[Special Telegram to the Tribune.] The Commutation of Lepine's Sentence—The Ministerial and Judicial Responsibility on the Governor General!

OTTAWA, Jan. 21st.

An extra of the Canada Gazette, issued yesterday, contains the following letter from the Governor General's Secretary: "I am commanded by His Excellency the Governor General to inform you that His Excellency has had under his full and anxious consideration the evidence and other documents connected with the trial of Ambrósio Lepine, who has been capitally convicted, before a Court Assize held at Winnipeg, of the murder of Thomas Scott on the 4th day of March, 1870, at Fort Garry. Although His Excellency entirely agrees with the finding of the jury, and considers that the crime of which the prisoner, Lepine, has been convicted was nothing less than a cruel and unjustified murder, he is of the opinion that the subsequent circumstances, and, notably, the relations into which the provincial authority of Manitoba entered with the prisoner and his associates, are such as, in a great degree, to fetter the hands of justice. It further appears to His Excellency that the case has passed beyond the Province of Departmental administration, and that it will be best dealt with under the Royal instructions which authorize the Governor General in certain capital cases to dispense with the advice of his Ministers, and to exercise the prerogative of the Crown according to his independent judgment and on his own personal responsibility. I have, therefore, in command to inform you that it is His Excellency's pleasure that the capital sentence passed upon the prisoner, Lepine, be commuted to two years' imprisonment in gaol, from the date of the original sentence, and that the necessary instrument for giving effect to this commutation be forthwith prepared."

(Special to Daily News.) OTTAWA, Jan. 20.

The Dominion Board of Trade met again this morning, and proceeded to discuss the report of the Committee on the draft of the Reciprocity Treaty, which was taken up clause by clause. The amendments recommended by the Committee before the Treaty should be passed by Canadian Parliament, were adopted on a vote of 41 to 4.

Resolutions were adopted recommending that the law for the inspection of Fire and Life Companies doing business in Canada be more rigidly enforced; that there be an act for the more thorough inspection of fish.

Parsons, President of the Detroit Board of Trade, and member of the National Board of the United States, attended this afternoon session.

President Howland stood on high authority that a Committee of the United States Senate appointed to consider the proposed draft on reciprocity had reported in disapproval of the Treaty's completion.

"MAGNETIC CURE."

"MAGNETIC CURE."

Have you tried the "NEW MAGNETIC CURE."

The great Curative Agent for NERVOUS DISEASES and General Debility, whether the cause be, Indigestion, Headache, Lethargy, administered by Dr. Sweet at his Medical Parlours, Park Hotel, King Square, No. 10.

Apply at once. Delays are dangerous. Rooms crowded from morning until night.

THE DEAR SIR. Dr. SWEET—Dear Sir—I desire to offer you some substantial acknowledgment of my thankfulness for having so wonderfully removed a case of Nervous Deafness from me, which had affected me for upwards of eight years.

I applied to you while you were stopping at the Suez House. You told me you could cure me, and you have kept your word. I can now hear as well as ever. (Signed) DAVID BRADBURY. Houlton, Me., Jan. 19, 1874.

AND STILL ANOTHER. Dr. SWEET—Sir: I am happy to inform you that you have worked almost a miracle on me. I never expected to enjoy the blessing of health again. I was repeatedly told by many physicians that I might get a little better, but could never be cured. Well, sir, I may now be cured, but it is all thanks to you.

You at once told me the disease without asking so much as a single question. I commenced your new system and, strange as it may appear, in ten days I was cured. With many thanks I am your sincerely, SAMUEL STEPHEN. Mill street, St. John.

"TEN DAYS I WAS CURED." Dr. SWEET—Dear Sir—I desire to express my gratitude to you for the speedy recovery from a dangerous and almost incurable disease of the liver, which, for several years, had afflicted me, baffling the combined efforts of several eminent medical gentlemen, and filling me with something like despair.

You at once told me the disease without asking so much as a single question. I commenced your new system and, strange as it may appear, in ten days I was cured. With many thanks I am your sincerely, SAMUEL STEPHEN. Mill street, St. John.

DEFORMITY AND PAIN CURED. HOULTON, MAINE, Jan. 24, 1874. Dr. SWEET—Dear Sir—

For many years I suffered as no tongue can tell from a combination of complaints wholly unfitting me for my household duties, inasmuch as my hands were greatly distorted and useless, so much so that I could neither comb my hair, wash my face or even put a pin in my dress. My spine was distorted, forming quite an unsightly enlargement, my mind was sadly enfeebled, and with all I was most sorely afflicted with Shaking Palsy.

Well, Sir, your intelligent and kind treatment with the third Magnetic Cure, I can now use them as well as ever. My other troubles, however, have not yet been cured. (Signed) MRS. HANNAH MOORE.

Benefit of Miss Ebel and Mr. Warner. The entertainment in the Academy of Music this evening promises to be a very pleasing affair. Miss Ebel and Mr. Warner have been giving entertainments together for some time, and have been very successful. A wrong impression has gone abroad to the effect that the entertainments merely consist of platform readings—dry and tedious. Such is not the case, as the programme consists of a pleasant little act, interspersed with songs from Miss Ebel.

The Circuit Court. The direct examination of Miss Ladds was concluded shortly after noon yesterday afternoon. Then Mr. Duff commenced his cross-examination. It was one of the most pleasing episodes of the trial, and the jury seemed very much interested.

Mr. Duff's position, quite in the line of a seductive manner of cross-examination, in which he has no rival at the bar, was met by Miss Ladds in an open and frank manner. She apparently answered every question to the best of her ability, and there was a quiet smile playing round the corners of her mouth that showed how perfectly she understood the point of each question, though clothed in such language as to be almost unrecognizable. The examination was carried on in a conversational way, and much of it was lost except to the court, jury and counsel.

For the first hour there could not be two more perfectly agreed persons than Miss Ladds and Mr. Duff. But after that there was a sudden reserve on the part of the latter, and a look of deeper study on the face of the former. Miss Ladds, in her whole evidence did not vary in her particular, and she did not hesitate on more than one occasion to give Mr. Vernon credit for his courtesy to her.

Dr. Travis was the next witness. His testimony referred to the effect of the wound received by Mrs. Ladds. James Milligan, Esq., was on the stand the last of this forenoon. He was sent as a prosecutor, after the assault, and Miss Ladds gave up the bank book to him. The cross-examination was rendered rather amusing by the spicy speeches with which the witness interspersed his testimony. He boasted that he was a Scotchman, born where he had Free Schools, "just like we have here now." He said the Commercial Bank was a swindle from beginning to end, and that Mr. Vernon would say Amen to that. He justified Miss Ladds in having possession of the book, as the Bank Directors had given her access to all the books.

Mr. Kerr then wished to call a student of his—Mr. Williston—to prove that the testimony of Simpson in reference to the occurrence in his office was wrong. This he wished to do not to influence the case, but to set himself right before the court. His honor considered such testimony as having no bearing on the case, and excluded it. Mr. Kerr persisted, and the Judge characterized it as one of the greatest burlesques on justice he had ever heard. The last witness for the plaintiff, a young man named Brundage, was called, and had important testimony, and the case closed just before recess.
