

between the present moment and that of 1914. It was necessary, the Taberi thought, to consider not only the moments but also the forces which come into action at definite moments. History today records a power which had not existed in 1914, namely the Fascist imperialism with all its ideal and material elements, with its conservative and its irrevocable intentions. As far as the latest attempt of Britain against Italy is concerned there is one good angle to the question. The German-Italian trade by rail will be further developed. Steps in this direction have already been undertaken. Two years ago, the Italian newspaper Taberi points out, over the eastern and northern passes 8,600,000 pounds were imported. By our systematic transportation measures personnel could easily be doubled or tripled, concludes the Italian newspaper.

Six Italian steamers laden with coal left Rotterdam this morning according to a report from that city.

Pope Pius XII received President Roosevelt's personal representative to the Vatican today.

According to reports reaching Stockholm, Finnish troops have abandoned their second defence line on the Karelian Isthmus. This Defence line which started at the Viipuri Bay, seven and a half miles to the south of the town of Viipuri extended as far as the western branch of the river Uaxi in the region of Lake ~~Uaxi~~. The Finns, after having abandoned a sandy and fairly flat country-side have now withdrawn to the third defence line which is presumably stretching from the region of Viipuri to the ----- mountains. The new Finnish position has on the right flank the town Viipuri and on the left one the river and series of lakes of Uaxi.

Ghandi called a speech to the Indian Congress in progress a fight until India's just as free a land as England is. Latest words have caused considerable disturbance in England, writes the Italian newspaper Taberi. 130,000 textile workers went on strike today in Bombay, India. According to a report from Amsterdam 60 of the 69 textile factories of Bombay
