COMPOUND SYRUP OF

HYPOPHOSPHITES

For the prevention and cure of

CONSUMPTION,

Diseases of the Chest,

DEFECTIVE NUTRITION,

General Debility,

AND ALL

Nervous Complaints.

The HYPOPHOSPHITES.

Being a REMEDY for Consumption, when once developed, are equally and ABSOLUTELY A PREVENTATIVE in cases of predisposition, from any cause; as easy to employ as tea, coffee, sugar or salt in the kitchen. So certain are its results that in FEW CASES among children or adults, where hereditary predisposition has existed, has the disease ever developed itself, when the Remedy has been faithfully used; while it exerts a manifest influence in quickening the growth of infants and young children; possessing, in these respects, A POWER IN THE ECONOMY UNEQUALLED BY ANY AGENT KNOWN TO MEDICAL SCIENCE.

By their use as an occasional aliment to the vital forces, the HYPOPHOSPHITES are a CERTAIN MEANS of maintaining the health and strength of the labouring classes, students, clergymen, fragile children, women during the periods of pregnancy and nursing, and of all persons of sedentary habits, or those who, either from excessive labour of body or brain, are called upon for a greater expenditure of NERVOUS OR VITAL FORCE than is or can be supplied through the normal channels of recuperation.

"I know," says Dr. CHURCHILL, "that the HYPOPHOSPHITES will prove not only as SURE A REMEDY IN CONSUMPTION as Quinine is in Intermittent Fever, but as EFFECTUAL A PRESERVATIVE as Vaccination in Small Pox."

EFFECTS of the TREATMENT

On the Nervous System.

One of the first effects is an INCREASE OF THE NERVOUS OR VITAL ENERGY, followed by a feeling of unusual comfort and strength. This is more marked and earlier manifested in proportion to the degree of weakness and nervous debility previously existing.

The nervousness, or irritability, is allayed; the patient experiences a pleasant calm, and the sleep becomes profound and refreshing.

On the Blood System.

The effect upon the Blood System is equally marked. The quantity and colour are rapidly increased; the countenance becomes fuller and fresher, the lips red and the eyes brighter; the superficial veins are swelled out, and according to the doses employed and the duration of the treatment, the patients show striking evidence of the PLETHORA or fulness of blood.

On the Nutritive System.

The appetite is increased often in an extraordinary manner; the patient gains flesh, and the features, especially after the first two or three weeks, show a marked improvement in appearance. The remedy acts beneficially in all cases of impaired nutrition.

In all cases the dose requires to be gradually increased, commencing at the smallest dose according to age, mixed in half a wineglassful or less of water, which may be sweetened if necessary.

GENTS.—Send me one dozen bottles "Victoria Syrup of Hypophosphites." I have been using your Syrup for the last two years in my practice, and prefer it to any other preparation, and believe it to be the best in all cases where the Hypophosphites are required.
