ADVANCE, CHATHAM, NEW BRUNSWICK, MAY 7, 1885.

igland.

.sely loyal at heart, but the outlet for che expression of their yalty has never been opened in true channels. Their aspirations in this is in regard have been thwarted and traversed in all directions by untoward anot b by every circumstances and events, and have found voice in unnatural courses, and y one who for unworthy objects. Instead of being N, May 5. directed aright they have been diverted erday Lord and Russia in devious ways and have been destructive as a flood, when they might hs in Lonontier ques have been kindly as a river. The disarrang cussions of the causes which have led greed that the difficulty to these unfavorable consequences have Penjdeh affair shall be been thrashed out till they to a full investigation and are practically unprofitable except friendly powers. defines the for lessons in experience and should be arbitration. It is to be limi-usideration of explanations to the alleged violatiou of The terms of the ar-ate that the arbitrators' to find a formula of con-The te with the honor of both ress, generally, of Irelan '. We may sympathise with, ad, while the Russian and encourage what is honest, but we should hold our tongues in criticism VANCE OF WEDor debate about that of the intrinsic merits of which, we are generally pro-michi Adnance foundly ignorant, where we are not NIPEG, May 5th. Mahewan Landing biased. The tourier who ar attleford, brings stood in the way of Royalty itself, and has failed to fulfil the purpose which it reserve on was intended to accomplish eighty-five on under Col. 0 strong, at ht lasted till years ago. When legislative union was then effected-rightly or wrongly is of little importance now-it was unwise, d and 12 killed and simply as a sop or bribe to nation al feelings, apart from the Empire, to the enleave a relic of a distinction, which it was really intended to obliterate. Being :ours.

understor.

unwise the policy has deservedly failed ounted Bugler ivate chool and, in a measure, engendered disgust, as unrealities always do.

Those who look back on the act of union as a disaster, may be reminded med that the Irish legislature as constitutand

ed in 1799 would never have passed the hi Advance. · · · · MAY 7, 1885. of easy communication with places es' Visit to Ireland erred, a short time ago, e Prince of Wales to and traders. The people are Acadians. probable results that the majority of them having very little did not hope so soon knowledge of the outside world and we then threw out on although their present condition unessed from a source mistakesbly calls for all the assistance o its early fulfilment. which can be rendered to them, they, of address at Carrickthemselves, shrink from making their of last month, when wants known. Like many others, even England, the Prince in the towns, who suffer for the scantouching and sensible tiest necessaries of life, they strive to among other things, hide their destitution. This, at least, p Viceroyalty and, indicates a spirit of self-reliance which ction of a separate is to their credit. That they are maind. In their stead ly industrious, too, we believe, while ation of a Cabinet the soil of their settlement is as good State, similar to

for agricultural purposes as any in the ng established for country. People, under these circumrm with the Home stances, will naturally want to know what has brought about the existing hanges would be the condition of affairs. The answer is e of the Queen, or two-fold. The frost is said to have . the Royal family, and sults that would come f a closer relationship becople and their sovercign, the for which, we believe. exist beneath all the froth of J disloyalty. The Irish are inalmost exclusively are the best off. Inpartial or total neglect of farming are much or too little. among the most destitute. The second cause-and the true one-assigned for the distress is in connection with this bark-peeling business. The facts in our possession warrant the statement that many of those who have controlled large bark operations in Rogersville have cruelly imposed upon the poor settlers. They have required from them a larger quantity of bark to the cord than the law allows, have made contracts with them by which they were obliged to purchase, by their labor, left for Irishmen, themselves, in their the necessaries of life at more than douown country, where alone they can be ble their market value, and have cheated We, on this side of the them by making them believe they had Atlantic, ' vo. more or less, lost both to pay Government stumpage on bark the facul . and function for taking part cut from their own grants. To add to in them to our advantage or the benefit the hardship of the situation some five thousand cords of bark are stacked in the settlement, as the owners are not prepared to remove it to the Extract

Factories, and the people, who depended on the employment the removal and loading on the cars would afford them, are disappointed. We understand that Viceroyalty in Ireland has Rev. Mr. Richard is doing all in his power to help the people to obtain both food for their present needs and seed for spring sowing, and that Messrs. Gillespie, Burchill and Wheten, M. P. P's of the counties interested, with Solicitor General Ritchie personally visited the settlement on Saturday with Father Richard, for the surpose of doing all in their power to the same end . A local relief committee has been formed and there is, therefore, reason to hope that the distress will be materially lessened.

