the answer allow the present allies to remain friends?
We remember how during the Balkan war two years ago the Balkan allies had Constantinople almost in their possession and quarrelled near the gates. The outcome of this whole war and the future peace of the world may depend upon the question as to whether Britain and Russia, these two powers especially, can agree that one or the other shall hold the city when the war is over. But it is possible and quite probable that even before the bombardment of the Dardanelles commenced, an understanding in connection with Constantinople was arranged and agreed to by the Allies.
Constantinople is the natural capital of the religion of Russia. The pressure of many centuries makes it that. During the first Christian centuries the church developed along two lines, the doctrinal among the Greeks who were philosophical, and the governmental among the Romans who were lawmakers. The church subsequently divided into the Eastern or Greek type and the Western or Roman type. Constantinople was the capital of the Eastern church for more than a thousand years. Then it fell into the hands of the Turks. Some of the inhabitants fled to north-western Europe, and they carried the Greek or Eastern type of Christianity with them. The discovery of printing was made about this time, and the revival of learning which followed made the modern world.
The Protestant Reformation followed, and it was practically a turning from the Roman type of Christianity to the Greek type. The emphasis was placed on true doctrine rather than on church law.
The close connection between Protestantism and the religion of Russia is shown by the endeavors that have been made to unite Calvinism with the eastern or Greek church, and also the endeavors to unite the Church of England with the Eastern Church. England, Scotland and Russia have much in common in religion, and it looks now as if Constantinople will again become the religious head of the Eastern church as it was before the Turk invaded Europe.
Britain can afford to let Russia have the fulfillment of her long desire to possess Constantinople and make it her great southern door. The present war is being fought to end the idea of one nation—Germany—dominating the commercial life of the whole world. The Mother Country does not want to destroy Germany's commercial or territorial ambition and then adopt the same ambition. Britain wants to live and let live. Russia's Philip Wheeler, Naval Reservist, of Torbay Road, is a lucky man. He was drafted on the Viker, which was lost with all hands, but falling ill he was sent ashore. Then he joined the Clan McNoughton, but was landed again suffering from pneumonia and typhoid fever shortly before the latter ship was lost.

A new railway station is now being erected at Briggs Junction. It will have a restaurant and sleeping accommodation attached, which will be a great convenience to the travelling public, particularly of this part of Conception Bay. A new station will also shortly be built at Norris' Arm to replace the one recently destroyed by fire.

Ferro Leads as a Kerosene Engine
Bonavista, Dec. 16, 1914.
Messrs. L. M. Trask & Co. St. John's.
Dear Sirs:—I have been using a 7 1/2 H. P. Ferro Engine this two summers, and has never been held up one minute.
She is very speedy and every Engine I have come across could not do anything with us, even a Fraser Engine of 12 H.P. could not keep in touch with us.
She will run twenty-five miles on 3 1/2 Gallons of Kerosene.
Yours truly,
BERTRAM ABBOTT.
C. E. Russell, Local Agent, Bay Roberts.

rewards for this war must be the possession of Constantinople. A friendly federation of nations is likely to follow this war, and this federation of nations will develop the resources of the world for the good of all mankind.

NEWS IN A LINE
We learn there is to be no close season for catching and packing lobsters this season.
Miss Winifred Bradbury went to St. John's on Wednesday evening and returned by Monday night's express.
Capt. Job Kann, S. A., of Tilt Cove, went out on the ice a few days ago at Tilt Cove and killed eight seal seals.

Mr. Cyril Mercer left for Halifax, N. S., by Thursday's express. He is employed as a compositor in the printing department of the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Co. at Halifax.

The Russian Government reports the garrison which surrendered at Przemyel to have consisted of nine generals, about 2,600 officers and 117,000 men. The garrison held out for six months. This will relieve from 150,000 to 200,000 men for service elsewhere in Hungary and possibly in Germany.

Every owner of a motor engine should have a Pocket Ammeter for testing dry cells. Very often trouble arises from weak batteries. Get an ammeter today. C. E. Russell, Guardian Office, Bay Roberts.

The Women's Patriotic Association met on Wednesday night. A number of shirts as well as socks were brought in and more wool distributed.

Final arrangements were made for the Sociable to be held on Easter Monday night. The knitting of socks is to be continued with unabated energy until the need for them is over.

It is reported that the freight rate on salt is going to be extremely high this coming season.

At Flat Bay, Bay of Islands, the smelt fishery has been good of late, and the fishermen who engaged in the industry received profitable returns.

The Western Star says: The fishermen of North Arm, Bay of Islands, are still doing well with herring, and there is a good demand, a number of packers being engaged putting up the fish after the Scotch method.

Practically all the banking fleet are again on the fishing grounds, and several are reported to be doing well. Weather conditions, however, have somewhat interfered with operations during the last week or so.

Memel, an important German town and seaport on the Baltic in north-eastern Prussia, has been captured by the Russians. They will be enabled to transfer their naval base from Libau to Memel. The capture of Memel also opens the way to Konigsburg.

HAVE GOOD HEALTH
Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the Old Reliable Spring Tonic.
Don't let the idea that you may feel better in a day or two prevent you from getting a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla today from any drug store and starting at once on the road to health and strength.
When your blood is impure and impoverished it lacks vitality, your digestion is poor, and all the functions of your body are impaired.
Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest known blood tonic. It will build you up quicker than any other medicine. It gives strength to do and power to endure. It is the old standard tried and true all-the-year-round blood purifier and enricher, tonic and appetizer. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else has the same formula or ingredients. Be sure to ask for Hood's, get it today, and begin taking it at once.
