

SEVERAL changes have been made in the Professorial staff for the next Academic year.

No appointment has yet been made to the office of President, as the Governors are of opinion that further time is required, in order to enable them to obtain the services of one possessing the necessary qualifications for the position. Until the definite appointment of a President, the Professor of Divinity has kindly consented to act as President, and a Lecturer in Classics has been temporarily appointed.

The Rev. Isaac Brock, M. A., has been appointed Professor of Divinity. Mr. Brock is a First Class Honor man of Oxford, has resided several years in this country, and was formerly Principal and Professor of Divinity, Huron College, London, Ont.

G. T. Kennedy, Esq., M. A., etc., has been re-appointed Professor of Chemistry, etc.

C. G. D. Roberts, Esq., M. A., has been appointed Professor of English Literature and French. Mr. Roberts is well known for his literary attainments, and the friends of King's College are to be congratulated on having secured his services.

W. A. Hammond, Esq., M. A., of Harvard and Princeton, graduate in Classical Honours, who has been temporarily appointed Lecturer in Classics and German, comes to King's College most highly recommended by such well-known men as Principal McCosh, of Princeton, etc.

Professor Butler retains his former position in the Chair of Mathematics.

A movement has been set on foot, having for its object the thorough restoration of the main College building. It is intended to have as much of the work as possible completed before the winter sets in.