A Significant Letter.

United States Secretary Bayard sent a very honest and spirited fetter to the tailed in the future. The settlement Lo doubt, furnish a large amount of explosion. With his experience and is contiguous to the Intercolonial Rail- freight, while lumber will also do its knowledge of the relations of the two way and has, therefore, the advantage part. It is, however, most desirable races in Canada no care and attention to that the home-going cargoes should be the demands and feelings of the French both in and outside of the County, yet as varied as possible for, as we all in the North West could have been too it has been a kind of terra incognita to know, there is no proit in the deal great. Instead, he has been negligent nearly everybody save a few politicians carrying trade for such steamers as the and heedless to a degree inexcusable in a Clifton. This is an age of steam, as man new to Canadian affairs. He has our local mills, railways and steamboats sown the wind in the North-West, and attest, and if we would keep pace with now all Canada has to reap the whirlthe rest of the world we must take wind." advantage of the best appliances which

> Among the latest despatches from Ouimet's extraordinary movements. His Clark's Crossing is the following,-

Improving his Opportunity.

"News that Riel was entrenching him self at Batouche and preparing for a stubborn battle induced Gen. Middleton to the decision to advance. Several scouts whom he sent out report that the rebels are actively collecting provisions wherever any ean be found, and that large numbers were seen near Batouche resterday evening. Gen. Middleton's scouts do not appear to be able to get at the number of Dumont's force. The rebel scouts are wonderfully alert.

The fact that Riel would entrench himself and in every other way strengthkilled last season's oat and buck wheat | en his position might have been taken crops to a very large extent, but the for granted by the General, who, it was same thing happened elsewhere in both reported, hesitated to advance after the presence. The public affairs he settled Kent and this County, without bringing Fish Creek affair, because he was not in an heur's conference with the Minister such destitution upon the people. In adequately provided with supplies. It of Militia at Ottawa. He left Calgary fact, the settlers of Rogersville who did not appear that he was better off have stuck to the business of farming in the latter respect when he decided reporter of the Montreal Star, who saw to advance, and if he could then do so, deed many of these are in comparative- it would appear that he was previously ly good circumstances, while those who in no worse position. It is evident arrange for the defence of the railroad have engaged in bark-peeling to the that the telegrams tell us either too

The Russo-Afghan Trouble.

The news on the above subject seems to be somewhat more reassuring, although Russia has not receded an inch from her position. It is clear that she wilfully violated her arrangement in reference to the statu quo position of troops on the Afghan border and believes England unable to punish her therefor.

The Rebellon.

Our full telegraphic news from the Northwest shows that General Middleton is obliged to call a halt. It was believed that he would move at once on Batouche, but we are now told supplies are short and that the forces may have to retire nearer to their base of supplies. The General is evidently very calutions.

