Some years ago J. F. Ferguson, of Adelaide street, swallowed a chicken bone, which refused to be coughed up, and had to be removed by an operation. Two weeks ago Mr. Ferguson underwent another operation for an abscess which had formed beneath the old wound. The operation, which was performed by Drs. McIntyre and Wm. Christie, Jr., was entirely successful, and Mr. Ferguson hopes to be around again before long.

N. B. MEN WITH TOM LAWSON.

H. V. McInerney returned from a short visit to Boston this morning. Mr. McInerney is an intimate friend of E. A. McSweeney, W. Lawson's confidential man, and while in Boston had an opportunity of visiting Lawson's offices, which are said to be the finest in America. Magnificent bronzes, numerous beautiful pieces of Tiffany glass, rare oil paintings, and the richest of mahogany furniture are some of the attractions in the down town apartments of the noted author of "Frenzied Finance."

Mr. Lawson himself is seldom to be found in there, however, having resigned full charge of these offices to the Montreal boy who has the good fortune to be his right hand man and to whom Mr. Lawson trusts his business. It is noteworthy that Mr. Lawson's head stenographer is also a New Brunswick boy, a Mr. Everett of St. John.

There is always a great deal to do in Mr. Lawson's office, but just now the staff is especially busy. On Wednesday Lawson starts on a Western tour, passing by the way, through Montreal. He has received some eight hundred invitations to speak in various places, but has accepted only six. Speaking is yet an experiment with him, he having never made a speech in his life.

RHODES SCHOLAR HOME FROM OXFORD.

Chester A. Martin, the U. N. B. Rhodes scholar, arrived home today in splendid health and full of energy after his winter's sojourn and study at Oxford. He came by the Calvin Austin from Boston, having reached New York a couple of days ago by the White Star line.

Accompanying Mr. Martin from Boston were Dr. F. H. Morse, Mrs. Morse, O. M. Maxwell and Miss Annie Baker of 5 Beacon street, who are today, the guests of H. C. Martin, German street. The party accompanied by the returned scholar will leave Thursday morning on a ten days' automobile trip through Nova Scotia.

DOUBLE WEDDING THIS EVENING.

This evening at eight o'clock, at Garnett Settlement, a double wedding will take place when Miss Pearl N. Garnett will be united in marriage to Walter W. Gray, and Miss Lillie A. Garnett will become Mrs. Sydney Jones. The marriage will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Garnett.

Both couples were the recipients of many beautiful presents. They will reside in St. John, Mr. and Mrs. Jones at 3 Winter street, and Mr. and Mrs. Gray at 43 Winter street.

MANY TOURISTS.

The I. C. R. depot was crowded this morning and both the trains for the East were crowded to their utmost capacity even the extra cars provided not proving sufficient to accommodate all with seats. The large number that arrived here on the S. S. Calvin Austin in addition to what the trains brought in caused the big crowd and rush this morning. The cars were so crowded that it was almost impossible to pass along the isles for where people were not standing the space was taken up with hand baggage of all kinds.

CALVIN AUSTIN IN FATAL COLLISION.

One Man Drowned, Another
Seriously Injured.

Ran Into and Sunk a Small Schooner Yacht
—Survivors Were Brought Here
Today.

The Calvin Austin arrived this morning with a large number of passengers on board, including 125 Oddfellows from the State of Massachusetts.

The schooner was not without its exciting incidents, for a small schooner, the Chromo, was run into in a fog and sunk, one of the crew of five being drowned and another receiving serious injuries.

Leaving Boston about 12.30 yesterday the Calvin Austin ran into a dense fog, and just before one o'clock, when off Deer Island light, and whilst going at half speed, Captain Pike's attention was aroused by hearing a whistle. Before anything could be done the Calvin Austin had struck the schooner Chromo, and had completely destroyed her in two.

Loud shouting was heard, and Captain Pike immediately stopped his vessel, and had a life boat lowered under the supervision of Capt. W. H. Allen. On reaching the scene of the wreck four men were found in the water and picked up, one of whom, Chas. A. Robbins, of 148 Broadway, Somerville, was being held up by a companion, having been seriously injured in the collision. By the time the doomed schooner had disappeared altogether, and after satisfying themselves that there were no shipwrecked sailors around, the rescue crew returned to the Calvin Austin. After being placed on board that steamer it was found that the man Robbins was suffering from a broken rib, and everything possible was done for him by Dr. F. A. Morse and Emily Stuart, of Boston. The others who were rescued were:

Geo. Black, 14 New street, E. Boston.

Harvey Carleton, 500 Main street, Charlestown.

