

Q. Was that the time?

A. I came back the 11th of September.

Q. Did you stay at your brother's place all the time you were absent this time?

A. No.

Q. Where did you go?

A. I went in the country to make my payments.

Q. Where in the country?

A. Everywhere.

Q. Where are some of the places?

A. One of my uncle's, Buckingham, Torso, Carrette.

Q. You didn't stay any of the time at your wife's place in Hull, did you?

A. Not at all.

Q. And the reason for that was that you thought the Provosts would pick up <sup>you</sup> there?

A. Yes.

Q. And during the time you worked you worked in civilian clothes; is that correct?

A. No; I was in uniform.

Q. All the time?

A. I had khaki trousers and a khaki sweater the time I was working.

Q. How many times did the Provosts call around to your wife's place?

A. Twice.

Q. And you were away both times?

A. Yes; I was absent.

Q. And you surrendered yourself after the war was over; is that correct?

A. It wasn't for that reason, it was because I couldn't make my payments.