The Franchise Bill Debate. A telegram of Saturday to the St. John

Globe says, --The House has again exceeded all former records for long sitting in the history of Canadian Parliaments, having now been in continual session for upwards of in his life." forty hours. The debate continues on the franchise bill, and on the same subsection of the second clause which was taken up almost at the opening of the sitting, namely, that which enumerates the treaty Indians among the other classes of persons who are to enjoy the franchise. The oppesition, while favorable to giving a vote to self-supporting Indians, are obstructing this provision to extend it to those who have no property and are still wards of the Gove because they contend that such Indians cannot give an independent vote. Hibernian Society of Philacelphia, dedebate, therefore, has been confined to the subject of the Indian and his capacity to exercise the franchise intel with an occasional vacation of an hour o two devoted to the discussion some point of order. One thing this tight has brought out very prominently and that is the large amount of debating power possessed by the rank and file of the opposition and their thorough union on this question. Indeed this is the only opportunity the opposition have had in any important de bate of showing what they can do when left to themselves without the presence of interference of their leader, and they have certainly not shown to disadvantage Usually in debate it has been Blake's custom to lead off and to watch all subse quent stages discussing points closely. It is his fault that when he prepares a speech on any subject he goes into it so exhaustively and it is of such great length that there is little left for his followers to say on the subject. Good order is now prevailing without dif liculty, the government side having evidently been instructed to discontinue the unseemly noises which prevailed in the previous debates. Sir Hector Langevin, who has lead the house nearly all the time is a model of patience and courtesy, and while firm in the determination not to give in he seldom allows his temper to be come ruffled. Proposals were made several times across the floor for an adjournment on condition that a certain number of clauses would be allowed to pass undebated but the opposition stubbornly resused to consent to any but the clause under dis assion passing and that only after debate. It is known that nearly all the Govern ment supporters favored an adjournment on the terms proposed by the opposition but Sir John refused to accede. It is probable the debate will continue till midnight and the Government intend that i no arrangement has been made to restrict further debate, they will propose to introduce the cloture next week.

science and capital place at our disposal. Why Col. Ouimet left his Battalion. [Toronto Globe.]

Much interest has been taken in Col. sudden return from Calgary to Ottawa and Montreal must, it was generally felt, have had a cause in which the public were interested. No one imagined that the Colonel desired to shirk any duty however unpleasant or any danger however great, but the causes which would justify his leaving his regiment when an advance against an enemy was hourly expected must be very grave. To a reporter of La Presse, who interviewed him at Montreal, he said he could not then exerviewed him at plain why he had returned, further than to say that affairs of great importancepublic as well as private, demanded his with the approval of Gen. Strange. To him in Toronto, he was more communicative. When Gen. Strange began to and for moving part of the force to Edmonton said Col. Quimet:+

"He found himself hampered in many ways from insufficient equipments, and it became evident that it would be some time before he could start for Edmonton. time before he could start for Even if he managed everything else satis factorily, he was in need of scouts, in need of horses, of saddles, of provisions, of everything, and of course we that west and it took time to atte we were very I was not so sorry for the delay, for the reason that the time could be used to drill my men.

He wanted to give the men some shoot ing practice at Calgary, but they had only 100 rounds a man. It was the same with other things.

"We were being delayed, and I offered "We were being delayed, and I odered to do anything in my power to hurry up matters, and as it was out of the quession for us to make a forward move at the time, I finally started for Winnipeg, with General Strange's sanction, to try to help things along, and with the understanding that if I thought it advisable I should go on to Ottawa." on to Ottawa." Had the General ordered an advance

he said, they would have moved forward cheerfully "even knowing it to be suicidel "

What an insight this gives into the man ner in which the affairs of this campaign have been mismanaged ! The reporte informs us that :--

⁴¹ Col. Onimet, who looked harassed and fatigued, incidentally remarked that his experience of the past three weeks, particularly the journey across the north of Lake Superior, had used him up worse measures of reform and conciliation enacted in London. Dublin would have been slow to reform itself, and slower still to relinquish powers that withheld the privileges which the Imperial Parliament granted. Thus, a civil war in Ireland may have been averted by an event which has been too loosely examined, aside from the bitterns ness it engendered, and which has concealed the germ unwittingly planted for peace in the future.

