Olympic Boxing Trials For Ju

Winners of Canadian Championships Won't be Chosen to Represent Canada in Olympic Games — Chances for the Locals.

The secretary of the Mayflower Club, Halifax, received a reply to a telegram sent to Secretary Crowe, A. U., asking for information on boxing trial for the Olympic team.

"The Ottawa contests are Canadian championships only. Olympic final trials cannot well be held for about three months because boxers selected for Antwerp would not need to leave Canada until late July, to compete in Antwerp August 15. Preliminary and final trial dates will be announced as soon as possible."

Sgt. N. H. Crowe, Sec. A. U. This will be good news to the Maritime boxers who will now be able to be in better shape for the big trials and also compete in the Maritime championships at the Mayflower Club, Halifax, April 23 and 24, without leaving a chance to try for the trip to Belgium. It was at first supposed that the Canadian champions would be selected for the Olympic team, as the Mayflower club, who have been awarded the Maritime championship, decided to communicate with the Ottawa authorities.

Entries for the Maritime championships should be made without delay to the secretary of the Mayflower Club, Halifax. The winners of the tourney will, no doubt, be the Maritime men to compete in the Olympic trials at Ottawa.
