BEAVERS WIN SNAPPY GAME

Gilbert Reeves, Sharpe When Reds Threaten

Knotty Lee, Lotshaw and the rest of Tom Nelson's reserves from Brantford were entertained by the Kitchener Baseball Club at the ball grounds yesterday. Knotty Lee, Lotshaw and the rest of Tom Nelson's reserves are also ball players, you know and consequently made a serious attempt to show the lowly Beavers how the international pastime should be played.

In Brantford, this aggregation is known as the Red Sox but after gaining the first glimpse of their performance, local fans have come to the conclusion that a better and more appropriate name for the Brants would be Crabs—or to be more polite, Crawfishes. Because Knotty Lee, Lotshaw and rest of Tom Nelson's reserves do not play the game as you and I were taught, with bat, ball and glove. Their idea of baseball strategy is to get the umpire's goat.

Don't get the wrong idea that the Brantford crew is a peppery aggregation. Anything but that. As a ball team, they are a fine lot of niggers and ought to be nuzzled, with a cast-iron one around Mr. Lotshaw, the troublesome first baseman, late of Flint. This gent's conduct was the kind that it is calculated would draw banishment from the game, if not suspension from the League president, but Umpire Anderson was in a tolerant mood and would have given Patient Job a merry run for the money had that biblical personage been present.

Apart from this feature, yesterday's battle was a treat. The Beavers showed up like a nicely tuned organization and worked very smoothly. They batted in great style, covered areas of ground and took advantage of every slip that the Reds made. It was easily their smartest performance of the season and they looked like a million dollars.

It was Sharpe's turn on the mound and the little fellow pitched great ball for seven innings, holding the invaders on two singles during his period and permitted no one to advance farther than second base. In the eighth, however, the strain told and two runners crossed the plate as a result. John Murphy, first batter poled a single and scored on Brady's triple to deep centre. Lotshaw, to everyone's delight popped out but Reeves hit right sending ones. Two of these came successively in the third trap.

Scanton grabbed everything in sight and several of his pick-ups were ones. Two of these came successively in the third trap.

Bill's had a tendency to waste a lot of time trying to nip the runner at first. He finally succeeded by making Nicholson the goat, after passing him in the seventh inning.

Lee sent Walker in the pinch in the ninth to bat for Minardo and he singled to left scoring Witry. He reached third on John Murphy's single, but Gilbert stepped into the breach at this juncture and stemmed the advance.

By winning from London 4-3, Hamilton yesterday won its seventh straight victory, and fourteen of its last sixteen starts. The Tecumseh, however, gave the Tigers a little trouble, knocking Dolan out of the box and also scored all of their runs before Shagan commenced producing.

"There's only one good thing about that young puppy that came to see you last night," said the frangible father, "and that is he's healthy."

"I'm surprised to hear you admit that much," replied the dutiful daughter.

"I wouldn't, except for the fact that last night I heard you say, 'Oh George, how cold your nose is!'"

ON THE SIDE

Dick Wade is making a name for himself as a clean-up hitter. The big fellow's long triple yesterday was the turning point in the game and as usual, came at an opportune moment.

Westlake's long running catch in the ninth was the feature play of the game. There were two men on at the time and the score would probably have been tied had the ball landed safely.

When Sharpe gave two passes in the seventh, everyone anticipated the customary ascension. Sharp fielding, however, delayed the ascent until the following inning.

Knotty Lee sent in Walker to bat for Minardo in the ninth and he promptly laced out a single which scored Witry who was on second at the time.

Scanton grabbed everything in sight and several of his pick-ups were ones. Two of these came successively in the third trap.

SITUATION AT PEG AS IT STOOD TODAY CARS MAY RUN

STRIKERS DETERMINED TO CONTINUE.

WINNIPEG, June 17.—(By W. Plevman)—Streets are to be run today, with the aid of volunteers, unless plans miscarry. It is figured that this with arrests, will cause a stampede back to work. Overpowering police and military protection is available.

Those who are trying to hold the strikers firm, have reached a first-class crisis. To-morrow the strike will enter on its sixth week and many families are unable to buy supplies. Wholesalers are beginning to shut down on credit to retailers and retailers in turn cannot extend credit to the families of strikers, who thus are beginning to feel the pinch. Hundreds of Victory Bonds are being sold to help out the family purse. Strikers are helping one another in a true brotherly spirit.

A visit to a meeting called under the auspices of the striking veterans in Victoria Park did not suggest that the bottom was dropping out of the strike. This park is down town. No cars are running and the weather was very threatening, after periodic downfalls, yet more than five thousand persons were present and gave tremendous cheers for the striking veterans' leader, R. E. Bray, and some more for those who were arrested, with him. "Let them hear you, not only in the city hall and industrial bureau, but over on Kennedy street," where the legislative buildings are, said Chairman Parnell.

"In Stony Mountain" shouted a veteran by way of improvement. The meeting passed a resolution declaring the arrest of Bray, a returned soldier, and that the placing of him in the penitentiary, was undemocratic and unconstitutional. One striking veteran, a member of the strike committee of fifteen and a native of Ireland, said he often had been under martial law and he would rather have a man with fixed bayonets on every corner than special police in multi on streets; a statement which was loudly applauded. He agreed with Comrade Parnell that strikers should stay out for five years or twenty-five years rather than give in. "Our opponents intended to run the cops in the morning (one or two voices). 'They won't' and the Telegram said a band of the police would be used. Don't worry boys," said the speaker, "keep going as you have been, keep cool. They can't find in Winnipeg enough men to run all the cars."

Comrade Parnell said he had heard more arrests would be made, possibly close upon fifty and said if he was taken he would have a clear conscience. "In time to come the men now being taken would be regarded as martyrs. Wouldn't I look sweet as a martyr?" asked Parnell, who is a peaked-face, fair-haired chap. Comrade Grant submitted a resolution protesting against the arrest of Comrade Bray.

Hell & truck load of literature was taken from the Labor Temple. Some soviet literature is reported to have been found. Literature printed in Ukrainian and Polish was found in the Ukrainian Temple Hall. Police say that on the second floor of the Labor Temple, where R. B. Russell and his Clerk and the Garment Workers' Union had quarters, copies of the "Red Flag" a Vancouver production, were found.

Questioned as to the probable effect of the arrests, the strikers invariably expressed the same opinion that government action would "stir up" the labor element throughout the country. The general strike will be continued by the rank and file of labor," declared Ernest Robinson, secretary of Trades and Labor Council, addressing a large crowd of strikers in Victoria Park. "The arrest of dozens of leaders would not stop the strike" he declared. He was cheered loudly. J. Dixon, M.L.A., also addressed the gathering and was applauded. Robinson and Dixon put the query: "Are we downhearted?" The answer was a loudly massed: "No."