The shadow of Royalty in Ireland is too close to the substance in Great Britain to be effective.and is associated, 10 matter how wise and worthy the earer may be, with the reverse of the eas the people have of a monarch and rt. He is looked upon by the mass the unthinking as a chief of the . Dublin Castle as a detective and the executive as the adon of star chamber and inustice. Its existence is a ninder of other times, not s, round which there is > red by imagination assion. It is in the still, and not yet cooled d into philosophic form. from our view, if it were rishmen, like the English , could sit down together eir country's epic and praise and brave achievements and the bad on both sides in the s of the past. The hero, would hero, the knave a knave and a fool. Antiquity would jusrong, party no crime and reuld be lamented as having en up to faction what was or-mankind. ook with confidence for better than the statute books can show hat the Prince of Wales has sugsted is carried into effect. He, evilently, has not made his trip to Ire land a perfunctory parade, but may have touched a national nerve that has been too long paralyzed or over-stimu, lated by the abuse of political narcotics. Similia similibus curantur, under royal administration, may at least be tried with safety. It cannot kill if it does B. not cure.

The Regersville Distress.

Late advices from Rogersville show that the statements we have already made concerning the distress and desitution prevailing there are fully susamed, and that a very large proporon of the settlers are not only in urnt need of food and clothing, but have to be provided with seedouts and potatoes-for the spring ing, if even a worse condition of s next season is to be averted.

clining their invitation to their St. Patfick's Day banquet. We have seen no notice of it in any of our American or Canadian exchanges, the reason being, perhaps, the significant fact that the letter was not read, among others, at the banquet. It is unfortunate that Irish Societies, generally, in the States find such letters disagreeable to them, while it is gratifying to all who wish to see the dignity of the Republic upheld and desire the preservation of the cordial relationships existing between that great nation and the mother country to know that a man in Secretary Bayard's high position possesses the good sense and courage which his letter exhibits-First of all, he pleads as his excuse for non-attendance the pressure of public business and goes on to describe his public duties. He says that "they speak for themselves and to none with more force than to Ameri-" can citizens of Irish blood or birth, who are honestly endeavoring to ce, and a text and peg to secure liberty by sustaining a governon, in which truth and 'ment of law, and who realize the led that no historian ' constant attention that is needful in -o unravel them. Irish the midst of anarchical demonstra-'nwritten page, hence "tions which we witness in other lands. ceneration to gen- and the echoes of which we can de ts traditions which ' tect even here in our own free country, where base and silly individuals seek to stain the name of Ireland by associating efforts for just government with senseless and wicked crimes" In other words, says the Secretary, "I ' am unable to dine with you, gentle men, because I am too much engaged 'in watching the operations of the scoundrels who are bringing disgrace on your cause and mine." He adds, of course with due courtesy, that there is I no class of citizens from whom aid in maintainitg law and order in the country can be more confidently expected than such as compose your respected " and benevolent society" and expresses the hope that "those who worthily celebrate the day of St. Patrick will "not forget that he drove out of Ire-"land the reptiles that creep and 'sting.'

The announcement of the North Atlantic Steamship Company which appears in another column is an encouraging feature of the business outlook for the opening season. The Company is composed of business .nen of Lon don, Miramichi, St. John and other places, whose enterprise deserves all the support our people can possibly afford. The pioneer steamer is a large and good one and we are glad to hear that her first outward cargo is largely made up of rails for the Northern and Western Railway. The establishment of this line presents an opportunity for the direct shipment to England of North Shore products, which have heretofore not had such facilities and, in view of the position of treaty matters with the urinformation respecting the cir- United States, it might be well stances of these people and the for our shippers to combine in an effort 's which have led to the existing to secure a new fresh fish market for of affairs among them makes it a themselves on the other side of the At-; to direct public attention to the lantic. The agents are, we know, dethat they have been systematically strous of making the line a permanent I by a class of speculators whose one, which will develop the business of miles further to the west. Sir John has ŧ .

Too Bad.

