

CASUALTIES OF CANADIANS TOTAL TO DATE 42,009

Eleven N. B. Men In Casualty List

More of Province's Gallant Sons Lay Down Their Lives on Field of Honor in Defence of Liberty and Justice — Long List Testifies to Fierceness of Recent Fight.

SPECIAL TO THE STANDARD.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—The total casualties among the overseas forces up to Friday as reported to the militia department are 42,009. The details are as follows: Killed in action 8,650, died of wounds 2,505, died of sickness 447, presumed dead 827, wounded 30,428, missing 1,053. It is remarkable that so few in contrast with former wars have died of sickness.

Recent despatches from the Canadian Eye-Witness at the front with the Canadian forces vividly described the gallant role the men from the Dominion played in the great battle on the Somme, known as the "Tank fight." While the units taking part were not specifically mentioned it was believed that New Brunswick men were in the thick of the battle. The latest lists of casualties from the record offices at Ottawa confirm these surmises. Not in weeks has such a lengthy list been sent out by the militia department as that appearing below, a silent testimony to the fierceness of the fighting. The name of New Brunswick appears frequently and shows that the men from this province have again upheld their reputation and nobly performed their part in the Empire's gigantic struggle.

Last night's lists are as follows:

SENT EDITORS TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT

The commission resumed and Judge Galt handed to the deputy sheriff warrants committing Edward Beck, D. B. Deacon, Stanley Beck, and Knox Magee to jail. A. J. Andrews, K. C. was present and told the commissioner that he was instructed to say that Edward Beck was prepared to be sworn and testify if given an opportunity. He had desired to see the commission authorizing the inquiry so that he might know its scope.
"No," said the commissioner. "I've got through with Beck; he's sentenced, and to jail he must go."
Mr. Andrews said Mr. Beck had no intention of disobeying his subpoena, so far as the general purpose of the inquiry was concerned.
"It is time we let the people of this province understand that the administration of justice in this province must not be interfered with either by newspapers or individuals," said the commissioner. "And if they do they must be checked up."

The commission adjourned until three o'clock and shortly afterwards the four newspapermen were taken by the officers to jail. It is understood that application for their release on habeas corpus proceedings will be made, and that the legality of their commitment will be contested.
Just before the commission adjourned on the week-end at four o'clock Hugh Phillips, K. C. government counsel, brought to the attention of Commissioner Galt an interview with Hon. Robert Rogers, published in the Winnipeg Telegram this afternoon. In this Mr. Rogers was quoted as apologizing to the citizens of Manitoba for having made a recommendation that has resulted in placing upon the bench of this province a man who is apparently so incapable of grasping and appreciating the high responsibilities and dignities that properly attach themselves to the position of judges of the king's bench, and who appears to him to be a peculiar standard that permits him to harbor the honor and dignity of the king's courts for a monetary consideration.

The article was headed: "Apologies for Securing Galt's Appointment—Mr. Rogers' comment on Mr. Galt's action in taking commission fees."
"Is Mr. Rogers in town?" asked the commissioner, when Mr. Phillips had read the article.
"As directed by you," replied counsel, "I issued a subpoena yesterday, but I was unable to serve it."
"When did he get away?"
"I am instructed that he went about six o'clock last night."
"I would certainly deal," stated the judge, "in precisely the same way with Mr. Rogers, notwithstanding his high position as minister of public works, as I would with the humblest citizen."

The commission then adjourned until Tuesday.
Hon. Mr. Rogers' attack in the Telegram upon Judge Galt was in the nature of following up a statement the minister had made while a witness before the commission, the statement in which he had stated that he had no legal authority to act as commissioner, and that he accepted pay therefore he would be accepting graft.

Released Without Bail.

Winnipeg, Sept. 24.—Four hours after being jailed for contempt by Judge Galt at the Agricultural College in inquiry on Saturday, Edward Beck, manager of the Winnipeg Telegram; Benjamin R. Deacon, news editor of the same paper; Stanley Beck, a Telegram reporter, and Knox Magee, editor of the Winnipeg Saturday Post, were released by Mr. Justice Haggart of the court of appeal, on an application for a writ of habeas corpus.
They were not asked to furnish bail. The writ was made returnable on Saturday, when the crown will attend before Judge Haggart to argue the legality of Judge Galt's commitment.

HUNTING THE TURKS IN THE DESERT.
By W. T. Massey.
General Headquarters, Sept. 4.—During the pursuit of the Turks beyond Otrintina some of our infantry had to try marches with long periods of fighting. The Lancashire Territorials were over twenty miles from their camp when they halted. They had marched through a belt of the heaviest sand in the Sinai Peninsula under fierce heat. These trials were borne with the cheerfulness characteristic of British troops, and all were thoroughly delighted at having taken part in the crushing Turkish defeat.

General Lawrence's force has put out of action, in killed, wounded, and prisoners, considerably more than a third of the invaders' total force. Those who escaped had a very severe handling. When our troops began the pursuit of the Turks they had to move well away from the railway and all drinking water had to be carried to the men, for many of the wells on the line of advance, though yielding an abundant supply, are brackish and undrinkable for British troops.
The foresight of the supply branch overcame all difficulties. Instantly the forward movement began many thousands of transport camels, carrying water, food, ammunition, material for entrenching, and stretchers, started over the desert in all directions, and for three days and nights as far as the eye could reach there was a never-ending procession of this transport. With the railways and camels, modern and ancient methods of transport were admirably combined. No other animals than camels could carry loads in the Sinai Desert.
The Anzac mounted division are enthusiastic over the work of the Territorial Horse Artillery, batteries operating with them, and particularly praise the Scottish battery, which supported them magnificently at the hot-pest periods of the battle of Romani. The Turks were well prepared for the attack. The prisoners were plentifully fed, and they were fully equipped, though the heavy uniforms that some of them wore were more suited to the Caucasus front than to Sinai.
Instructions had been given to the troops with German thoroughness, even drivers used to camels all their lives being drilled in loading and care of the animals. Books in Arabic on the subject were distributed among them.

TONNAGE TO EUROPE NOT SO LIMITED

Hon. Messrs. Hazen and Cochrane and F. P. Gutelius Confer on Transportation Matters.

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—Hon. J. D. Hazen, Hon. Frank Cochrane and Mr. F. P. Gutelius had a conference here on Saturday to consider the question of co-ordinating the ocean tonnage and railway situations after the close of navigation. The object is to have both systems of transportation work in perfect harmony regarding the carriage of troops and munitions. The I. C. R. will be utilized to a large extent and it is anticipated that ocean tonnage to Europe will not be so limited as it has been.