E. S. Hall, Don street, West Somerville.

The rescued men stated that another man, Fred Toomey, of Saratoga street, E. Boston, was caught in the rigging of the Chromo at the time of the collision, and not being able to free himself, had gone down with the vessel. They stated in answer to Captain Pike, that they had no boat, compass or fog horn on board the Chromo, and the only thing they could do to attract the attention of the Calvin Austin was to whistle on their flings.

Councillor Hon. John W. Long, who is one of the prominent officials of the Oddfellows' excursion, and who was on board the Calvin Austin at the time of the collision, told the Star this morning that too much praise could not be given to the rescue crew for the promptness shown in rescuing the unfortunate men, and also to Captain Pike for the careful, splendid way he handled the Calvin Austin at the time of the accident, and for the kind consideration shown to the shipwrecked mariners after they were brought aboard his ship. He hailed the pilot boat America, but seeing the condition of the rescue crew, thought it advisable to let them remain on his boat until they had thoroughly recovered from their awful experience. Undered from this awful experience three of the men soon recovered, and this morning were none the worse for their ordeal. The other man, Robbins, was thoroughly examined by the doctors this morning, who came to the conclusion that it would not endanger him to be sent back to his home, so consequently Robbins and the other three men will be taken back to Boston tonight on the Calvin Austin. The Chromo was a small, 10 ton vessel built in Gloucester in 1878, and was 22 feet long 10.4 feet wide and 5 feet deep.

TOOK THE RIGHT COURSE.

That a person can walk into an institution in this city today and secure a guarantee of a good position is a fact worth knowing. Watson F. DeMille, of Sussex, graduated as a bookkeeper some time ago in one of the oldest business colleges—waited long for a position—could not secure one. Three months ago he presented himself at the Currie Business University, Ltd., took a one-week's trial at the bookkeeping course—pronounced it far superior to the one he had taken—purchased a position at $300 to $350 per year. Yesterday the situation department offered him a position in Kent County, which he accepted.

This position, which is worth $700 per year, is being vacated by a Currie Business University student, who has secured a better one, proving that the efforts of the situation department never relax until the student is earning an independent salary of $300 to $1,000.

Two young ladies were also sent from this school yesterday, one as bookkeeper, the other as stenographer, to take the place of students from other schools who were incompetent.

TEAMSTER'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Samuel Cook, a teamster, received a bad shaking up this morning and had a narrow escape from severe if not fatal injuries. He was driving along Mill street early in the forenoon when a street car bumped into the end of his sloop. Mr. Cook was knocked off his seat and fell heavily to the bottom of the sloop. He was picked up and carried into Cosman's blacksmith shop and after a short time was able to drive away. The matter will be reported to the police.

VISITING ODDFELLOWS.

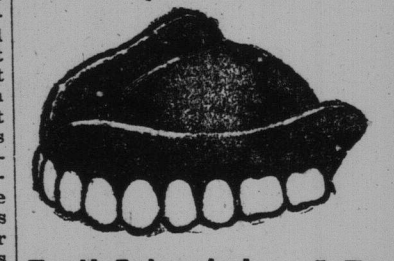

Large Band of Massachusetts Brothers Arrived on the Calvin Austin Today—Programme of Entertainment.

This morning a happy band of 125 Odd Fellows from various lodges in Massachusetts landed here by the Calvin Austin, for the purpose of seeing the beauties of the surrounding country and also to strengthen the friendly relations between American and Canadian brothers. Most of the members were accompanied by ladies, and as they walked up Prince William street looked supremely happy in the warm sunshine of a beautiful July morning. The arrangements for the excursion are in the hands of Councillor Hon. John W. Long and LeBaron R. Thompson, the travelling agent for the Eastern Steamship Company. The former, who is well known in Lancaster, was specially mentioned by those taking the trip this morning, for the kind treatment shown to the Cambridge Odd Fellows.

To day will be spent in seeing the points of interest in the locality, while for tomorrow a special trip by boat to Fredericton has been arranged. It is hoped that as many local Odd Fellows as possible will accompany their American brethren on this trip. They will leave Fredericton tomorrow evening at 8.30 by special train. Thursday will be spent in a series of local picnics, whilst Friday is the day on which a special session will be held for purpose of working degrees. On Saturday evening the Odd Fellows return to their homes by the Calvin Austin.

On landing this morning each member of the party was handed a handsome clasp and ribbon to be worn on the breast. On the ribbon is stamped in gold lettering: "O. O. F., St. John, N. B., July 4th, 1905. Greetings to our American brothers."