Referring to one of the public square meetings held by the half-breed sympath. isers in Montreal, and the resolutions mov ed from the same source in, the Queber Legislature, the Chronicle says,-

"Speech after speech was made, setting forth in fiery French the wrongs of the Metis, the justice of their rebellion and the tyranny and injustice of the govern ment. Cheers were given for Riel. The conduct of the colonel of the 65th [Ouimet] in refusing to lead his regiment to the front was applauded. One or two speak ers, who wildly deprecated this applauding of rebels in arms, were shouted down and roughly hustled from the platform. One young gentleman denounced the idea that the rebellion was not justifiable. Sir John, he said, had no right to take the French Canadians to fight their compatriots in the West; they should unite in saying that they would not go. He be lieved that this was a war of race, and this had been shown by the fact that an Ontario man agreed to offer a price for Riel's head. He could tell them, however, that if Riel's head was to suffer they would require others in recompense, and the crowd applauded him. Are these specimens of our loyal French Canadian fellow subjects? Confederation was the child of the race-conflict between the English and French races in old Canada. It would seem as though the ald couffict was to be renewed a couple of thousand ions among them ought to be cur- the country. Our lobster-packers will, been trifling with all the materials of an

The Franchise Bill.

Sir John Macdonald's Franchise Bil, is essentially a centralizing measure cal culated to curtail the power and weaken the influence of the Provinces. The constitution provides that the Provinces shall be duly represented in both Houses of Parliament. It should have left to the Provinces the power to determine who would elect their representatives. But some of those who took the largest part in framing the constitution were not Federalists, and hoping that a Legislative Union might be brought about, they introduced into the constitution much that they supposed would make it more easy to accomplish what they desired. strong was the feeling, even amongst the Tories, that the Provinces should regulate the franchise that Sir John, although he introduced a Franchise Bill in 1867-8 and many times since, could never venture to force it through the House of Commons until "party exigencies" became so strong as to overshadow all other considerations. This Bill will also take all control of the electoral lists out of the hands of the people.

The Half-Breed Claims

On 21st inst. Sir John laid before Parliament the first instalment of official documents in cannection with the halfbreed claims, the delay in adjusting which has precipitated the whole Northwest in to a state of rebellion.

It appears that during March the Gov ernment became alarmed at the outbreak in the Northwest and appointed the commission we have all heard of to investigate the half-breed claims. The adjustment of these claims was to be governed by the following order in Council :

First-To each half breed head of a family ent in the Northwest territories ontside of lot or pertion of land of which he is at the pre-sent time in bona fide and undisputed occupation sent time in boxs fide and undisputed occurpation by virtue of residence upon and cultivation there-of, to the extent of 160 acces, and if he occupies less the difference is to be made up to him by the issue of script redeemable in land at the rate of $1 per acre; and in the case of each half breed head of a family residing, in the Northwest terri-torities previous to July 15, 1570, who is not at present in bona fide possession or occupation of any land script shall be issued to the full amount of $160.

of $160. Second-Each cluid of a half-breed head of a family resident in the Northwest territories previ-ous to July 15, 1870, and born before that dtog-shall be allowed land to the extent of $40 acres and script to the full amount, or deficiency re-deemable in land,

On 5th April the Commissioners tele-graphed the Minister of the Interior that the half-breeds, with whom they had com-menced negotiatina, were not satisfied' to have the settlement of their grievances based upon the foregoing regulation, and on the 17th the government passed the following order in Conncil :-

following order in Connell : -First- That the small water frontage of each half-breed who is at present in bona fide possess-ion by virtue of residence and cultivation be sold to them at $$ per acre, the area of which shall in no case exceed forty acres, and payment therefor to be made within two years. Second—That in satisfaction for their half-breed claims as actual settlers upon those small water frontages which it is rounnaed to sail to them.

Scond-That in satisfaction for their half-breed claims as actual settlers upon these half-breed frontages, which it is proposed to sell to them, they be permitted to select their lands from the bomestead and pre-emption entry in nearly as possible in the vicinity of their holdings one quarter section of 160 acres, more holdings of the section of 160 acres, more holdings of the section of 160 acres of half-breed heads of families in the Northwest Territorities prior to July 15, 1870, and from prior to that faste, instead of the issue of $240, may be granted a certificate entitling them to select 240 acres of and from any lands open for homesteading and pre-emption only.

The fact that the government h The fact that the government had been fully warned of the critical condition of the Northwest repeatedly, as is shown in official correspondence and only after the first shot had been fired made any at-tempt to settle the difficulty, is a severe blow at the administration,

.